THE UNIVERSITY OF IOWA

ONE OF THE NATIONS VERY BEST

Iowa City, Iowa. It is the home for one of the nation's leading public universities, the University of Iowa.

It's also the home of one of the nation's most successful college basketball programs, the Iowa Hawkeyes.

Friends and fans of the University of Iowa basketball program support Hawkeye basketball because Iowa can boast of some of the most exciting, most successful, and most recognized teams in college basketball.

HERE IS A SAMPLING OF IOWA'S MOST RECENT SUCCESS:

Iowa basketball posted seven straight winning seasons between 2000-07, including 25 victories in 2006, second most in school history. Along with winning the 2006 Big Ten Conference Tournament, Iowa placed second during the regular season, just one game from first place.

The Hawkeyes won all 17 home games in 2006, posting the first-ever perfect record in Carver-Hawkeye Arena. Iowa has posted a 63-23 record in Carver-Hawkeye Arena over the past five seasons.

Iowa has averaged over 17 victories per season the past six years, advancing to the NCAA Tournament in both 2005 and 2006.

Iowa has appeared in the NCAA Tournament 19 times over the past 32 years. The Hawkeyes have made three appearances in the NCAA Final Four and have advanced to the Sweet 16 three times since 1987.

The six winningest seasons in Iowa basketball history, 30 wins in 1987, 25 wins in 2006, 24 wins in 1988 and 23 wins in 1989, 1993, 1996 and 2001, are an indication of the past successes of Iowa basketball. With 20 or more wins in eight of the past 15 seasons, Hawkeye fans are confident of bigger and better things to come.

Leading the Hawkeye program is Coach Fran McCaffery, who guided his three former teams to championships and five NCAA Tournaments. He was tabbed the 2009 MAAC Coach of the year and 2010 NABC District I Coach of the Year. In 14 seasons as a college head coach, Fran McCaffery's teams have averaged 18 wins per year. While at Siena, the Saints averaged over 22 victories during his five-year tenure.

IOWA BASKETBALL: GREAT SUCCESS AND GREAT TRADITION

During the 2001-02 season, the University of Iowa celebrated 100 Years of Basketball. Iowa's basketball history includes 73 winning seasons, including 23 years in which the Hawkeyes have won 20 or more games.

ESPN released its 2009 college basketball encyclopedia and inside it included its ESPN/Sagarin all-time rankings. The University of Iowa's success on the court garnered the program a ranking on No. 10 in the country!

Iowa basketball teams have advanced to the NCAA Tournament 22 times, advancing to the NCAA Final Four in 1955, 1956 and 1980. In fact, Iowa is one of just 40 Division I programs to advance to the NCAA Tournament on more than 20 occasions. In addition, Iowa has made five appearances in the NIT postseason tournament.

The start of the Iowa basketball program can be traced back to January 18, 1896. On that date, Iowa City was the site of the first college basketball game played with five players on a side. The historic event took place in Close Hall on the University of Iowa campus. In that first game, the University of Chicago defeated Iowa 15-12, with neither team using any substitutes.

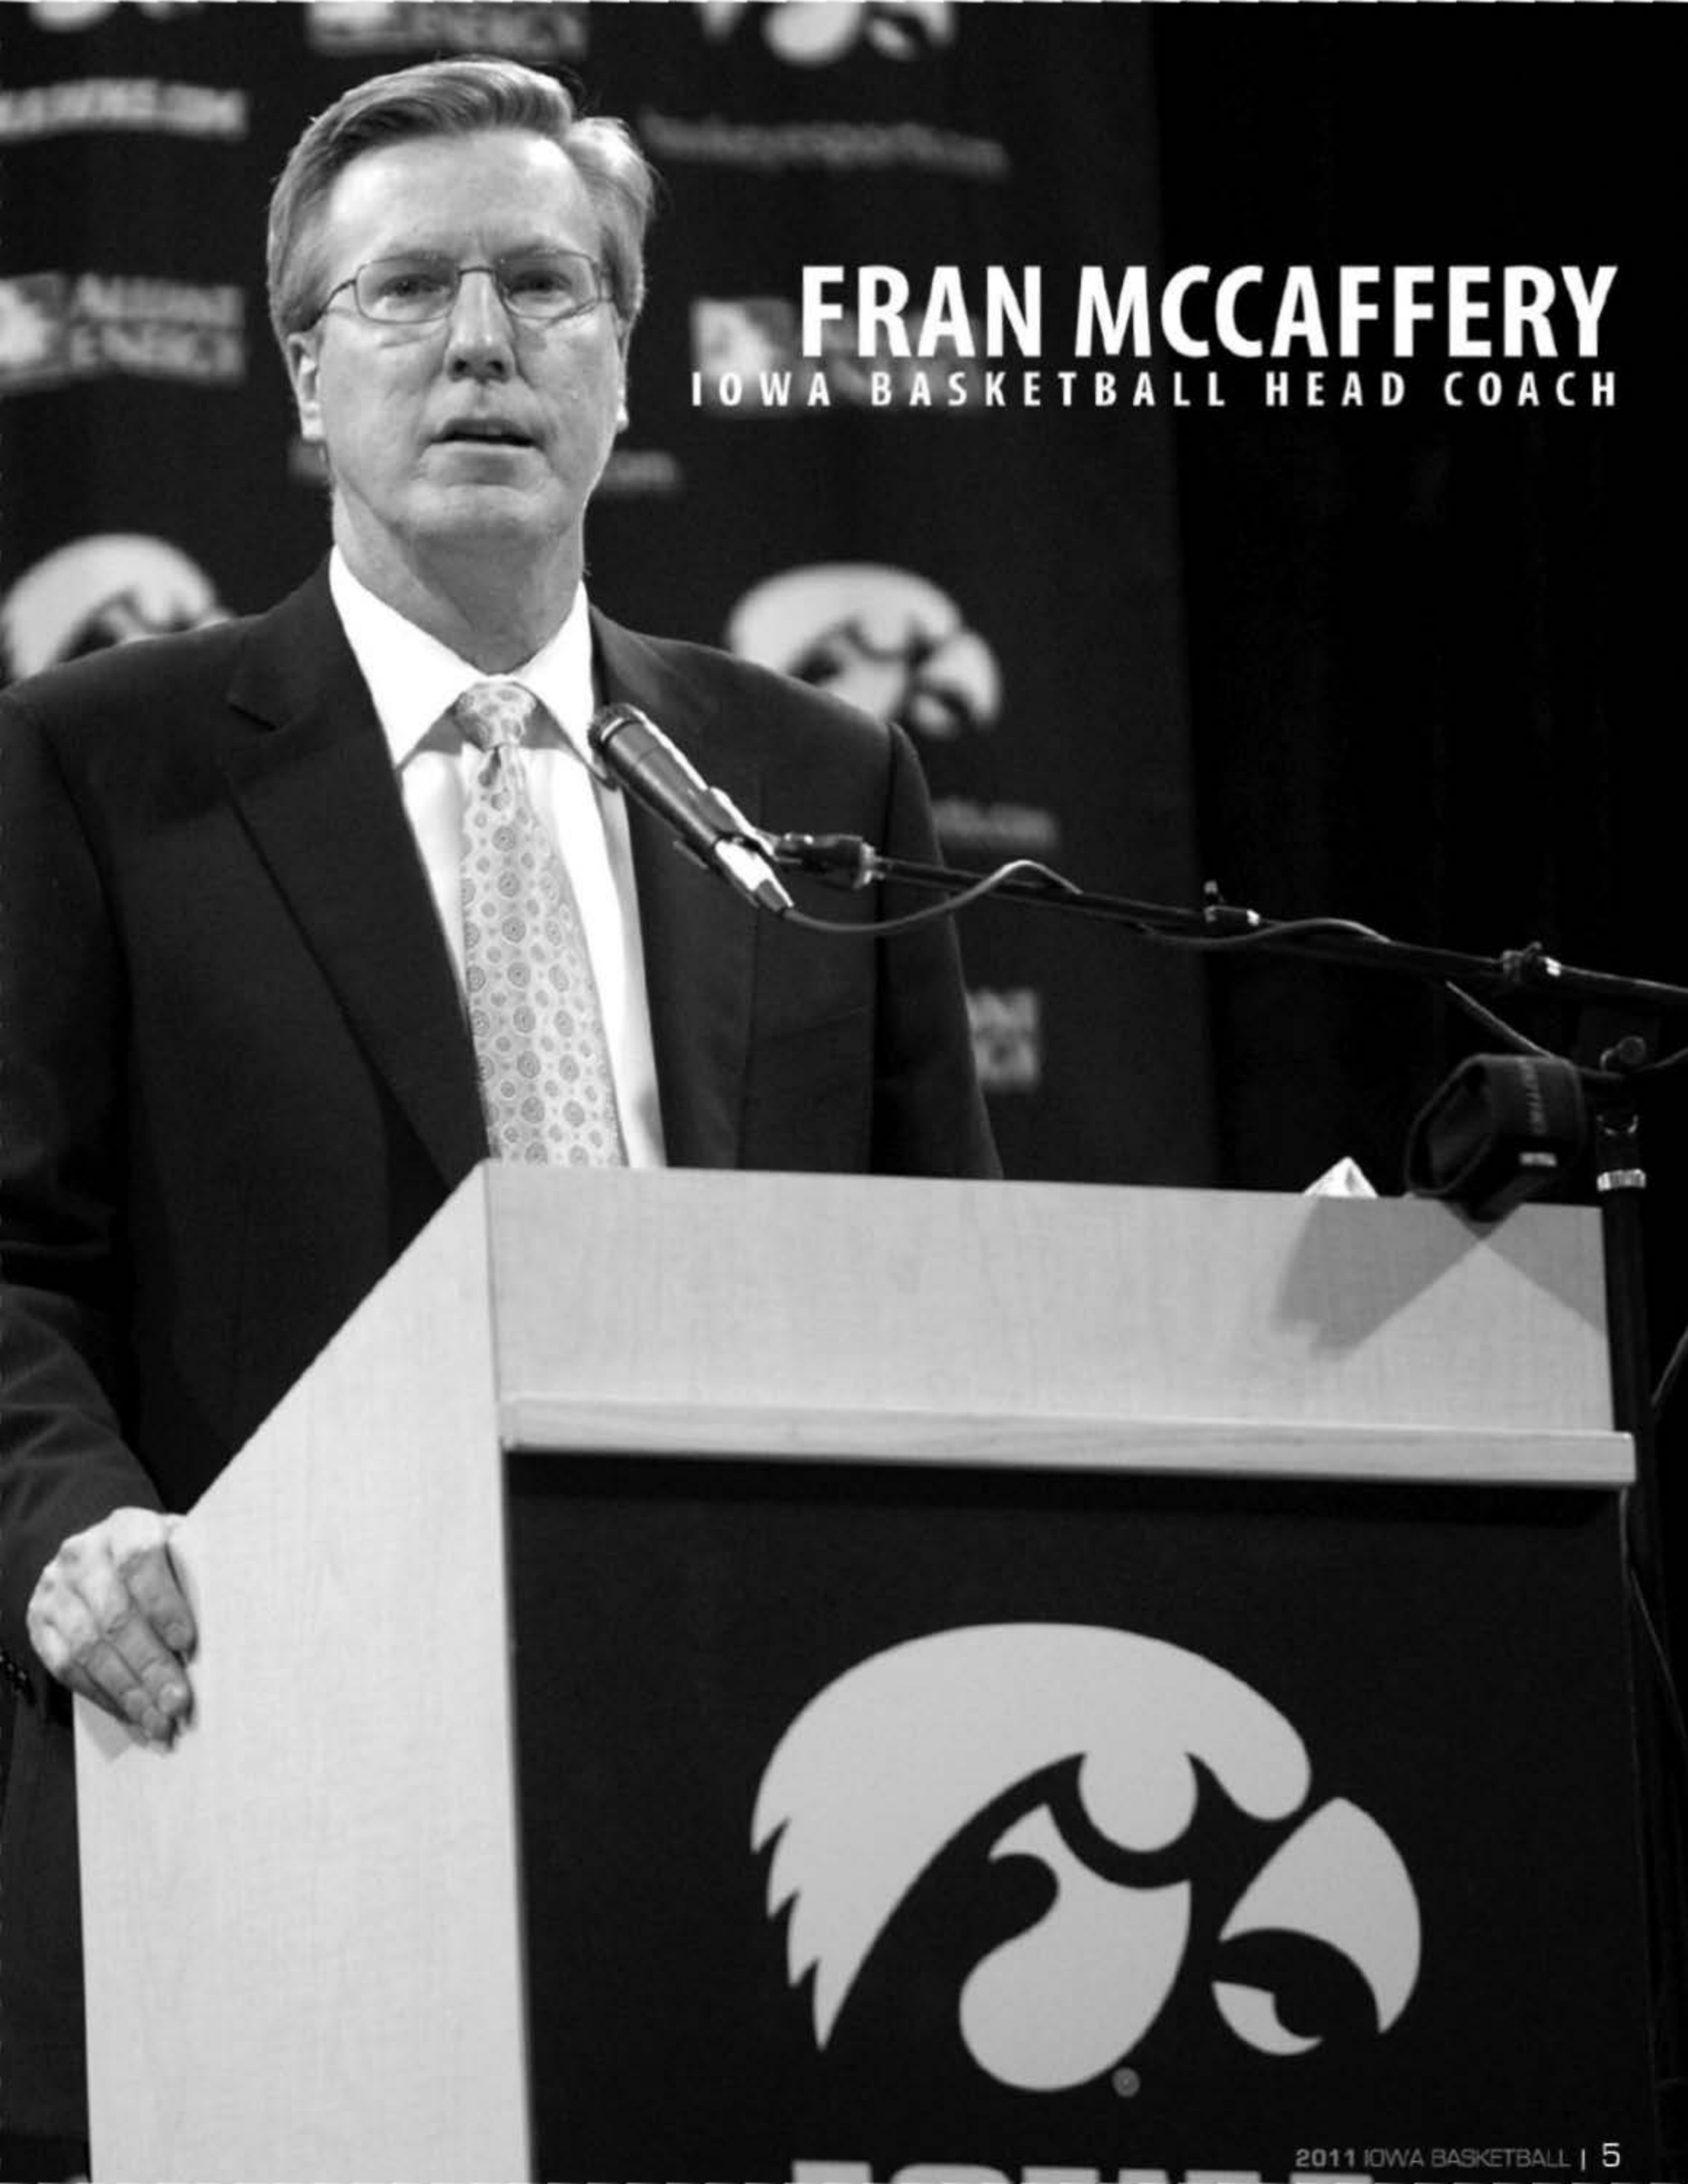

From that first game in 1896, the Iowa basketball program has been recognized as one of the best in the nation. Street & Smith's magazine recently selected its "100 Greatest College Basketball Programs of All Time". In its special publication, the magazine recognized the Iowa program as No. 40 among over 300 Division I programs.

SALLY MASON

PRESIDENT, THE UNIVERSITY OF IOWA

THE UNIVERSITY OF IOWA

Sally Mason became the 20th President of The University of Iowa on August 1, 2007. She holds a full professorship with tenure in the Department of Biology in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences.

In her first two years at the UI, President Mason has begun a sustainable university initiative, which makes sustainability a central priority of all aspects of the University enterprise—its operations, its academic mission, and its greater responsibilities to society. An unexpected priority for President Mason was the historic flooding of the UI campus and the greater community in 2008, and her leadership helped bring the campus community together to preserve as much of the University's resources as possible and rebuild essential facilities in time to open the campus for a full complement of fall semester courses. Currently, she is overseeing campus rebuilding, especially the renewal of an arts campus for the 21st century.

The daughter of an immigrant family and the first child to attend college, President Mason received her B.A. in zoology from The University of Kentucky in 1972, her M.S. from Purdue University in 1974, and her Ph.D. in cellular, molecular, and developmental biology from The University of Arizona in 1978. She subsequently spent two years at Indiana University in Bloomington doing postdoctoral research before joining The University of Kansas in 1981. A strong advocate of undergraduate education, she received awards for outstanding undergraduate advising and teaching, and she was awarded a prestigious Kemper Teaching Fellowship. During her 21 years at Kansas, President Mason served as a full professor in the Department of Molecular Biosciences, Acting Chair of the Department of Physiology and Cell Biology, and Associate Dean in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences. In 1995, she was appointed Dean of the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, the largest academic unit on the University of Kansas campus. President Mason served as Provost of Purdue University from 2001–2007, where she was responsible for planning, managing, and reviewing all academic programs at Purdue's West Lafayette campus and four affiliated branch campuses throughout Indiana.

President Mason is the author of many scientific papers and has obtained a number of research grants from the National Science Foundation, the National Institutes of Health, the Wesley Research Foundation, and the Lilly Endowment. Her research interests have focused on the developmental biology, genetics, and biochemistry of pigment cells and pigments in the skin of vertebrates. She has served as President of both the PanAmerican Society for Pigment Cell Research and the Council of Colleges of Arts and Sciences, and she has served as Chair of the Advisory Committee to the National Science Foundation Directorate for Education and Human Resources (EHR) and the Executive Committee of the National Association of State Universities and Land-Grant Colleges (NASULGC), now the Association of Public and Land-grant Universities (APLU), Chief Academic Officers Group. She also served on the Executive Committee of the Committee on Institutional Cooperation (CIC) from 2003–2007 and was appointed by the President of the United States to the National Medal of Science Selection Committee for two terms from 2006–2011. In 2008–2009, President Mason co-chaired the Task Force on National Energy Policy and Midwestern Competitiveness of the Chicago Council on Global Affairs. Its report, Embracing the Future: The Midwest and a New National Energy Policy, was published in June 2009 and had an immediate impact on the national debate over how climate change legislation will impact Midwestern economic competitiveness.

President Mason is married to Ken Mason, an educator and textbook author who teaches biological sciences at The University of Iowa.

"Welcome to a new season of Iowa Hawkeye basketball! My husband Ken and I are enthusiastic fans, and we can't wait to cheer the Iowa Black and Gold on to victory in 2010-11."

We are thrilled that our basketball program is under the leadership and guidance of Fran McCaffery and his experienced staff. Coach McCaffery has more than three decades of successful collegiate coaching experience that includes a championship pedigree, and we are excited to watch him lead our superb young student-athletes. He already has built a solid foundation at Iowa and we are eager for him, and his staff, to guide the Hawkeyes back to championship contention and postseason prominence."

In academics, in athletics, and in community service, our men's basketball team represents the very best in intercollegiate athletics. We are proud of how our student-athletes' dedication and hard work in the classroom and on the court exemplify the UI spirit. Coach McCaffery likewise has an impeccable reputation for leading his team to excel in all ways, and I am confident that he will continue that commitment with the Hawkeyes."

The enthusiasm for great ambitions and new possibilities is all around us on campus. We remain one of the top men's basketball programs nationwide in attendance, and I expect that our loyal and passionate fans will be rewarded this year with a great season of basketball excitement."

As Iowa men's basketball strives for new levels of success, I will be there to support our fine student-athletes and coaches. I am proud to be a Hawkeye, and I hope you will join me for what promises to be an exciting season at Carver-Hawkeye Arena."

SALLY MASON
PRESIDENT
THE UNIVERSITY OF IOWA

GARY BARTA

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

"Hope is not a strategy," is a common refrain of the University of Iowa's Gary Barta. So, as Barta enters his fifth year as the UI's director of intercollegiate athletics – and his 24th year in athletics administration – he does so diligently working a plan that contributed to historic success for the Iowa Hawkeyes in 2009-10 and is setting the stage for more of the same in the years ahead.

Competitively, two events stand alone at the top of the list of achievements by UI teams in 2009-10: Iowa's dominating victory over Georgia Tech in the 2010 FedEx Orange Bowl and yet another national championship for the UI wrestling program.

The victory over the Yellow Jackets in Land Shark Stadium in Miami was Iowa's 11th of the college football season and its first in a Bowl Championship Series event since the Hawkeyes' victory over California in the 1959 Rose Bowl. It was the final chapter in a season that opened with a school-record nine straight victories by Kirk Ferentz's squad, a streak that electrified fans of the Hawkeyes and triggered another pilgrimage of fans of the team to their second BCS appearance under Ferentz.

Tom Brands' Iowa wrestling squad crowned three national champions and eight Hawkeyes earned all-America honors while leading the UI to its 23rd NCAA title in school history. The championship was the third straight under Brands and it came rather handily – Iowa finished 44.5 points ahead of its nearest competitor – and, as more often than not – after yet another Big Ten Conference championship.

As inspiring as the achievements of Iowa's football and wrestling teams were, they weren't alone. Iowa's women's basketball team overcame a series of injuries to secure 20 victories, reach the championship game of the post-season Big Ten Tournament, and advance to NCAA Tournament play for the third straight year.

The Iowa men's golf team used a second place finish at the 2010 Big Ten Conference Championship to secure an at-large invitation to NCAA Regional play where it finished tied for sixth and just one stroke shy of its second straight appearance in the national championship.

First-year coach Katie Dougherty guided the UI's women's tennis team to its first NCAA post-season action since 2006. The squad was powered by the nationally-ranked doubles team of Merel Beelen and Sonja Molnar.

The Iowa baseball team won seven of its last eight regular season league games to advance to the Big Ten Tournament when the Hawkeyes marched to the championship game for the first time since the 1983 season.

The Iowa men's track and field team advanced 32 athletes to NCAA post-season competition after a fourth-place finish by the men's squad at the Big Ten Championships. That finish was the Hawkeyes' best since 2006 and was sparked by three individual champions.

Barta and the UI Athletics Department also enjoyed historic success out of competition including, most notably, significant improvements to the facilities used by the more than 700 student-athletes who represent the UI in intercollegiate athletics competition.

In September 2009, the University of Iowa and the UI Athletics Department dedicated the $7 million P. Sue Beckwith, M.D. Boathouse, a 20,000-square-foot facility built right on the bank of the Iowa River off of Dubuque Street in Terrill Mill Park.

In November 2009, the UI broke ground on a multi-million dollar addition and renovation of Carver-Hawkeye Arena, the 28-year-old competitive home of the Hawkeye men's and women's basketball, wrestling and volleyball programs. The Carver-Hawkeye Arena Revitalization Project will greatly improve the practice, strength training, and conditioning facilities for a myriad of sports programs in addition to providing new office space for the vast majority of Iowa's administrative and coaching staffs in addition to new locker room and support facilities for Iowa's men's and women's basketball, wrestling and volleyball teams.

In the fall of 2010, Barta joined the campus community in celebrating the opening of the $69 million Campus Wellness and Recreation Center. The facility will provide unparalleled recreational opportunity for UI students, faculty and staff, and the greater Iowa City community in addition to being the new full-time home of the UI's men's and women's swimming and diving programs.

The UI also expects to break ground on an addition to the facilities used by the Iowa football program during the 2010-11 year. Funded entirely through private support, the project is an important next phase of the master facilities plan for Hawkeye football. The project will include the construction of a new indoor practice facility, upgraded and improved locker rooms, team rooms, strength and conditioning facilities, and spaces used for the day-to-day operation of the UI's football program. The construction of the Ron and Margaret Kenyon Outdoor Practice Facility – a facility envied by many collegiate programs and NFL franchises – and the $89 million renovation of historic Kinnick Stadium were phases 1 and 2 of the master plan.

While Iowa continues to move the facilities it makes available to student-athletes forward, the UI's commitment to the academic piece of the student-athlete experience remains paramount – and successful.

According to information released annually by the NCAA, the graduation rate for student-athletes who enrolled at the University of Iowa in the fall of the 2002-03 academic year was 70 percent, six percentage points better than the national average and two points better than a year ago. The graduation rate for UI student-athletes was also four percentage points better than the rate for all UI students.

The football program at the UI – with a Graduation Success Rate of 74 – ranked second only to Cincinnati among the ten teams invited to participate in the five 2010 Bowl Championship Series events. Iowa also ranked third among the seven bowl-bound Big Ten Conference teams.

The UI's field hockey, softball and men's cross country teams were among the NCAA Division I intercollegiate athletics programs singled out by the NCAA for Academic Progress Reports (APR) in the top 10 percent of all teams in their specific sport. In fact, for the second straight year all 24 of Iowa's teams exceeded the NCAA's APR benchmark and compared favorably to their peers in the Big Ten and nationally.

Barta's involvement in the UI campus community extends well beyond intercollegiate athletics. He is a member of the cabinet comprised of vice presidents and other campus leaders that provides counsel to UI President Sally Mason.

Barta also represents the UI and the Hawkeyes at the conference and national level as well. During his first four years at the UI, he has participated in the creation and implementation of the Big Ten Network, the expansion of the Big Ten Conference and realignment of athletics conferences nationally, and the Big Ten's post-season bowl game agreements that go into effect this college football season.

Nationally, Barta remains active in the Division IA Athletics Directors Association, the National Association of College Directors of Athletics, and currently serves on the NCAA Football Committee Board of Directors.

Barta has another favorite saying: "Vision without resources is irrelevant." Over the course of his career he has been directly involved in raising hundreds of millions of dollars in support of intercollegiate athletics. This has remained a primary focus during his tenure at Iowa where private support for the Hawkeyes continues to flourish despite a challenging economy.

In recent years, the department has received a long list of commitments to assist in capital projects and scholarship support, including gifts of $5 million each from long-time friends of the UI Dale and Marilyn Howard, Bruce Rastetter and Richard O. Jacobson.

Under Barta's leadership – and thanks to a talented athletics development staff – the University of Iowa has seen year-over-year improvement in annual giving in spite of the current difficult economic environment and, at the same time, has generated almost $20 million of support for the Carver-Hawkeye Arena project.

As the director of athletics at the University of Wyoming for three years, seven different UW coaches were named Mountain West Conference Coach of the Year. He also spearheaded a fund-raising effort that netted the Cowboy athletics program $11 million in private support and $11 million in matching state fund.

As the senior associate athletics director at the University of Washington, he directed the "Campaign for the Student-Athlete," and was a participant in the design, construction and/or renovation of several UW athletics facilities including Bank of America Arena and the Dempsey Indoor Practice Facility. In addition to almost doubling the amount of annual private support received by UW, Barta also managed the department's external affairs division, a task that included corporate sponsorship and radio contracts.

His responsibilities at Washington expanded over time to include hiring of coaching and administrative staff and coordinating the schedule for the Huskies' men's basketball program.

The roots of his development experience extend to his first two positions: director of athletics development and external relations at the University of Northern Iowa and director of development at his alma mater, North Dakota State University.

Barta earned a Bachelor of Science degree in mass communication and broadcast journalism from NDSU in 1987. He was an option quarterback for Bison football squads that won the Division II NCAA national championship in 1983, 1985 and 1986.

Barta, and his wife, Connie, have a son, Luke (12) and a daughter, Madison (10). He was born September 4, 1963, in Minneapolis, MN.

FRAN MCCAFFERY

HEAD BASKETBALL COACH

FRAN MCCAFFERY

Fran McCaffery was named the University of Iowa's 22nd head men's basketball coach on Monday, March 29, 2010. McCaffery, 50, comes to Iowa after spending five successful seasons at Siena. He has served as a head coach for 14 seasons, posting a 251-177 (.586) career record.

McCaffery's five years at Siena have been the best in its 70-year history. He led the Saints on an incredible run that ended with three straight Metro Atlantic Athletic Conference championships and NCAA Tournament appearances. In so doing, Siena became the only program in the country to win its regular season and postseason title the last three years.

McCaffery's Saints owned a 112-51 record in his five years with the program. After orchestrating the fifth greatest turnaround in Division I play his first year, McCaffery led Siena to a 20-win season and a MAAC Championship game appearance in his second. In 2007-08, Siena took its biggest step forward under his direction, earning the MAAC regular-season and tournament championship, as well as an NCAA Tournament first round win over Vanderbilt. In 2008-09, Siena repeated the feat, winning the regular-season title outright before capturing the tournament crown. The Saints went on to defeat Ohio State 74-72 in double overtime in one of the tournament's most exciting games.

This past season, McCaffery led Siena to its fourth straight 20-win season, something never before achieved in program history. Siena ran away with the league title, clinching the No. 1 seed in the tournament on Feb. 8 with four conference games remaining. The Saints came from behind in each of their three MAAC Tournament games, culminating with a 72-65 overtime win against Fairfield in the MAAC Championship. Siena's bid for a third consecutive NCAA Tournament first round victory was ended by No. 4 seed Purdue in Spokane, WA. Down 15 points with five minutes left, the Saints rallied to within three points with one minute remaining, but eventually fell 72-64. For his efforts, he was named the NABC District I Coach of the Year.

The 2009 MAAC Coach of the Year is the third winningest coach, by percentage, in league history (68-22, .756). He is the only coach to guide a MAAC program to two NCAA Tournament wins.

In 2008, McCaffery became just the 31st coach (15th active) to take three different programs to the "Big Dance", and he is the first to do so with three programs from one-bid leagues (conference's that sent just one team the year his program advanced). He also boasts a 100% graduation rate among student-athletes he has recruited who have exhausted their eligibility during his tenure.

In 2008-09, the Siena program enjoyed unprecedented success. McCaffery challenged the Saints with the most difficult schedule in program history and Siena responded by equaling a program-record with 27 wins. For the second straight year, the Saints captured the hearts of college basketball fans across the country by advancing to the second round of the NCAA Tournament with a breathtaking 74-72 double-overtime win over Ohio State in Dayton, Ohio. In the second round, Siena nearly scored an upset of epic proportions, leading top overall seed Louisville late in the second half. Siena became a household name as the team performed against the country's elite under the spotlight of 10 nationally televised games. Siena claimed its second straight MAAC Tournament title and finished the season ranked 28th in the ESPN/USA Today Coaches Poll and 19th in the final RPI. The Saints received votes in the Associated Press top-25 poll eight times and in the ESPN/USA Today Coaches' poll six times during the season.

The 2007-08 season will also go down as one of the most memorable in Siena basketball history. The regular-season featured a home win over No. 20 Stanford, a third straight victory over cross-town rival Albany before over 13,000 fans in the annual Albany Cup and a BracketBusters Saturday win at WAC Champion Boise State. The Saints also rallied to earn a share of the MAAC regular-season title and the No. 1 seed in the MAAC Tournament with late season wins at contenders Rider and Marist, as well as a Senior Day home victory over Niagara. But it was Siena's postseason run that would turn the season into a breakthrough year.

FRAN McCAFFERY

HEAD BASKETBALL COACH

After rallying from 17 points down in a semifinal win over Loyola, Siena pounded Rider in the MAAC title game on its home floor to earn the MAAC's automatic bid. Less than two weeks later, McCaffery put together the perfect game plan and Siena led from start to finish in an 83-62 victory over Vanderbilt. Many considered the victory the greatest in school history, challenged at the time only by the program's 1989 upset of Stanford in the NCAA first round. Despite a second round loss to Villanova, McCaffery and the Saints had made a statement the college basketball world could not ignore: Siena Basketball had arrived.

McCaffery inherited a depleted Siena team that was picked last in the 10-team MAAC in 2005-2006. Instead, the Saints finished conference play in fourth place, earning a bye to the quarterfinals of the MAAC Tournament.

Siena showed steady improvement under McCaffery's tutelage in 2006-2007, posting a 20-12 overall record and tying for third place in the MAAC with a 12-6 finish. McCaffery's Saints were the highest scoring team in the league, and they peaked at the right time, winning seven of their last eight regular-season games and advancing to play for the league championship with a semifinal upset of top-seed Marist.

McCaffery orchestrated the turnaround with stellar recruiting and bold vision. His first recruit - senior Kenny Hasbrouck - graduated as the most important player in program history. He was named MAAC Rookie of the Year as a freshman, MAAC second team and all-Tournament team as a sophomore, collegeinsider.com Mid Major Player of the Year, MAAC first team and MAAC Tournament MVP as a junior and MAAC Player of the Year, MAAC Tournament MVP, NABC All-District and MAAC first team as a senior. He signed an NBA contract with the Miami Heat after a successful stint with the Rio Grande Valley Vipers of the NBA Development League.

His second class (first full class) is widely regarded as the best in program history. Edwin Ubiles, Alex Franklin and Ronald Moore finished their four-year careers with a 97-38 (.719) overall record, three MAAC Championships in four title game appearances, three straight NCAA Tournament appearances and two NCAA Tournament First Round victories. Ubiles is a two-time MAAC first team, NABC All District first team and MAAC Tournament team selection and the 2007 MAAC co-Rookie of the Year. Alex Franklin, a two-time NABC All District selection, earned 2008 and 2009 MAAC second team and MAAC Tournament team honors. He won the 2010 MAAC Player of the Year award (Siena's second straight) and the 2010 MAAC Tournament MVP. Ronald Moore, the pulse of the team, earned 2009 MAAC second team and 2010 MAAC first team honors as well as a spot on the 2010 MAAC Tournament team. This past season he was named a Bob Cousy Award finalist for the nation's top point guard. He became the MAAC's all-time assists leader in the 2010 MAAC Championship game, surpassing Marist's Jared Jordan (813).

In total, four Saints were named to either the first or second All-MAAC team in 2009, newcomer Kyle Downey was an All-Rookie selection and Clarence Jackson was named MAAC Sixth Man of the Year.

McCaffery was introduced as Siena's 14th head men's basketball coach on April 1, 2005. For over 20 years, he has enjoyed great success coaching Division I basketball and developing student-athletes on and off the court. McCaffery has recruited and coached several players who have gone on to play basketball professionally, some at the highest level.

HEAD BASKETBALL COACH

McCaffery took over at Siena from UNC-Greensboro, where he posted a 90-87 record in six seasons. In his first year at the helm, Greensboro compiled a 15-13 record overall and a 9-7 Southern Conference mark, good for third place in the North Division. It was the 18th-most improved record nationally among NCAA Division I teams.

In McCaffery's second season, he guided the Spartans to unprecedented heights with a 19-12 record and the 2001 SoCon Tournament Championship. The Spartans defeated Chattanooga, 67-66, in the finals and received the SoCon's automatic bid to the NCAA Tournament. The following year (2001-2002) McCaffery led the Spartans to their first 20-win season since joining the conference. It marked the first time the program claimed a share of the SoCon North Division title as well. After falling to eventual tournament champion Davidson in the conference tournament semifinals, the Spartans were awarded a berth into the 2002 NIT, where they lost to eventual champion Memphis.

In his final year in Greensboro, McCaffery brought the Spartans to the brink of the NCAA Tournament before a SoCon Championship game loss to Chattanooga. He led UNCG to a victory over Davidson in the semifinals, defeating a team that had been 16-0 in conference play. A big part of that success was SoCon Freshman of the Year Kyle Hines. Hines set UNCG and SoCon records for blocked shots, and also broke several other UNCG single-game and freshman single-season marks.

McCaffery spent the 11 years prior to his arrival at Greensboro at the University of Notre Dame as an assistant coach and recruiting coordinator, working on the staffs of Richard "Digger" Phelps and John MacLeod.

Among the players he recruited to play for Notre Dame were Pat Garrity, CoSIDA Academic All-American of the Year in 1998, and Troy Murphy, the Big East Player of the Year in 2000 and an eventual first-round NBA draft pick. Garrity was also a first-round NBA draft pick and the Big East Player of the Year in 1997. In addition to Murphy and Garrity, McCaffery was involved in recruiting NBA First Round picks LaPhonso Ellis (1992 Draft, #5 Denver), Monty Williams (1994 Draft, #24 New York) and Ryan Humphrey (2002 draft, #19-Utah Jazz).

He helped the Irish to NCAA Tournament appearances in 1989 and 1990. Notre Dame reached the NIT finals in 1992, losing to Virginia in overtime, and advanced to the quarterfinals of the event in 1997.

At 26, McCaffery was the nation's youngest Division I head coach when he was hired Sept. 11, 1985, at Lehigh. McCaffery capped his three-year tenure with the Engineers with a 21-win season and an NCAA berth in 1988.

In three seasons as head coach at Lehigh, he compiled a 49-39 overall record and guided the team to the NCAA Tournament in 1988. At the time he was the youngest head coach to reach the NCAA Tournament. His Lehigh teams had two winning seasons in three years and the 1987-88 squad's 21-10 record remains the best in program history. Lehigh had just four winning seasons in the 55 years prior to his arrival.

McCaffery was assistant coach and recruiting coordinator at Lehigh from 1983-85 and helped the team to its first NCAA Tournament appearance in 1985. As recruiting coordinator, he helped sign Darren Queenan '88, who remains Lehigh's all-time leading scorer. Queenan was second in the nation in scoring in 1988, and went on to play in the USBL.

McCaffery was assistant varsity coach and head sub-varsity coach at his alma mater, Pennsylvania, during the 1982-83 season. At Penn, he worked for Craig Littlepage, who is now the director of athletics at the University of Virginia.

McCaffery lettered three years as point guard on the men's basketball team at Pennsylvania as one of the first transfers to play for the Quakers. He earned a bachelor of science degree from The Wharton School of Finance and Commerce in 1982. In 1985 he received his master's degree in education from Lehigh.

In three seasons as a player he helped lead Penn to a pair of NCAA Tournament appearances and Ivy League titles and one berth in the NIT. As a senior in 1981-82 he led the Ivy League in steals and assists and was voted the team's most inspirational player.

Recruited as the successor at point guard to Skip Brown at Wake Forest, McCaffery played one season at Wake Forest, 1977-78, helping the Demon Deacons to a 19-10 record. Nicknamed "White Magic," he started 11 of 28 games as coach Carl Tacy's team finished runner-up in the ACC Tournament to eventual NCAA runner-up Duke. Wake defeated North Carolina twice in three meetings and won five of the eight games it played at the Greensboro Coliseum.

McCaffery, a Philadelphia native who attended LaSalle High School, and his wife Margaret have four children: sons, Connor, Patrick and Jonathan and a daughter, Marit. The McCaffery's have been actively involved in Coaches vs. Cancer in the Capital Region and beyond.

SIENA UNIVERSITY

- McCaffery's five years at Siena (112-51) were the best in its 70-year storied history.
- McCaffery led the Saints to three straight Metro Atlantic Athletic Conference Championships and NCAA Tournament appearances. In so doing, Siena became the only program in the country to win its regular season and postseason title the last three years.
  - In 2010, McCaffery led Siena to its fourth straight 20-win season, something never before done in program history.
  - McCaffery, the 2009 MAAC Coach of the Year, is the third winningest coach by percentage in league history (68-22, .756).
  - McCaffery is the only coach to guide a MAAC program to two NCAA Tournament wins.
- In 2008, McCaffery became just the 31st coach (15th active) to take three different programs to the "Big Dance", and he is the first to do so with three programs from one-bid leagues (conference's that sent just one team the year his program advanced).
  - McCaffery led Siena to a perfect 17-0 home record in each of his last two seasons.

UNC-GREENSBORO

- In the 2001-02 season, McCaffery led the Spartans to their first 20-win season since joining the Southern Conference.
- McCaffery coached the 2001-02 Spartans to a share of the Southern Conference North Division title for the first time in program history.
  - McCaffery's UNCG squads own the two highest-scoring seasons in program history.
  - McCaffery is the only coach in UNCG history to win 11 games at home in a single season.

LEHIGH

- At 26, McCaffery was the nation's youngest Division I head coach when he was hired Sept. 11, 1985.
- McCaffery coached two winning seasons in three years (Lehigh had just four winning seasons in the 55 years prior to his arrival).
  - McCaffery coached the 1987-88 Mountain Hawks to a 21-10 record, which remains the best in program history.
  - McCaffery led Lehigh to the NCAA Tournament in 1988 and was the youngest head coach to do so at the time.
- McCaffery was assistant coach and recruiting coordinator at Lehigh from 1983-85 and helped the team to its first NCAA Tournament appearance in 1985.
  - As assistant coach and recruiting coordinator, he helped sign Darren Queenan '88, who remains Lehigh's all-time leading scorer.

WHAT OTHERS ARE SAYING ABOUT COACH MCCAFFERY

"Fran is a tireless worker, who is going to go out and grind, and that's someone Iowa needed. He won't be afraid to say, 'Hey, this guy is a top-10 recruit and we're going after him because we're Iowa'. I think that's the way it should be. I want the program to be at the level where I chose Iowa over Notre Dame, Kentucky, Michigan and Michigan State. I believe Fran is going to go out and do the work that he's always done. He'll identify kids he feels can take us to the next level; I'm pretty happy about it."

KENVON MURRAY

Iowa Hawkeye Lettermen (1993-96)
Big Ten Network College Basketball Analyst

"Fran McCaffery is a good solid hire for the University of Iowa. Iowa has been hoping for a winner and I believe one has arrived. He's won at Lehigh, UNC-Greensboro and Siena -- if you can win at those places, you can win anywhere. His teams are enjoyable to watch with their style of play; he lets his kids play free. If Iowa fans give Fran a little time, he'll get the Hawkeyes back to the NCAA Tournament on a yearly basis."

DOUG GOTTLIEB

College Basketball Analyst, ESPN

"Fran McCaffery is a great hire for Iowa. He was a great assistant coach and has done a great job in making Siena the Gonzaga of the east. He will bring back the traditions of Iowa basketball."

DIGGER PHELPS

College Basketball Analyst, ESPN
Former Head Coach, Notre Dame

"The number one thing about Fran, is that he has a great feel for the game, and, he understands players. He and I spent a lot of time in traversing the state of Iowa, trying to get Iowa kids to come to Notre Dame. Fran has a great knack for setting an offense and he is a great defensive coach. He has great relationships with his players. This is a great fit for Iowa and a great fit for Fran."

JOHN MACLEOD

Former Head Coach, Notre Dame
Former Head Coach, Golden State

"Fran McCaffery is a fine basketball coach, and an even finer person. He can teach the game, identify and attract talent, and he is a man of great substance and integrity. Iowa has made a great hire in McCaffery."

JAY BILAS

College Basketball Analyst, ESPN

"I have been impressed with Coach McCaffery's consistent success, most recently at Siena. His teams are well prepared and his development of players, particularly on the perimeter, should fit in well with the young roster in Iowa City."

SHON MORRIS

College Basketball Analyst
Big Ten Network

"I think Fran McCaffery is a good choice for Iowa and I think Iowa is a good choice for Fran. I hope he does well. He guided Siena to NCAA Tournament appearances the last three years and posted good tournament wins over Vanderbilt (2008) and Ohio State (2009)."

JOHN FEINSTEIN

Sportswriter and author

"We are thrilled to have Fran McCaffery lead our men's basketball program. From the first day I met Coach McCaffery he said, 'I want to be the coach at Iowa.' He is a proven winner, a leader, has competed for championships and will continue to do so. Coach McCaffery is committed to student-athletes, their personal lives, and their education. Every one of his student-athletes who has completed their eligibility has graduated."

GARY BARTA

Director of Athletics
University of Iowa

"I think Iowa made an outstanding choice. In the Siena games I've watched, they were well coached and very well organized."

RONNIE LESTER

UI All-American
Assistant General Manager, Los Angeles Lakers

"Iowa has hired a class act. Respected by his coaching peers, Coach McCaffery is a proven winner who rebuilt the Siena Saints program in quick fashion by being a relentless recruiter who instilled an up tempo style that fans loved and players embraced. During the search process he expressed his vision for the future of the Hawkeye program, while understanding the proud tradition of University of Iowa Basketball."

KIRK SPERAW

ASSISTANT BASKETBALL COACH

KIRK SPERAW

Kirk Speraw is in his first year as an assistant coach at Iowa after joining the program in April, 2010.

Speraw, who is a Sioux City, IA, native has over three decades of basketball coaching experience. He is a two-time Hawkeye letterman (1978-79) who played for Head Coach Lute Olson. He was a member of the 1978-79 squad that won 20 contests and a Big Ten title. As a senior, he was named the team's most inspirational player.

As both an assistant and head coach, Speraw has mentored dozens of players who have played professionally, including Hawkeyes Ronnie Lester, Steve Krafcsin, Vince Brookins, Steve Waite, Kenny Arnold, Kevin Boyle, Mark Gannon and Bobby Hansen.

Speraw began his coaching career with the Hawkeyes, serving as a graduate assistant with Iowa's 1979-80 team that advanced to the Final Four. The Hawkeyes went 23-8 that season. Speraw then moved to Denver University, where he was an assistant coach and recruiting coordinator for two years (1980-82).

Speraw joins the Hawkeyes after serving 17 years as head coach at the University of Central Florida (1993-2010). Speraw is the school's winningest coach with a 279-233 record. During his tenure, 18 of his players received all-league honors, including four first team honorees. Additionally, since the start of the 1993-94 season, 54 of Speraw's student-athletes earned academic all-conference recognition.

His tenure included four NCAA Tournament berths (1994, '96, '04 and '05). In 2006-07, he was recognized as Conference USA Coach of the Year after guiding the Knights to 22 victories and a second place league finish. His most successful season at UCF was in 2003-04, when the Knights finished 25-6, received votes in the top 25 and won the Atlantic Sun championship, earning an automatic bid to the NCAA Tournament.

Prior to his head coaching job at UCF, he served as an assistant coach at the University of Florida for three seasons (1990-93) under Head Coach Lon Kruger. While on the Florida staff, the Gators participated in two NIT's, including advancing to the semifinals in 1992.

Prior to his three years in Gainesville, Speraw was the head coach at Pensacola Junior College (PJC) from 1987-90. At PJC, he led the Pirates to an 82-21 record and three consecutive Panhandle Conference titles. His 1989-90 team won 31 games and finished fifth nationally. The team's success that year earned Speraw national recognition. He was tabbed the NABC/Kodak National Junior College Coach of the Year, as well as the state's Coach of the Year.

Speraw also had a coaching stop at Florida Southern, serving as an assistant from 1982-87. The Moccasins posted a 100-46 record and made four appearances in the Division II NCAA Tournament, including a third-place finish in 1986.

Speraw and his wife, Tracy (an Iowa City native), have two sons, Drew and Dustin, and two daughters, Brooke and Bailey. Drew played for his dad at Central Florida for four years, completing his eligibility this past season. Brooke is currently a University of Iowa student.

SHERMAN DILLARD

ASSISTANT BASKETBALL COACH

Sherman Dillard is in his first year as an assistant coach at Iowa after joining the program in May, 2010.

Dillard has over two decades of coaching experience, serving as a college assistant or head coach for 25 years. He spent his first 15 years as an assistant coach at three institutions. Dillard began his coaching career under Head Coach Lefty Driesell at Maryland, spending six seasons (1979-85). He helped coach the Terrapins to four 20-plus win seasons and six postseason appearances, including five NCAA Tournament berths. The 1980, 1984 and 1985 squads reached the Sweet 16, while the 1984 team won the ACC Tournament.

He then spent three years at California (1985-88) under Lou Campanelli, who was his collegiate coach at James Madison. The Bears posted two third-place Pac-10 finishes and two NIT appearances during his tenure in Berkeley. After three seasons at California, he returned to the ACC and Georgia Tech for six seasons (1988-94). While in Atlanta, he helped Head Coach Bobby Cremins lead the Yellow Jackets to six winning seasons and postseason appearances. Georgia Tech played in five NCAA Tournaments, including the Final Four in 1990 and Sweet 16 in 1992.

Dillard received his first head coaching opportunity at Indiana State of the Missouri Valley Conference (1994-97). During his three seasons in Terre Haute, the Sycamores improved each season and posted a 29-52 record. He then left Indiana State to return to his alma mater. He replaced Driesell, who served as head coach the previous nine seasons (1988-97). Dillard was the Dukes' head coach for seven years (1997-2004). He posted a 93-106 record, sharing a league title and recording three first-division finishes in the Colonial Athletic Association (CAA). During his tenure, he earned CAA Coach of the Year and NABC District Coach of the Year laurels. His 10-year head coaching record stands at 122-158.

Dillard, a three-time academic all-American and four-time honorable mention all-American by the Associated Press, played guard at James Madison (1973-78). He led the Dukes in scoring in each of his four years (missed 1976-77 with an injury) and was the team's top rebounder as a freshman. Dillard is the second-leading scorer (2,065 points) in James Madison history, and his academic excellence merited him an NCAA post-graduate scholarship. After his collegiate career, he was drafted by the Indiana Pacers in the 1978 NBA Draft. Additionally, Dillard was honored as a CAA "Legend" in 2009.

Since 2004, Dillard has worked as a basketball marketing representative for Nike. He served as Global Camp Director, responsible for administrative and operational facets of a series of highly acclaimed camps and academies sponsored by Nike. Those camps included the Nike All-America Camp and select skills academies hosted by NBA stars such as Kobe Bryant, Steve Nash, Vince Carter, Amaré Stoudemire and LeBron James (until January, 2009).

Dillard is a 1978 magna cum laude James Madison graduate earning a bachelor's degree in physical education and minor in business, and is a member of the school's sports hall of fame.

Dillard and his wife Dena have two sons, Ben (17) and Langston (15).

ANDREW FRANCIS

ASSISTANT BASKETBALL COACH

ANDREW FRANCIS

Andrew Francis is in his first year as an assistant coach at Iowa after joining the program in April, 2010.

Francis served the last three seasons on Fran McCaffery's staff as an assistant coach at Siena. While on the Saints' coaching staff, he helped guide Siena to three straight conference titles and NCAA Tournament berths, and four consecutive 20-plus win seasons. Francis helped coach six all-conference student-athletes, two Player of the Year honorees and the league's Sixth Man of the Year.

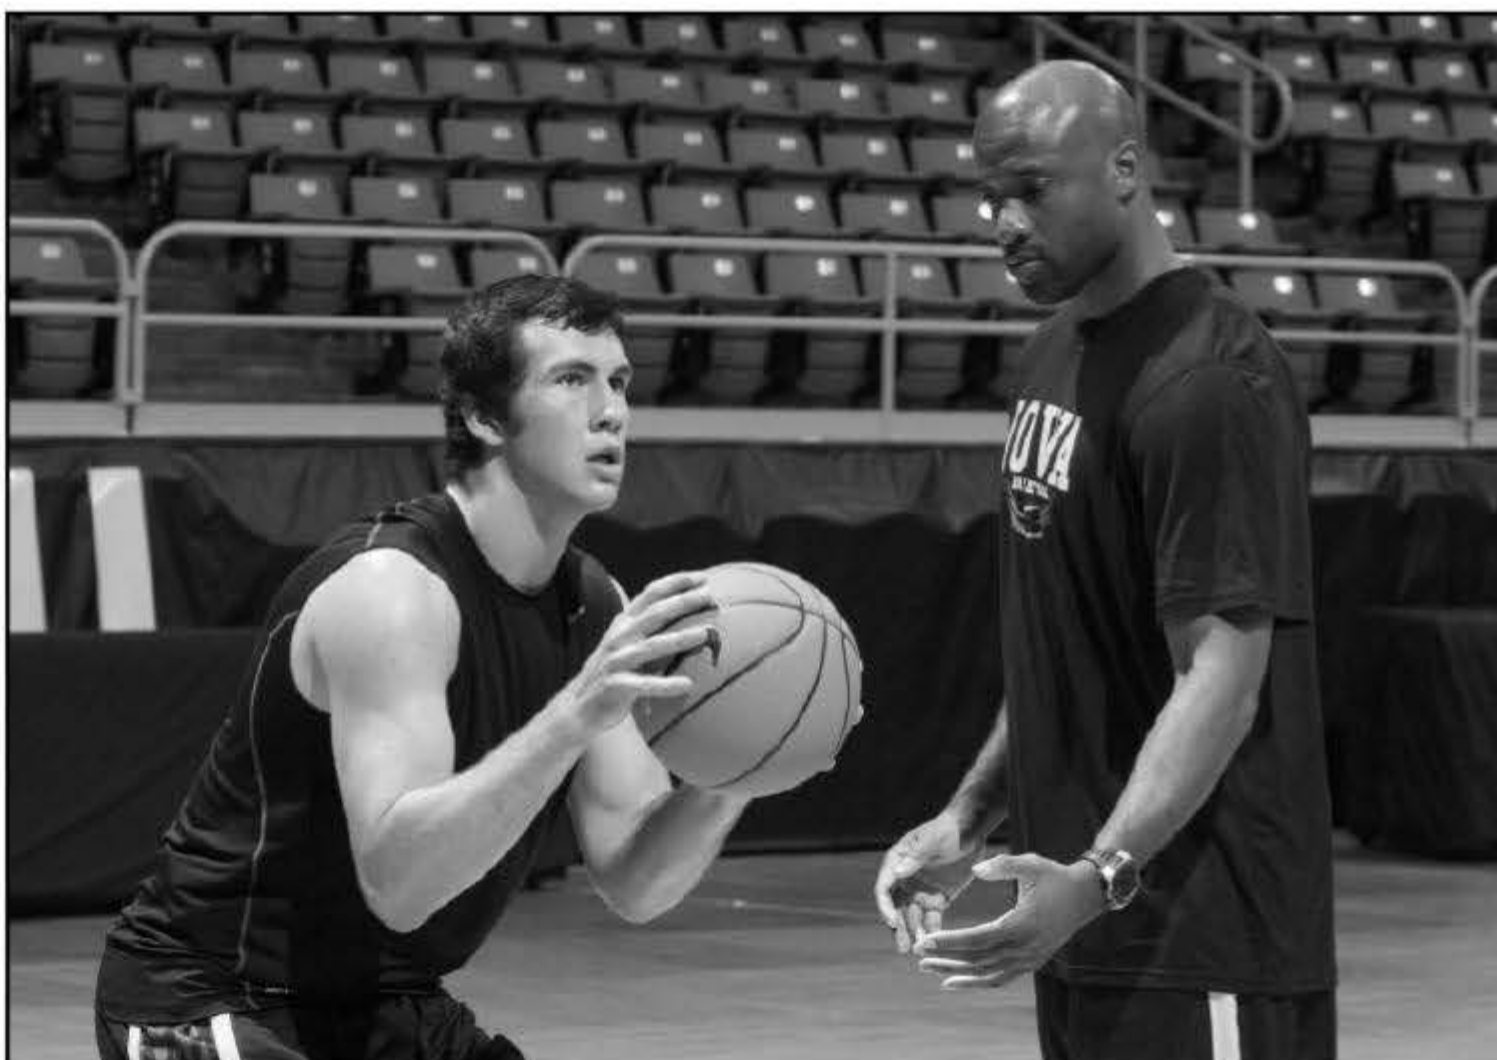

He arrived at the Siena program after a two year stint at Villanova University, where he served as an administrative assistant/video coordinator on Jay Wright's staff.

While at Siena, Francis assisted in all aspects of the program, including: recruiting, player development and scouting.

A Brooklyn, NY, native, Francis joined the Wildcats' staff in August, 2005. He assisted the program in a variety of roles while directing the video operations of the basketball office.

Francis is a 1992 graduate of Brooklyn's Abraham Lincoln High School. He played basketball at Fulton Montgomery Community College in Johnstown, NY, before completing his college career under Coach Sidney Green at Long Island University-Southampton. Francis graduated in 1998 with a degree in marketing and management.

After a knee injury ended his professional playing career, Francis became a volunteer assistant coach at Concordia College. From 2003-05, he served as the head women's coach at Mt. St. Vincent College, compiling a 26-27 record. In addition, he served as a volunteer assistant coach for the Westchester Wildfire of the United States Basketball League.

JERRY STROM

DIRECTOR OF BASKETBALL OPERATIONS

A longtime member of the Athletic Department and the Iowa basketball staff, Jerry Strom is in his 30th season as a member of the University of Iowa basketball staff.

Strom joined the Iowa staff in 1981 as a graduate assistant coach under Lute Olson. He served in that capacity for two years prior to being promoted to his basketball administrative position in 1983.

Strom works closely with the Hawkeye basketball staff, helping to coordinate and carry out the day-to-day activities of Iowa basketball program. Strom helped implement and was tournament director for Iowa's Hawkeye Challenge for 26 years, and for six years did color commentary with Jim Zabel for Iowa basketball on the Palmer Radio Network.

When Jerry first joined the Iowa staff he implemented the school's first Iowa Basketball Coaches Clinic, as well as bringing in and directing the 1988 national 19-and-under A.A.U. Tournament, held in Iowa City. He has been a member of six basketball staffs that have competed in 23 NCAA and NIT tournaments.

Strom has served on the Iowa athletic department's Student Athlete Assistance Program. He is a 32-year member of the National Association of Basketball Coaches (NABC) and has served on a number of NABC committees.

Strom came to Iowa from Monmouth College, where he was assistant to the athletic director, as well as assistant basketball and baseball coach from 1979-81. The 1979 Monmouth baseball squad competed in the NCAA Division III College World Series and the Monmouth basketball team won the Midwest Conference basketball championship.

Strom was athletic director and head basketball and track coach at Martin Luther King High School in New York City for four years. His 1976 King squad won the New York City Thru-way City League championship and his track squads were three-time League city champions.

Strom graduated from Fontanelle (IA) High School, where he earned all-state honors in basketball, football and baseball, as well as being selected to Iowa Boys State. He attended Concordia (NE) College, where he played basketball, baseball and golf. Jerry earned his master's degree (athletic administration) from Western Illinois in 1980 and worked towards his doctoral degree at Iowa.

Jerry was born March 1, 1953. He and his wife, Melody, have a daughter (Jessica, 23) and a son (Justin, 22).

RYAN BOWEN

VIDEO COORDINATOR & ADMINISTRATIVE ASSISTANT

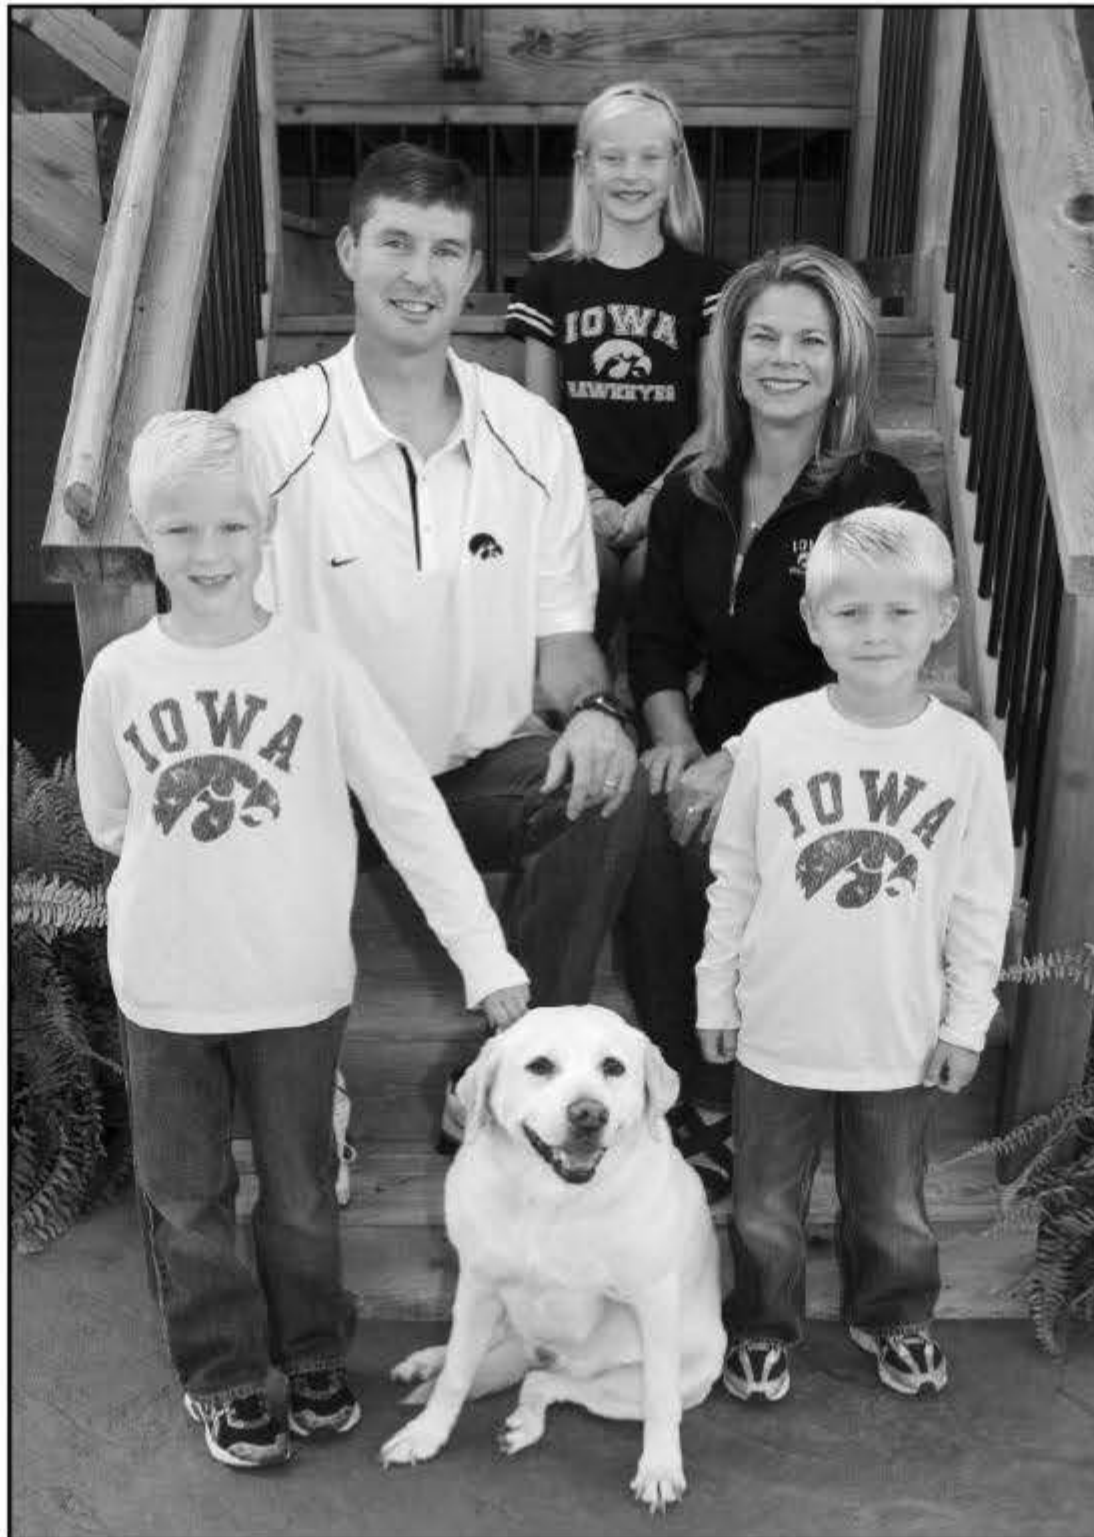

Ryan Bowen is in his first season as the University of Iowa's video coordinator and administrative assistant.

Bowen played in 120 games as a Hawkeye (1994-98), scoring 1,090 points (9.1 avg.), which ranks 32nd at Iowa and collected 804 rebounds (6.7 avg.). He is Iowa's career field goal percentage leader, shooting at a 57.5% clip (397-690). Bowen, who was a two-time all-Big Ten performer, is Iowa's single-season record holder in steals per game, averaging 2.8 per contest in 1998. The Fort Madison, Iowa, native also holds the school record for career steals (208) and ranks fourth in career blocks (124) and eighth in career rebounding (804).

Bowen, who was the 1997 Chris Street Award winner, led the Hawkeyes in rebounding (9.1), steals (1.9) and field goal percentage (.553) his junior campaign. As a senior, he averaged 14.4 points and led the team in rebounding (8.7), steals (2.5), blocks (1.3) and field goal percentage (.603).

Bowen recently concluded an 11-year run playing professionally overseas and in the National Basketball Association (NBA). The 6-9, 225-pound forward was a second round draft pick of the Denver Nuggets in the 1998 NBA Draft. He began his career in Turkey (1998-99) before playing five seasons with the Nuggets (1999-2004). Bowen was then picked up by the Houston Rockets, playing two seasons (2004-06). After recovering from hip surgery, he played a partial season in Israel (2007). He then signed with the New Orleans Hornets, playing two seasons (2007-09). Bowen competed in one game for the Oklahoma City Thunder this past November before retiring.

Bowen and his wife, Wendy, have three children, a daughter Isabel (nine) and sons Benjamin (six) and Zachary (five). Wendy was a UI Dance Team member for three years.

Streif joined the training staff in 1972 and assumed the position of travel coordinator in 1980. He also serves as a member of Iowa's Athletic Assistance Program.

A native of Manchester, Iowa, Streif joined the Iowa staff after serving as assistant athletic trainer at West Point Military Academy from 1970-72. Streif also served three summers as assistant athletic trainer at the Detroit Lions pre-season camps.

Streif was recognized in June, 2001 with the Athletic Training Service award and in 2000 received his 25-years of Service award. He received the Hall of Honor Award from the Iowa Athletic Trainers Society in 2008.

Streif was honored in May, 2010 with the first PRO-CATS Quality of Life Award, presented by the College Athletic Trainers Society at the national convention.

Streif received the University of Iowa Hospitals and Clinics Above and Beyond the Call of Duty Recognition Award in January, 2007 and the David J. Skorton Staff Excellence Award for Public Service in July, 2006. John also received the 2009 Honorable Mention Award: Educator of Character, from Character Counts in Iowa.

Former Iowa basketball letterman Ronnie Lester donated $100,000 to the UI Foundation to support the Carver-Hawkeye Arena Enhancements Campaign. Lester has requested to have the athletic training facilities within the renovated Carver-Hawkeye Arena named in honor of John Streif.

Streif was honored in 1994 with the development of the John Streif Endowed Scholarship, a scholarship that was established by former Iowa basketball players. The 1997 Iowa basketball team voted Streif co-winner of the annual Chris Street Award.

Coach Kirk Ferentz and the Hawkeye football team presented Streif with the game ball following Iowa's 19-16 win over Texas Tech in the 2001 Alamo Bowl. He was also presented the Bump Elliott Appreciation Award by the 2003 Hawkeye football team.

Streif served as the men's basketball trainer at the 1987 Pan American Games and has served in numerous USOC athletic training assignments.

Streif traveled to Europe during the summer of 1993 and South America in 1994 with the Big Ten men's basketball all-star teams. In addition, John has coordinated several overseas tours for the Iowa basketball program and hosted overseas alumni tours for the University of Iowa Alumni Association.

He served as travel coordinator and trainer for the People-to-People Sports basketball team, which toured overseas in 1995 and 1996, and in 1997 he assisted a team of current and former Iowa basketball players on a six-game overseas tour.

Speraw was born June 1, 1986 in Lakeland, Florida.

UI Sports Medicine

University of Iowa Hospitals and Clinics

Serving the needs of Iowa basketball and all the Hawkeye teams since 1975, the UI Sports Medicine team helps athletes and active people of all ages and skill levels heal from injuries and train for better performance, as well as oversee their regular health care needs. Linking experts from across the University, including specialists in orthopaedics, athletic training, rehabilitation, and primary care, UI Sports Medicine provides the full spectrum of care for everyone from the active child to the veteran weekend warrior, from the beginner to the professional athlete. UI Sports medicine is now located in a new clinic that opened a year ago at the Institute of Orthopaedics, Sports Medicine, and Rehabilitation, and consolidates the expertise offered by different specialties and brings them at one convenient location.

Backed by the Department of Orthopaedics and Rehabilitation, which is ranked among US News World Report magazine's top orthopaedic departments in the United States, the UI Sports Medicine team is dedicated to improving the understanding, prevention, treatment, and rehabilitation of patients with sports- and activity-related injuries. Orthopaedic surgeon Ned Amendola, M.D., director of UI Sports Medicine Center and of Student Health Athletic Services, said the sports medicine team's overall success depends on the following principles:

- Ensuring the best possible overall long-term health of athletes
- Injury prevention
- Efficient personalized treatment and rehabilitation following injury
- Clear communication between the physician, athlete, training staff, parents, and coaches to ensure the best possible recovery with minimal delay

Here is a closer look at the members of Hawkeye men's basketball's health care team:

BRIAN WOLF, MD, M.S.

Dr. Wolf is the head team physician for the men's and women's basketball teams.

Brian Wolf was born in Davenport, IA, and graduated from Alleman High School in Rock Island, IL. He received his undergraduate degree from Loyola University in Chicago, where he was a four-year scholarship member of their Division I basketball team. He received his medical degree from Loyola University's Stritch School of Medicine in 1997, and completed his orthopaedic residency at UI Hospitals and Clinics in 2002.

From 2002 to 2003, he completed a fellowship in sports medicine and shoulder surgery at the Hospital for Special Surgery in New York City, where he also served as an associate team physician for St. John's University athletics. Upon returning to Iowa, Dr. Wolf completed a Master's degree in clinical research in the University of Iowa's College of Public Health. He is a Fellow of the American Academy of Orthopaedic Surgeons, and a member of the American Orthopaedic Society for Sports Medicine, the Arthroscopy Association of North America, the Mid-America Orthopaedic Association, the Iowa Orthopaedic Society and the Alpha Omega Alpha medical honor society.

Dr. Wolf, now an assistant professor in the UI Department of Orthopaedics and Rehabilitation, began work with the sports medicine service and the Hawkeye basketball team in August 2003. He is also the head team physician for UI baseball, softball, tennis, swimming, gymnastics, and rowing. He has a special interest in shoulder, knee, and elbow injuries.

Dr. Wolf and his wife Laura have two sons, Jack (10) and B.J. (8), and a daughter Lucy (5).

GEORGE PHILLIPS, MD

George Phillips was born in Sumter, SC, and graduated from Irmo High School in Columbia, SC. He received his undergraduate degree from Duke University, his medical degree from the University of South Carolina School of Medicine in 1998 and completed his residency at the University of Kentucky Children's Hospital in 2001. He then completed a fellowship in primary care sports medicine at the University of Kentucky in 2002, where he also served as a team physician for women's basketball, men's and women's soccer, women's volleyball, and women's gymnastics. He is board certified by the American Board of Pediatrics, and holds a Certificate of Added Qualifications in Sports Medicine.

Dr. Phillips is a fellow of the American Academy of Pediatrics and the current President for its Iowa Chapter. He is also a member of the American College of Sports Medicine, American Medical Society for Sports Medicine, and the Iowa Medical Society Committee on Sports Medicine.

An associate professor in the UI Department of Pediatrics, Dr. Phillips' clinical interests include sports medicine, post-concussion syndrome, and nutritional supplements/ergogenic aids. Dr. Phillips also holds a secondary appointment in the UI College of Public Health, where he works with a team of researchers investigating the epidemiology of sports injuries that result in hospitalization. He joined the medical staff for the Hawkeye men's basketball team in July 2003.

Dr. Phillips and his wife, Robin, have a son Carter (7), and daughters Kelsey (5) and Allison (1).

"Carver-Hawkeye Arena is one of the best collegiate basketball arenas and after its $47 million facelift next season, it will be one of the finest overall facilities in the country. The way the arena is structured, it gives us a definite home-court advantage. Fans are actively involved in the game from the first to last row, making it intimidating for the visiting team. Carver-Hawkeye Arena provides a remarkable game atmosphere, which is a credit to our exceptional fan support."

FRAN MCCAFFERY
Head Basketball Coach
The University of Iowa

When Sports Illustrated magazine surveyed sports fans in the state of Iowa as part of its 50th anniversary, Carver-Hawkeye Arena was named as the "Hot Spot" for sporting events in the state.

Carver-Hawkeye Arena, one of the 25 largest university-owned facilities in the nation, serves as Iowa's home basketball arena. Opened in January of 1983, the building seats 15,500 for basketball. A $47 million addition and renovation project, that is expected to be completed by August 2011, will enhance what is arguably one of the top college basketball facilities in the nation. The renovation includes:

A new practice complex

Renovation and expansion of the Dan Gable Wrestling Complex

New locker rooms for men's and women's basketball, wrestling and volleyball

Capacity crowds have been the rule rather than the exception at Carver-Hawkeye Arena. Over six million basketball fans have viewed games in Carver-Hawkeye Arena the past 27-and-a-half seasons. On Feb. 14, 2009, Iowa hosted Purdue and the 14,665 fans in attendance helped the Black and Gold top the six million mark in Carver-Hawkeye Arena history. Iowa played 60 consecutive home games in front of sellout crowds and more recently had a streak of 41 consecutive sell outs for regular season games. The single-game record of 15,570 was set against Indiana in 1987.

Iowa has posted a 63-23 record in Carver-Hawkeye Arena over the past five seasons. The Hawkeyes posted a perfect 17-0 mark in 2005-06, the first undefeated home season ever in Carver-Hawkeye Arena and the first perfect home season since 1966.

The Hawkeyes have won nearly 80 percent (340-103) of their home games since the building opened. Iowa had a 15-game home court winning streak in 1986-87 and won 43 straight non-conference home games prior to a 79-76 loss to NCAA runner-up Duke during the 1994 season. Iowa is a staggering 181-19 (.905) in non-conference games in Carver-Hawkeye Arena, including a perfect 8-0 three seasons ago.

The Hawkeyes are 49-7 (.875) in non-conference home games over the past seven seasons.

The multi-purpose facility also serves as home to Hawkeye wrestling, gymnastics and volleyball and has been the site of numerous concerts, commencements, sports camps and other events.

Fans enjoy an unobstructed view from each of the theatre seats. The building won a design award from the American Institute of Architects in 1984.

In a poll of 70 members of the media, conducted by the Lafayette, IN, Courier Journal, Carver-Hawkeye Arena was voted as the top arena in the Big Ten. The Iowa pep band and the media section in Carver-Hawkeye were also voted best in the league.

Named for the late Roy Carver, a long-time supporter of the University, the building has 20,000 square feet of floor space when the lower level seats are retracted. The 42 rows of seating are divided in 28 lettered sections. A 100-seat press section for print and radio media is located in sections BB-CC.

Connected to the Arena is an athletic office building, which is four levels high and occupies over 60,000 square feet. Athletic department coaches and administrators have offices in the building. The administrative portion of Carver-Hawkeye Arena will be remodeled and expanded in the current renovation project.

The arena features six locker rooms, including the permanent men's basketball locker room, along with fully-equipped weight training and athletic training facilities. Within the last four years, the Hospitality Room has been remodeled, allowing for the men's basketball team to have training table meals in the arena, just down the hall from the locker room.

Carver-Hawkeye Arena is constantly being improved. The renovation project will include improved concourse space and additional rest rooms, premium seating opportunities with expanded hospitality and entertainment areas and a new, high-speed patron elevator.

The men's basketball locker room was remodeled prior to the 2003 season. A player's lounge and a coaches meeting room and locker area were added, while the player's locker area was enlarged and remodeled.

New scoreboards and video walls were installed prior to the 2006-07 season. The new state-of-the-art equipment features two video walls with live action and instant replay capabilities. The video walls on each side of the arena measure 80 feet in length and feature 288 x 512 LED Matrix display areas. The scoreboards at each end of the court are 48 feet in length and feature a 256 x 72 Led Matrix display area, along with the usual scoreboard display areas for scores, time remaining and team and individual statistics.

The Arena cost $18,402,962 to build and was completed in three years. It was financed from private contributions from Iowa athletic department supporters. The first event (Jan. 3) in the Arena was a 1983 wrestling dual vs. Oklahoma (a 35-7 Iowa victory). The initial basketball game was a 61-59 loss to Michigan State on Jan. 5, 1983.

Carver-Hawkeye Arena has hosted the Big Ten and NCAA wrestling championships and Big Ten and NCAA regional and national gymnastics championships. The 1984 U.S. Olympic wrestling trials were held in Carver-Hawkeye and the 1984 U.S. Olympic basketball team also played an exhibition contest in the facility. The National Duals wrestling tournament was held in Carver-Hawkeye in 1998 and 1999. Iowa hosted the 1995 NCAA wrestling championships, in which the Hawkeyes won the national crown while setting tournament attendance records, and the 2001 NCAA finals.

Two years ago, all eyes were on Iowa City and Carver-Hawkeye Arena as the Iowa-Iowa State wrestling match attracted a national-record 15,955 fans. Iowa won the meet 20-15.

After selecting his top five home basketball facilities in the nation for his book on the Top 100 Division I Basketball Arenas, Bill Kintner, a.k.a. CigarBoy, selected Iowa's Carver-Hawkeye Arena as one of four facilities to earn Honorable Mention recognition.

RENOVATION

The Board of Regents, State of Iowa approved the schematic design, project description, budget, and financing plan for an addition and revitalization of the University of Iowa's award-winning Carver-Hawkeye Arena.

The Carver-Hawkeye Arena Addition and Renovation Project will include the construction of a practice facility immediately north of the Arena for use by the UI's men's basketball, women's basketball and volleyball programs; renovation of the practice, fitness and weight-training facilities utilized by the UI's wrestling program; renovation and expansion of other fitness and weight-training space in the Arena utilized by the majority of Iowa's 24 sports teams; the renovation and expansion of locker rooms in the facility; and the renovation of existing and the creation of new office, meeting, and storage space for use by administrative and coaching staff of the UI Athletics Department.

The addition of the practice facility will eliminate the need to have student-athletes in the sports of men's basketball, women's basketball and volleyball practice and train at unusual or irregular times of day or at times which are typically reserved for classes. The flexibility created by the practice space will also positively impact the potential for use of the arena for other University and community-related events such as concerts.

The revitalization of the arena will also extend into spaces used by the general public on game days and nights, including renovation of select concessions and restroom facilities, and the creation of hospitality and meeting spaces combined with club facilities for fans of the Hawkeyes who choose to participate in a variety of premium seating options similar to that which are available in the Paul W. Brechler Press Box at historic Kinnick Stadium.

Finally, the project will also upgrade the fire alarm, elevator and mechanical systems of the award-winning facility. As of July 2010, the renovation was 40-percent complete. The UI estimates completion of the full project in the fall of 2011.

"Today, more than 25 years after its construction, Carver-Hawkeye Arena remains a great facility for spectators. However, in order to remain competitive, some of the public spaces and many of the training and competition spaces need significant updating and enhancement. I greatly appreciate the Board's recognition of our needs and its confidence in our plan to address them," said Gary Barta, the UI's director of athletics.

"I am so grateful fans of the Hawkeyes recognize our need to be competitive and have been as supportive of this project today as they were when they were asked to support the original construction of Carver-Hawkeye Arena and, more recently, the renovation of Kinnick Stadium."

KEYE ARENA

2011 IOWA BASKETBALL

The Board also approved the financing plan submitted by the UI for the project. The plan was similar to that which was created for the renovation of historic Kinnick Stadium. It includes revenue generated from fund-raising specifically related to the project and bonding secured by revenues specifically related to the project.

The UI Athletics Department is currently working with the UI Foundation on a capital gift campaign that has a goal of generating $20 million in support of the project. The UI has already received more than $18 million in support of the project, including an initial multi-million dollar contribution from Dale and Marilyn Howard of Iowa Falls.

Funding for the project has allowed the UI Athletics Department to establish courtside and club seat programs comparable to the indoor and outdoor club seat program currently in operation inside the Paul W. Brechler Press Box at historic Kinnick Stadium. The premium seating options will involve approximately 500 seats and has already proven popular with Hawkeye fans.

The UI Athletics Department has also implemented a priority seating program for the Arena similar to the program in place for grandstand seats at historic Kinnick Stadium. The Arena program currently calls for less than one-third (less than 4,500) of the 15,000 seats in the facility to be subject to a priority seat contribution.

"When Carver was built more than 25 years ago, Hawkeye fans were incredibly generous and those who made a contribution to the project were provided access to the best seats. When we renovated Kinnick Stadium, those who were most generous were provided the opportunity to lease premium seating opportunities in the new press box," Barta said.

"We have developed a funding model that is used across the country for virtually every project like this and particularly when the athletics department involved is asked to be 100-percent self-supporting. We will need help from all fans of the Hawkeyes and the response has already been terrific. With that said, fans sitting in two-thirds of the Arena will not be required to make a contribution or participate in the priority seating program."

Barta said the impact of this project will be felt across the spectrum of sports offered by the UI, by thousands of current and future student-athletes, and by hundreds of thousands of fans who will attend events in the Arena for many years to come.

"To say that our staff and coaches are excited or that our student-athletes are excited would be a tremendous understatement. We are making an important investment in one of the landmark buildings on our campus and the programs that it houses," he said.

CONSIDER IOWA'S FACILITIES

CARVER-HAWKEYE ARENA – A SHOWCASE FOR IOWA BASKETBALL

Facilities play an important role in helping today's student-athlete enjoy his collegiate experience and develop his potential to its fullest. The facilities available to the members of the Iowa basketball program at The University of Iowa compare very favorably with the nation's finest and, in many cases, set the standard of excellence by which others are measured. Iowa's current $47 million renovation of Carver-Hawkeye Arena will enhance Iowa's basketball facilities in every way.

Carver-Hawkeye Arena – A Showcase For Iowa Basketball

In January 1983, the Hawkeyes played their first game in $18 million Carver-Hawkeye Arena, located on the western edge of The University of Iowa campus. The 15,500-seat, oval-shaped arena is one of the finest facilities for basketball in the world and is one of the 25 largest university-owned arenas in America.

The locker area features large individual lockers for all Hawkeye players. The locker area in the Iowa locker room was expanded in the past five years, with each player being provided an expanded area. The area now features all new lockers for each individual.

As beautiful as Carver-Hawkeye Arena is, the Iowa basketball program is constantly looking to improve the facility. Take, for example, Iowa's basketball locker room and lounge. Furnished with large, wooden lockers for each player's personal and game use, the Iowa locker room was expanded and remodeled in the past five years, allowing more room for all players. New locker room facilities are part of the current renovation project.

The players lounge features plush carpeting, a high-quality sound system and large flat screen televisions, helping make the Iowa locker room the envy of most collegiate basketball programs. And, Iowa's parquet playing floor gives the Iowa basketball program a Boston Celtics look.

In a survey of Division I men's basketball coaches, conducted by Sporting News, the locker room facilities in Iowa's Carver-Hawkeye Arena earned the highest percentage of votes in the "Best Locker rooms" category.

Iowa's Carver-Hawkeye Arena has a seating capacity of 15,500 and Iowa basketball annually ranks among the national leaders in home attendance. The "Hawks Nest" student section plays an active role in supporting Hawkeye basketball in Carver-Hawkeye Arena.

(Below) Iowa's basketball locker room has been completely remodeled over the past six years, with the addition of a players lounge highlighting the most recent changes. The players lounge provides Iowa players an opportunity to relax before and after workouts and games. Tom and Lori Cardella of Solon, Iowa made a generous gift to remodel and expand the locker room area, which is named in their honor.

IOWA BASKETBALL

UNIVERSITY OF IOWA EQUIPMENT AND APPAREL PROVIDED BY NIKE.

"All you have to do is bring kids into this arena and if they can't get turned on by the beauty of the arena and the excitement of Big Ten basketball, then there is something wrong."

Not only is Carver-Hawkeye Arena superb for the players, but it's also an outstanding facility for the thousands of fans who cheer the Hawkeyes to victory each game night. Spectators have an unobstructed view of the playing floor and the lighting and sound systems are among the finest in the country.

In addition, new scoreboards and video boards were installed prior to the 2006-07 season, adding more color and excitement to each home game in Carver-Hawkeye Arena. A new playing surface was installed prior to the 2000-01 season. The current renovation project will include improved concourse areas and additional rest rooms, along with premium seating and expanded hospitality and entertainment areas.

The Iowa basketball program has won numerous national titles and has participated in the Big Ten Tournament in 1993, 1994, 1995, 1996, 1997, 1998, 1999, 2000, 2001, 2002, 2003, 2004, 2005, 2006, 2007, ## WE HAVE FOUR GOALS IN OUR STRENGTH AND CONDITIONING PROGRAM

INCREASE ATHLETIC PERFORMANCE

Improve your game

- Your acceleration and speed up and down the court
- Your range of shots and passes

Explosiveness

- in particular your vertical jump and speed and your ability to reproduce them over and over.

DECREASE RATE OF INJURY

- You can significantly reduce your risk of joint and tendon injuries with a properly designed strength and conditioning program.
- You can increase efficiency and recovery

INCREASE SELF CONFIDENCE

- Our players should feel as though you have prepared thoroughly and can play at a high level through the season

IMPROVE MENTAL TOUGHNESS

- You have to go through tough things to be tough. Challenge the body and mind to get out of its comfort zone.
- Being mentally tough is not getting too high or too low.
- Perform at high level consistently.

STRENGTH & CONDITIONING

We work very hard on our strength and conditioning as University of Iowa basketball players. We believe that the more explosive the player, the more aggressively he will play for you. Explosively conditioned basketball players tend to attack the basket more, rebound more, play tougher on defense and have more stamina in the last minutes of the game. Another key component that complements our explosiveness is paying strict attention to our movement patterns, flexibility, and recovery methods. These three things allow us to take care of our bodies to the fullest and allow us to come back day after day and consistently be an explosive, attacking player.

Rusty Burney, a Pella, IA native, was named an assistant strength and conditioning coach in February 2009. He designs individualized and sport specific strength and conditioning programs for men's basketball, track and field, and baseball. Burney came to the University of Iowa from Colgate University, where he served as the Head Strength and Conditioning Coach since June 2005. Burney was responsible for the strength and conditioning of 23 Division I athletic teams. While at Colgate, Burney trained six football All-Americans and numerous NHL Draft picks and professional hockey players. Colgate football won the 2005 and 2008 Patriot League titles and the 2005-06 ECAC Hockey League title. Burney also designed student-athlete competitions for the Lift for Life event to raise money for the Uplifting Athletes organization to benefit rare diseases. Prior to Colgate, Burney was on staff at the University of Tulsa where he served as assistant coordinator of strength and conditioning since 2001. At Tulsa, he was part of the 2001-02 and 02-03 WAC Men's Basketball Champion teams as well as the 2002 Tulsa football team that saw Division IA's biggest turnaround in wins from the previous season. Burney has also served as a graduate assistant strength coach at the University of Arkansas and an intern at Brigham Young University.

Burney is a 1997 graduate of Central College in Iowa, where he completed a bachelor's degree in physical education.

He holds CPR, CSCS, SCCC and USAW Level I Club Coach certifications.

UNIVERSITY OF IOWA HEALTH CARE

FOR MORE THAN 160 YEARS, UNIVERSITY OF IOWA HEALTH CARE PARTNERS HAVE PIONEERED AN IMPRESSIVE ARRAY OF MEDICAL ACHIEVEMENTS.

Many Iowa Hawkeye fans remember what happened on November 7, 2009. With an undefeated record on the year and riding a 13-game winning streak that dated back to 2008, their beloved Hawkeyes had jumped out to a 10-0 lead over the visitors from Northwestern University when the Wildcats' Corey Wootton sacked UI quarterback Ricky Stanzi in the north end zone, causing a fumble that the defenders recovered for a touchdown. Compounding the harm, the full weight of the 270-pound defensive end landed on the standout junior's right leg, knocking him out of the game and putting the remainder of Iowa's season in jeopardy.

Team physician Ned Amendola, MD, diagnosed Stanzi's injury as a high ankle sprain. One treatment option was to simply wait for the injury to heal.

"The problem with that approach is that it is a little bit unpredictable," explains Amendola. "The amount of time that it can take to get back to playing can vary from one or two weeks to several months."

The other option involved surgery. Stanzi chose to receive an advanced procedure called a tigtrope fixation.

"The surgery consists of doing an arthroscopic evaluation of the ankle and the injured ligament above the joint. We then stabilize the two bones that are involved in the sprain," said Amendola.

A high ankle sprain can be more troublesome than a routine sprained ankle because athletes find it more difficult to generate force and push off on the foot. The tigtrope fixation procedure offers the benefit of providing more stability to the joint and a more predictable recovery.

"Rick Stanzi was a great patient. He was very compliant with his rehabilitation," recalled Amendola. "His rehab was overseen by our athletic trainers, and it was that team effort that gets people back to competing effectively."

Stanzi added, "Right after we came back from our Thanksgiving break I was able to just jump into our bowl preparation, to go 100 percent and not worry about how my ankle was going to hold up."

With their leader back on the field, the Hawkeyes dominated the Orange Bowl game, winning 24-14 over Georgia Tech University in Land Shark Stadium in Miami, Florida, on January 5, 2010. Stanzi guided the offense to 21 first downs and over 400 yards of offense, throwing for 230 yards and two touchdowns.

Iowa Head Football Coach Kirk Ferentz says his starting quarterback's swift comeback is just one of the most recent examples of the high quality care available to UI student-athletes.

"It's always been an advantage for us in recruiting that we do have tremendous health care here for our student-athletes. Combine that with a world-class facility and it's just a great winning combination for us," remarked Ferentz.

"Going through something traumatizing to your body gives you much more appreciation for what we have here at this university," added Stanzi. "They care about the athletes. That just makes all of our athletes more healthy, not only now while you are playing at Iowa, but also once you get out of football. The medical staff puts a lot of care into making sure that players are handled the right way."

The secret behind Stanzi's Orange Bowl success is just one of the many examples of the myriad benefits that Iowans and others receive from the world-class health sciences expertise available from the University of Iowa's integrated academic medical center, University of Iowa Health Care, a partnership that includes:

University of Iowa Hospitals and Clinics, located directly across Hawkins Drive from Kinnick Stadium and one of the nation's top-ranked teaching hospitals University of Iowa Roy J. and Lucille A. Carver College of Medicine, an internationally recognized medical school University of Iowa Physicians and its network of outreach services to Iowans across the state

For more than 160 years, University of Iowa Health Care partners have pioneered an impressive array of medical achievements. Researchers in the UI Carver College of Medicine led breakthroughs in areas such as blood banking and buffered aspirin. That legacy of bold innovation continues today through efforts such as the use of cochlear implants that help the deaf to hear and cancer treatments that supercharge the patient's own immune system to more aggressively attack tumor cells.

UI Hospitals and Clinics provides a host of services that are not available at other hospitals in the state, including Iowa's only verified Burn Treatment Center, the state's most advanced NICU and only National Cancer Institute (NCI)-designated comprehensive cancer center, Holden Comprehensive Cancer Center. The Department of Emergency Medicine is home to Iowa's only emergency medicine residency program. The UI Trauma Center is the only facility in Iowa verified by the American College of Surgeons for treating both adults and children affected by the most severe, traumatic injuries.

University of Iowa Health Care specialists rank high when it comes to serving patients. In U.S. News & World Report's survey of "America's Best Hospitals", UI Hospitals and Clinics scored high marks across a range of clinical services, including the specialties of otolaryngology, ophthalmology and orthopaedics. More than 260 UI physicians appear on the "America's Best Doctors" database. UI Hospitals and Clinics was also the first hospital in Iowa to earn the prestigious Magnet Award that recognizes excellence in nursing care, and this year became the first hospital in Iowa to earn that recognition a second time.

This combination of a dedication to innovative research and devotion to excellent service helps achieve patient-centered outcomes that are unsurpassed. Teams of University of Iowa Health Care professionals are using techniques based on medical evidence to reduce mortality, decrease errors and maximize the quality of care received by patients.

ATHLETICS TRAINING FACILITY

THE CARVER-HAWKEYE ARENA ATHLETIC TRAINING FACILITY HAS BEEN COMPLETELY REMODELED

The Carver-Hawkeye Arena athletic training facility has been completely remodeled, allowing for the best care possible for Hawkeye student-athletes. The athletic training facility will be expanded and upgraded as part of the $47 million renovation of Carver-Hawkeye Arena.

CONSIDER WHAT THESE HAWKEYES ARE SAYING

When student-athletes are choosing the university and basketball program they want to be a part of, a number of considerations must go into that decision. A good measuring stick is listening to the people who know -- the players who are already members of the program.

When you hear what the current Hawkeyes have to say about the University of Iowa and the Hawkeye basketball program, you know, at Iowa you'll find the very best.

"I feel blessed to be a student-athlete at the University of Iowa."

From my first visit, I saw the passion and support all of Iowa has toward their teams. That excitement is contagious and I wanted to be a part of building something special.

Iowa City is a good community. It's a comfortable setting and close to home. Academically and socially, Iowa City has all the resources for college students to be successful.

Coach McCaffery and the whole staff have a strong vision for their program and I want to contribute to the program's success. I'm excited and honored to be a Hawkeye."

CULLY PAYNE
Sophomore Guard
Schaumburg, Illinois

"When I came to Iowa City on my unofficial visit, the summer before my senior year, I loved it; everything from the fans, the campus and the overall environment! I knew this is where I wanted to call my home for the next four to five years."

Other than being able to play in arguably the best conference in the country (Big Ten), Iowa also has an excellent academic program to offer. I have really become comfortable with Coach Fran McCaffery and his staff. I want to help get Iowa basketball back to the level it was when my father (Roy) and B.J. (Armstrong) were here."

ROY DEVYN MARBLE
Freshman Guard
Southfield, Michigan

"When I first visited the University of Iowa I knew right away it was the place for me. I could tell right away the coaches wanted to get this program back to where it belonged. I also noticed that the players wanted to succeed and it really made me want to be a Hawkeye."

One of the many reasons I chose Iowa was because of the tremendous fan support. I grew up a huge Hawkeye fan and I love that the fans are so loyal and passionate about their team. I am so excited to be able to play in Carver-Hawkeye Arena and have that type of home court advantage. We have the best fans in the country and I know that place will be rocking again.

Not only did I choose Iowa because of basketball, but also because of its outstanding academics. I took summer school before my first semester and was amazed at how much help I was able to get. It made my transition from high school to college so much easier."

ZACH MCCABE
Freshman Forward
Sioux City, Iowa

"Right away I could see how passionate the new coaching staff was and how much they want to succeed. Last year, my teammates helped me with the transition from high school basketball to college. My teammates are great; they want to win and are guys I can relate to."

I chose Iowa because of the coaching staff and the fans. Growing up in Iowa, and being a Hawkeye fan my whole life, I am aware of the energy that the fans can bring to the game. Along with having energy, the fans are loyal. I have been at games at Carver-Hawkeye when the stands are packed, and it's a spectacular experience. Those fans help make Iowa a tough team to play at home. I am excited to be a part of something that I have loved for so long.

I thought that getting used to college was going to be more difficult than it really was. With the help of those at the Learning Center I was able to take summer classes before my first semester. Whenever I had a question or problem with homework, those at the Learning Center were always there to help me. This helped me in getting used to college teaching."

ERIC MAY
Sophomore Guard/Forward
Dubuque, Iowa

"Growing up in Iowa City and being around the University of Iowa my entire life made it an easy decision for me to choose to play basketball for the Hawkeyes. This is a great community with great people and very passionate and loyal fans."

It has been a lot of fun getting to know Coach McCaffery and the new staff. They are a great group of guys and very knowledgeable about the game as well. They are a staff that has been around the game for many years and have been successful at different places. It's great knowing Coach has turned around three other programs in a short period of time as that is what I wish to do here at Iowa. Also, having someone like Ryan Bowen who played here and knows what being a Hawkeye is all about, as well as having NBA experience, is awesome. I am very excited about the opportunity to play for Coach McCaffery and this staff for the next two years and also build lasting relationships."

I love Carver-Hawkeye Arena and the facilities we have, and it's nice to know that we are adding a practice facility and upgrading our facilities in the very near future. Carver-Hawkeye Arena provides a great home court advantage on game night. It's loud and the fans are right on top of the action. It's a very tough place for visiting teams. Playing in front of 15,000 Hawkeye fans is a great experience."

MATT GATENS
Junior Guard
Iowa City, Iowa

"I'm extremely impressed with Coach McCaffery and his staff. I really like how they communicate so well with everyone. We are all excited about playing an up-tempo style of basketball. Our guys want to do this and have bought into his system. That's important in order to be successful. I think it's going to start this year and continue into the future. This is going to be an exciting year!"

I was attracted to Iowa by the fans and their loyal support. I came to a football game for my official visit. It was ridiculous as to how many fans were there and how much support they had for the team. I knew right away I wanted to be a part of a program where the entire community is involved, where the athletic program is looked up to and supported by everyone in the community and the state."

It has been easy to adjust to college life in Iowa City. When you go places, people know you and they are supportive and helpful. It gives you a good feeling, knowing that people care about you and the program. That's a plus for the University of Iowa."

CONSIDER WHY PARENTS LIKE IOWA

When student-athletes leave home to continue their basketball career and pursue a college degree, parents of those student-athletes want to know their son is enjoying all aspects of the collegiate environment. Parents of current and former Hawkeyes speak highly of the University of Iowa and the Hawkeye basketball program.

B.J. Armstrong continued his basketball career after an outstanding college career with the Hawkeyes. A first round selection in the NBA Draft, Armstrong helped the Chicago Bulls win three world championships in the 1990's during his 11-year NBA career. Armstrong was voted as a starter in the 1994 NBA all-star game.

Following his playing career Armstrong served as special assistant to the Executive Vice-President of Basketball Operations with the Bulls. He later served as an NBA analyst on ESPN and was a regular contributor to ESPN.com.

Armstrong currently serves as Vice-President of Basketball for the Wasserman Media Group, which is based in Los Angeles. Armstrong prepares clients for pre-draft workouts with NBA teams and identifies current NBA coaches to workout with WMG clients in preparation for pre-draft workouts with NBA organizations.

Devan Bawinkel, a 2010 University of Iowa graduate, earned his communication studies degree. Bawinkel's parents, Mary and Dave, were on hand to see Devan collect his diploma this past May.

"We always told B.J. that there's more to life than dribbling a basketball, so choose a school you'd be happy with if you weren't involved with athletics."

"We traveled to Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, and all over the Midwest, and there were always Iowa fans in the stands to cheer on the Hawkeyes. They support the basketball team at home and on the road. Iowa fans love basketball."

"We were pleased that B.J. decided to get away from the big city atmosphere and felt the experience of moving away from home would be good for him. The friendly people living in Iowa City sure made the transition an easy one. They are very special people who care about their community, their university and the Iowa basketball program."

MR. AND MRS. BENJAMIN ARMSTRONG

Parents of B.J. Armstrong, a member of the three-time World Champion Chicago Bulls who retired from the NBA following the 2000 season.

"My best memories of Iowa are the people, they were just fabulous, so warm, they made me feel comfortable. I couldn't have gone into a better situation."

I try to keep in touch with all the guys. It's good to see how much the university has grown and how things have changed. Iowa basketball will always have a place in my heart. I love the University of Iowa and know what it has meant to me personally."

Olivet Looby, mother of 2008 senior Kurt Looby, wasn't able to visit Iowa City from her home in Antigua very often during Kurt's playing career, but she was on hand in May, 2008 to see Kurt receive his degree from the University of Iowa.

HAWKEYE FAMILY ATMOSPHERE

When student-athletes join the basketball program at the University of Iowa, they do more than join a group of coaches and players. They join a program that exists as a family. The University of Iowa basketball program is a family of coaches and staff who combine with current and former student-athletes in creating one large family that is Iowa basketball.

It is that family atmosphere that helps the student-athletes endure the demands of the classroom, the daily workouts, the injuries, the frustrations, the setbacks, and enjoy the fruits of their labor, the beaches of Hawaii and the Virgin Islands, the sites of a summer tour in Australia, the personal victories over the daily challenges, the victories on the court, the Big Ten Tournament championship memories, and, at the end of the line, the college degree.

The Iowa basketball team has a lot of fun together, both on and off the court. Through the travels of the regular season and the trips that are made outside the course of the regular season, Hawkeye student-athletes spend a large amount of time during their careers with the Iowa coaching staff and their families, while also getting to know the former Hawkeye players who have remained in Iowa City and Eastern Iowa to establish their career after earning a degree from the University of Iowa.

Members of the Iowa basketball program take part in a summer tour once every four years, where players and coaches have the chance to travel around the world to work on their basketball skills in exhibition basketball games while discovering the cultures of other countries. In 2009, members of the Hawkeye program traveled to Greece and Italy.

CHRIS STREET GOLF OUTING KEEPS ALL HAWKEYES TOGETHER

The Iowa Basketball Golf Classic in memory of Chris Street is held each fall to honor one of Iowa's all-time great basketball players. A full field of over 240 golfers each year includes a number of basketball celebrities who return to Iowa City each fall for a day of golf and friendship that provides funding for one of Iowa's 16 endowed scholarships.

Former Hawkeye basketball players Ryan Bowen, J.R. Koch, Jess Settles and Kent McCausland pose for a photo with Coach Fran McCaffery at the 2010 Chris Street Golf Classic.

Former Hawkeye Michael Morgan putts for birdie, while James Moses, Ryan Luehrsmann and Assistant Coach Sherman Dillard look on at this past summer's golf outing.

"I think the Iowa family is extremely unique; there's an incredible closeness. It's my desire to continually get to know the former Hawkeye players and make them feel welcome when they come back."

IOWA HEAD COACH | FRAN MCCAFFERY

"We want to play an up-tempo style, push the ball, attack the basket and catch the defense off balance."

BASKETBALL

HAWKEYE STYLE

Playing with passion and a love of the game: pushing the ball and aggressively attacking the basket; finding the open teammate; changing defense and disrupting the rhythm of the opponents; sinking the open 3-pointer; and helping out teammates

When you add those components together, they add up to Iowa basketball, a style of basketball that is all-out fun for 40 minutes, a style of play that is exciting to watch, but more importantly, a style of basketball that players love to play.

As the Iowa Hawkeyes head into the 2010-11 season, the first under Coach Fran McCaffery and his coaching staff, Iowa basketball enters a new era that features exciting and fun basketball that players enjoy playing and fans enjoying watching.

"I believe Hawkeye fans will enjoy our style of basketball. We are going to compete and play the game the right way. We want to play an up-tempo style, push the ball, attack the basket and catch the defense off balance. We want to score in the 80s and 90s. Defensively, we will want to change defenses and disrupt rhythm. We want to give Hawkeye fans an exciting style of basketball to watch. Our players are going to have fun and enjoy what they do on the floor."

"We have a solid foundation and a tremendous environment to work with as we look to build on our 22 NCAA Tournament appearances and two Big Ten Tournament championships. We embrace the Hawkeye tradition and look forward to the challenges ahead."

FRAN MCCAFFERY
Head Coach
University of Iowa

Fran McCaffery, who has 32 years of Division I basketball experience, took over the Iowa basketball program in 2010 after rebuilding three basketball programs as a head coach. McCaffery became just the 31st coach (15th active) to take three different programs to the NCAA Tournament. He is the first to do so with three programs (Lehigh, UNC-Greensboro and Siena) from one-bid leagues.

McCaffery has assembled one of the most experienced coaching staffs in the nation at the University of Iowa. Kirk Speraw, Sherman Dillard and Andrew Francis have over six decades of combined coaching experience.

During his most recent stint at Siena, McCaffery led the Saints to three straight regular season championships and NCAA Tournament appearances. In doing so, Siena became the only program in the nation to win its regular season and postseason title the last three years.

McCaffery guided Siena to three consecutive NCAA Tournament appearances the last three seasons, advancing to the second round in 2008 and 2009, notching wins over Vanderbilt and Ohio State.

In five seasons as the head coach at Siena, McCaffery led his team to an average of better than 22 victories per year, including back-to-back 27-win campaigns in 2009 and 2010. McCaffery was recognized for his team's success being named 2009 MAAC Coach of the Year and 2010 NABC District I Coach of the Year.

McCaffery has served as a head coach for 14 seasons. Ten of his 14 teams boasted third place or better finishes in their respective conference, including capturing league titles four times. McCaffery coached teams have competed in five NCAA Tournaments and one NIT.

Consider these facts about Fran McCaffery and his coaching career:

He was named MAAC Coach of the Year in 2009 and District I Coach of the Year in 2010 by the National Association of Basketball Coaches.

In 14 seasons as a college head coach, Fran McCaffery's teams have averaged 18 wins per year. While at Siena, the Saints averaged over 22 victories during his five-year tenure.

Every student-athlete that completed their eligibility under Head Coach Fran McCaffery has graduated and earned a degree.

In 14 seasons as a head coach, has led his teams to five conference tournament championships and six postseason appearances.

Fran McCaffery's first head coaching position was at Lehigh. Hired in 1985 when he was 26 years-old, McCaffery was the nation's youngest Division I head coach.

He led Siena to perfect 17-0 home records in each of his last two seasons. Also, McCaffery is the only coach in UNCG history to win 11 games at home in a single season.

Matt Gatens has earned all-Big Ten recognition his first two seasons, earning all-conference freshman honors in 2009 and honorable mention all-league accolades in 2010.

PLAYER DEVELOPMENT

Commitment to Excellence

The Iowa basketball program is committed to excellence. The Iowa coaching staff provides the teaching, resources and total commitment necessary for Hawkeye student-athletes to reach their fullest potential, both on the court and in their pursuit of a complete education.

Working with the coaching staff on a daily basis throughout the year, members of the Iowa basketball program are able to take advantage of the outstanding facilities, all located within Carver-Hawkeye Arena, so that full potential is reached.

Head Coach Fran McCaffery, along with all members of the coaching staff, strength and conditioning staff, athletic training staff, and academic advisors, work with Iowa student-athletes on a daily basis, assuring that each individual receives the assistance they need to meet and exceed their goals and expectations.

This commitment to develop Hawkeye players to their fullest potential begins immediately at the start of each fall semester. Prior to the official start of practice in October, players and coaches work on basketball fundamentals and strength and conditioning right from the start of the semester.

The Iowa commitment to reach full potential continues at the end of each season. During the spring semester, following a short break at the end of the season, strength training and conditioning and basketball fundamental drills continue through the spring and summer.

Iowa has one of the most experienced coaching staff's in the country. Coach McCaffery has nearly 30 years of Division I college basketball coaching experience, while he is complemented by over six decades of combined coaching experience from assistant coaches Kirk Speraw, Sherman Dillard and Andrew Francis.

PROFESSIONAL BASKETBALL

and the Iowa Hawkeyes

Former Hawkeyes Matt Bullard, B.J. Armstrong and Bob Hansen have all won NBA championships. A successful career in the NBA and professional basketball is an opportunity that awaits Hawkeye basketball players.

The Iowa basketball program has been well represented in the NBA championship over the years. In fact, former Hawkeyes have won 13 world championships while in the NBA. That list includes Don Nelson, Fred Brown, John Johnson, B.J. Armstrong, Bob Hansen and Matt Bullard. From point guards to the big guys in the middle, Iowa basketball continues to prepare its student-athletes for an opportunity to compete in the NBA and professional basketball leagues around the world.

More than 10 former Hawkeye players are currently active in professional basketball leagues in foreign countries and as many as 40 former University of Iowa players have played overseas in the last 25 years.

Continuing the tradition, Iowa has had five players selected in the first two rounds of the NBA Draft over the past 13 years, including 2007 senior Adam Haluska, a first team all-Big Ten selection who was selected by New Orleans. Furthermore, Iowa is also one of five major basketball programs to have as many as three former players who have had their NBA jerseys retired.

CONSIDER A PROFESSIONAL BASKETBALL CAREER

When a student-athlete excels on the basketball court at the University of Iowa, he gets noticed. He gets noticed by the thousands of fans in Carver-Hawkeye Arena and arenas where the Hawkeyes play; by the vast number of media who follow the Iowa basketball program; by the millions of college basketball fans watching the Hawkeyes on nationally televised games; and by scouts for the franchises of the National Basketball Association.

1 - B.J. ARMSTRONG, AN NBA ALL-STAR

B.J. Armstrong had an outstanding career at Iowa, ranking second in career assists and three-point field goals. B.J. was a 1989 first round draft choice of the Chicago Bulls and the 18th player selected overall. Armstrong was a three-time all-Big Ten selection and 1989 all-American.

Armstrong moved into the starting line-up as Chicago's point guard in 1993 as the Bulls won their third straight NBA championship. Armstrong led the NBA in 3-point field goal percentage (.453) that season and was a starting guard in the NBA All-Star Game in 1994. Armstrong retired from the NBA following the 2000 season. He is a member of Iowa's all-Century team.

Armstrong is currently the Vice President of Basketball for the Wasserman Media Group, where his role includes assisting potential NBA Draft selections in preparing for the NBA Draft and assisting in developing WMG's NBA Draft strategy.

"Playing in the Big Ten as a member of the basketball team at the University of Iowa certainly enhanced my opportunities for an NBA career. The Big Ten Conference offers a student-athlete the very best in facilities and competition."

2 - MATT BULLARD

A two-year starter for the Iowa Hawkeyes, Matt Bullard spent nine seasons with the Houston Rockets before moving to the Charlotte (now New Orleans) Hornets prior to the 2001 season. Bullard, a long-range shooting specialist, earned his NBA championship ring when the Rockets claimed the 1994 NBA championship. Bullard's career 3-point field goal percentage ranks among NBA leaders.

Now retired from the NBA, Bullard serves as an analyst for Houston Rocket games, putting his University of Iowa communications degree to good use. He reached the finals of ESPN's "Dream Job" competition, in which ESPN interviewed former professional athletes for the opportunity to be an ESPN anchorman.

3 - ACIE EARL

Center Acie Earl enjoyed an outstanding senior season in 1993, leading the Hawkeyes into the second round of the NCAA Tournament and a 23-9 overall record. Earl was selected in the first round of the NBA Draft by the Boston Celtics, the 19th selection overall.

1 • BOB HANSEN

Bob Hansen, a member of the 1992 NBA champion Chicago Bulls, was a four-year letterman at Iowa and member of the 1980 Final Four team. Hansen played a key role for Chicago in the 1992 playoffs, helping spark a fourth quarter rally while subbing for Michael Jordan in the sixth and final game of the championship series. Hansen serves as color analyst for the Hawkeye Radio Network on all Iowa men's basketball games.

2 • RYAN BOWEN

After a stellar four-year career with the Hawkeyes, Ryan Bowen was selected by Denver in the second round of the 1998 NBA Draft. Joining the Nuggets after one season of professional basketball in Turkey, Bowen was a very popular team member in Denver. He played in 52 games for the Nuggets in 2003-04 and started 31 games the previous season. Bowen joined the Houston Rockets in 2005, starting six games while playing in 66 outings. Bowen started three games for the Rockets in the 2005 playoffs. He started 19 of the 68 games in which he played for the Rockets in 2006 before missing the majority of the 2007 season due to injury.

Bowen joined New Orleans prior to the 2007-08 season and re-signed with the Hornets for the 2008-09 season. Bowen shot 49% from the field while seeing action in 53 games in his first season in New Orleans as the Hornets advanced to the NBA playoffs. In total, Bowen played 11 seasons of professional basketball. The native of Fort Madison is now on the Iowa basketball staff as its video coordinator and administrative assistant.

3 • REGGIE EVANS

Signing as a free agent with Seattle prior to the 2002-03 season, Reggie Evans made an immediate impact in the NBA. Working his way into the starting line-up, Evans started 60 games as a rookie. Evans led Seattle in rebounds per game (6.6 avg.) and ranked seventh in the NBA in rebounds per 48 minutes (15.6) as a rookie. In his second season he played in 75 games averaging 5.4 rebounds per outing.

In 2005, Evans started all 79 games in which he played, including 11 playoff games, averaging 9.3 rebounds per game. He ranked 12th in the NBA in rebound average and for the second time in three seasons led the league in rebounds per minute (18.8).

Evans averaged 5.9 points and 6.7 rebounds in 41 games in 2006 before being traded to Denver, where he played in 26 games and averaged 5.2 points and 8.7 rebounds. Evans played in 66 games for the Nuggets in 2007, with 11 starts. He averaged seven rebounds and 4.9 points per game while shooting 54.4% from the field.

Evans played in Philadelphia for two seasons (2007-09). He started 68 games, averaging 6.1 rebounds and 4.3 points a game in his two years with the 76'ers. Evans increased those averages to 6.8 points and 7.8 rebounds in the 2008 playoffs. A year ago, he played 28 games for his fourth NBA team, the Toronto Raptors. Overall, Evans has averaged 6.7 rebounds per game in his nine-year NBA career.

"I used to like to get up early in the morning and go to the (Iowa) football games. I could go on and on about the University of Iowa because that was the best time in my whole life."

REGGIE EVANS

Nine-year NBA veteran

4 • RICKY DAVIS

Choosing to pursue a professional career after his freshman year at Iowa, Ricky Davis was a first round selection of the Charlotte Hornets in the 1998 NBA Draft. After spending the first two years of his NBA career with Charlotte, Davis played in Miami before coming into his own with Cleveland. Davis was traded to the Boston Celtics during the 2003-04 season. He averaged 14.4 points and 4.5 rebounds a game in 2004, playing 22 games in Cleveland and 57 games with the Celtics. He led Cleveland in scoring at 20.6 points per game in 2003. Spending the entire 2005 season in Boston, Davis averaged 16 points and three rebounds per outing. In 2006, Davis averaged 19.1 points and 4.6 rebounds in the final 36 games of the season after being traded to Minnesota. In 2007, Davis averaged 17 points, 4.8 assists and 3.9 rebounds while starting all 81 games in which he played for the Timberwolves, averaging over 37 minutes a game.

Davis returned to Miami for the 2007-08 season, starting 47 games while playing in all 82 games for the Heat. He averaged 13.8 points, 4.3 rebounds and 3.4 assists per game. Davis played 36 games for the Los Angeles Clippers in 2008-09 before signing a professional contract in March 2010, to play overseas in Turkey.

1 • JARED REINER

Despite missing the second half of his senior season due to injury, Jared Reiner signed a free agent contract with the Chicago Bulls and spent his entire rookie season in Chicago. Reiner saw action throughout the season and earned two starts during the year. Reiner also played for San Antonio, Phoenix, Milwaukee and Minnesota in the NBA. Reiner played professional basketball overseas in Germany and Spain, and most recently in Puerto Rico in 2010.

ANDRE WOOLRIDGE

As a Hawkeye senior in 1997, point guard Andre Woolridge led the Big Ten Conference in both scoring and assists, becoming the first player in Big Ten history to lead the league in both categories. Woolridge has continued his professional basketball career overseas for the past 11 years. He is a member of Iowa's all-Century team.

2 • DEAN OLIVER

Dean Oliver signed a free agent contract with Golden State prior to the 2001-02 NBA season, and saw action in 20 games during his rookie season. Oliver was a three-time MVP during his Iowa career. He is one of three players in Big Ten history to surpass 1,500 career points, 500 assists and 200 steals. After missing the majority of the 2003-04 season due to injury, Oliver resumed his professional basketball career by competing in one of the top professional leagues in Europe. He most recently played for a professional team in Belgium.

3 • KEVIN GAMBLE

Kevin Gamble, a key member in Iowa's record-shattering 30-5 season in 1987, enjoyed a lengthy NBA career after being drafted by the Portland Trailblazers. In 1991, Gamble played a key role as a starter for the Boston Celtics, ranking among the NBA's leaders in field goal percentage. He was voted the second most improved player in the NBA in 1990-91.

4 • ADAM HALUSKA

In three years as a Hawkeye Adam Haluska scored 1,578 points, best among all Iowa players who played three seasons. Haluska led the Big Ten Conference in scoring (20.5) as a senior, earning first team all-Big Ten honors before being selected by New Orleans in the second round of the 2007 NBA Draft. He averaged 18.7 points a game while closing the 2008 season with the Iowa Energy in the NBA Developmental League. He also played Israel a couple years ago. This fall Haluska, signed a free agent contract with the Dallas Mavericks.

Haluska also excelled in the classroom, being named the Academic all-American of the Year in Division I basketball as a senior while three times earning academic all-America recognition.

"I will forever remember my days as a Hawkeye and I will always consider myself blessed to have worn Iowa on my jersey. There is no better place to play big time college basketball. The people and fans of Iowa made my college experience one that I will never forget."

GREG BRUNNER

After a stellar career at Iowa in which he totaled 1,516 points and 990 rebounds, Greg Brunner enjoyed two productive seasons playing professionally in Belgium. The native of Charles City, IA, helped the 2006 Hawkeyes win the Big Ten Conference Tournament while posting a 25-9 overall record. He has continued his professional career overseas in Italy.

1 - JEFF HORNER

Jeff Horner, another senior in 2006 and Iowa's career assist leader, played in Belgium in 2007, averaging 9.7 points and 3.1 assists in helping his team reach the championship game. Horner completed his Hawkeye career with 1,502 points and 612 assists. He was named Most Outstanding Player after leading Iowa to the 2006 Big Ten Tournament title. Horner last played for the Iowa Energy in the NBA Developmental League, averaging 11.5 points, 6.3 assists and 4.5 rebounds per game.

2 - DOUG THOMAS

Forward Doug Thomas left his mark as a senior in 2006, earning "Sixth Man of the Year" honors in the Big Ten Conference while helping the Hawkeyes win 25 games and the Big Ten Conference Tournament. Thomas competed in Switzerland in 2007 before being invited to camp with the NBA's Phoenix Suns. He averaged 10.4 points and 6.3 rebounds while playing in the NBA Developmental League in 2008. Thomas played for Reno in the Developmental League a year ago.

A CAREER IN THE NBA

Additional former Iowa basketball standouts have enjoyed NBA careers beyond their playing days. Former Hawkeye Don Nelson, former long time general manager and head coach of the Dallas Mavericks, returned in 2006-07 as the head coach of the Golden State Warriors. Nelson retired as the Dallas head coach following the 2005 season after leading his team to the NBA playoffs in each of his last five seasons. Nelson led the Warriors to an excellent season in 2007, including a playoff series win over the Dallas Mavericks, marking the first win ever for an eight seed over a top-seeded team.

DON NELSON

Don Nelson, Iowa's MVP in three successive seasons, also had a great career as a player in the NBA, scoring more than 10,000 points for the Boston Celtics. In 31 years as an NBA coach he has been honored as Coach of the Year three different times. Nelson is the NBA's all-time winningest coach (1,335) and ranks second in games coached (2,398).

Nelson was the head coach of Dream Team II, guiding the United States to the Gold medal at the 1994 World Championships. In 2001, he was selected to Iowa's all-Century team.

"The Big Ten was rated the No. 1 conference in the country when I played at Iowa and is still considered the premier league to NBA scouts."

DON NELSON

3 - RONNIE LESTER

Ronnie Lester earned all-American honors at Iowa while leading the Hawkeyes to the 1979 Big Ten title and the 1980 Final Four. Following his NBA playing career Lester remained in the NBA. He was an NBA scout for 14 years and is currently vice-president for the Los Angeles Lakers. Lester, the 10th player selected in the 1980 NBA Draft, is a member of the National Iowa Varsity Club Hall of Fame and Iowa's all-Century team.

4 - BRAD LOHAUS

Brad Lohaus found new life as a Hawkeye senior in 1987. The seven-foot Lohaus led Iowa in rebounding and blocked shots, in addition to being one of five Hawkeyes to average in double figures as Iowa posted a school-record 30 victories.

Lohaus was drafted by the Boston Celtics in the second round of the 1987 NBA Draft. Lohaus enjoyed a lengthy NBA career, spending five seasons in the middle of his career with the Milwaukee Bucks. He concluded his playing career with the San Antonio Spurs. The Lohaus family has established an endowed scholarship that goes to a member of the Hawkeye basketball team each season.

GREG STOKES

Greg Stokes was selected in the second round (33rd overall pick) by the Philadelphia 76ers in the 1985 NBA Draft. The 6-10 forward/center played two seasons for the 76ers and Sacramento Kings. After his stint in the NBA, Stokes played professionally in Italy and Australia. A three-team all-Big Ten honoree, Stokes ranks third in Hawkeye career scoring and second in blocked shots. His son is a freshman on the Iowa basketball team this year.

HAWKEYES IN PROFESSIONAL BASKETBALL

Following is a list of former Iowa players, with latest location, who are participating in professional basketball outside the United States. In addition to the players who are currently in action, more than 25 former Hawkeyes have played professional basketball overseas in the past 25 years:

UI GRAD ALL-TIME WINNINGEST COACH IN NBA HISTORY

Don Nelson Achieves Milestone Victory in 2010

When Don Nelson left the University of Iowa after the 1962 season, his 1,522 points were the most ever scored by a Hawkeye men's basketball player. When Nelson steps away from coaching in the National Basketball Association, his victory total will also be unmatched.

When the Golden State Warriors defeated Minnesota, 116-107, on April 7, 2010 in Minneapolis, Nelson surpassed Lenny Wilkins as the NBA's winningest coach. In 31 seasons with Milwaukee, Golden State, New York and Dallas, Nelson has compiled a career record of 1,335-1,063 (55.7 winning percentage). He has been named coach of the year three times.

"It's such a great feeling," Nelson told reporters after the milestone win. "This is probably why we end up coaching, for moments like this."

Nelson remains No. 10 on the UI career scoring charts and his points per game average (21.2) is better than any former Hawkeye in the top 21 in career points. Sam Williams (No. 22 in points, 1,176) averaged 24 points per game from 1966-68 and John Johnson (No. 23 in points, 1,172) averaged 23.9 points per game from 1968-70.

Playing for head coach Sharm Scheuerman, Nelson led the Hawkeyes to a 14-10 record in 1959-60 and followed that with an 18-6 mark in 1960-61. During Nelson's senior season (1961-62), Iowa posted its third consecutive winning season at 13-11.

Nelson was born in Muskegon, MI, and moved to Rock Island, IL, where he had a successful high school playing career. He was a two-time All-American at the UI and was drafted by the Chicago Zephyrs with the first pick of the third round in the 1962 NBA Draft. He also played for the Los Angeles Lakers and the Boston Celtics. It was with the Celtics where Nelson was part of five NBA champion teams: 1966, '68, '69, '74 and '76. His jersey No. 19 was retired by Boston in 1978 (Nelson wore No. 15 with the Hawkeyes).

Nelson's first head coaching job in the NBA was with the Bucks in 1976. He coached there for 11 seasons (nine winning seasons, 43 playoff victories) before joining Golden State for the 1988-89 season. The Warriors made the playoffs four times from 1989-94. Nelson coached one season with the New York Knicks, but he resigned after 59 games (and 34 wins). From 1997-2005 Nelson was on the bench in Dallas before resigning during the 2004-05 season while the Mavericks had a record of 42-22. He began his second shift with Golden State in 2006.

With Nelson as head coach, the Bucks won seven straight Midwest/Central Division championships from 1979-86. The Mavericks won the Midwest Division in 2002-03. Nelson coached Milwaukee in three conference finals and Dallas in one. In 2003, Nelson and the Mavericks were ousted by eventual champion San Antonio, 4-2.

Nelson still holds the UI record with 21 free throw attempts against Indiana on Feb. 17, 1962. His career-high in points was 39 against Wisconsin in 1962. During his final two seasons, Nelson led the Hawkeyes in points, rebounds, field goal percentage and free throw percentage.

Former Hawkeye, Don Nelson, became the all-time winningest basketball coach in the National Basketball Association on April 7, 2010. Nelson has collected 1,335 NBA victories in his 31 seasons on the sidelines.

SUCCESS IN THE POST SEASON

Along with winning Big Ten Conference tournament titles in 2001 and 2006, the Iowa Hawkeyes have posted an overall 13-11 record in the postseason tournament. Along with the two championships, the Hawkeyes also reached the title game in 2002. The 13 tournament victories are the fourth most in the league.

Under the direction of Coach Fran McCaffery, Siena won three consecutive MAAC regular season and tournament championships, earning automatic berths to the NCAA Tournament. In doing so, Siena became the only program in the country to win its regular season and postseason title in each of the last three years. Coach McCaffery led the Saints to 23 victories in 2008, and 27 in both 2009 and 2010, advancing to the NCAA Tournament Second Round in 2008 and 2009.

The University of Iowa basketball team has proven it knows what it takes to be ready to play when tournament time approaches at the end of the season. As the second seed in 2006, Iowa defeated Minnesota and Michigan State to advance to the title game. In the championship, Iowa defeated regular season champion Ohio State for the second time in two meetings, as the teams met just once during the regular season. In the title game, Iowa rallied from a 37-34 halftime deficit for a 67-60 win.

Iowa is one of five Big Ten teams to have won more than one tournament title and only three teams have earned more appearances in the title contest.

Not only did the Hawkeyes win four games in four days to win the 2001 Big Ten Tournament in Chicago, but they nearly repeated the feat in 2002 in Indianapolis, reaching the championship game for the second straight season before falling to Ohio State in the title game.

Iowa's run to the 2001 Big Ten Tournament championship saw the Hawkeyes become the first team in the history of the event to win four games in four days. The sixth-seed at the start of the event, Iowa became the lowest seed to earn the tournament title.

In 2002, as the ninth-seeded team at the start of the tournament, the Hawkeyes almost repeated their remarkable run through the rest of the Big Ten. Iowa began play in the 2002 tournament with an 87-72 win over Purdue, and followed that with a 58-56 win over Wisconsin in the quarter-finals. The third win was a 62-60 decision over Indiana, a team that had defeated Iowa twice during the regular season and would go on to play in the NCAA championship game. The streak ended with an 81-64 loss to Ohio State.

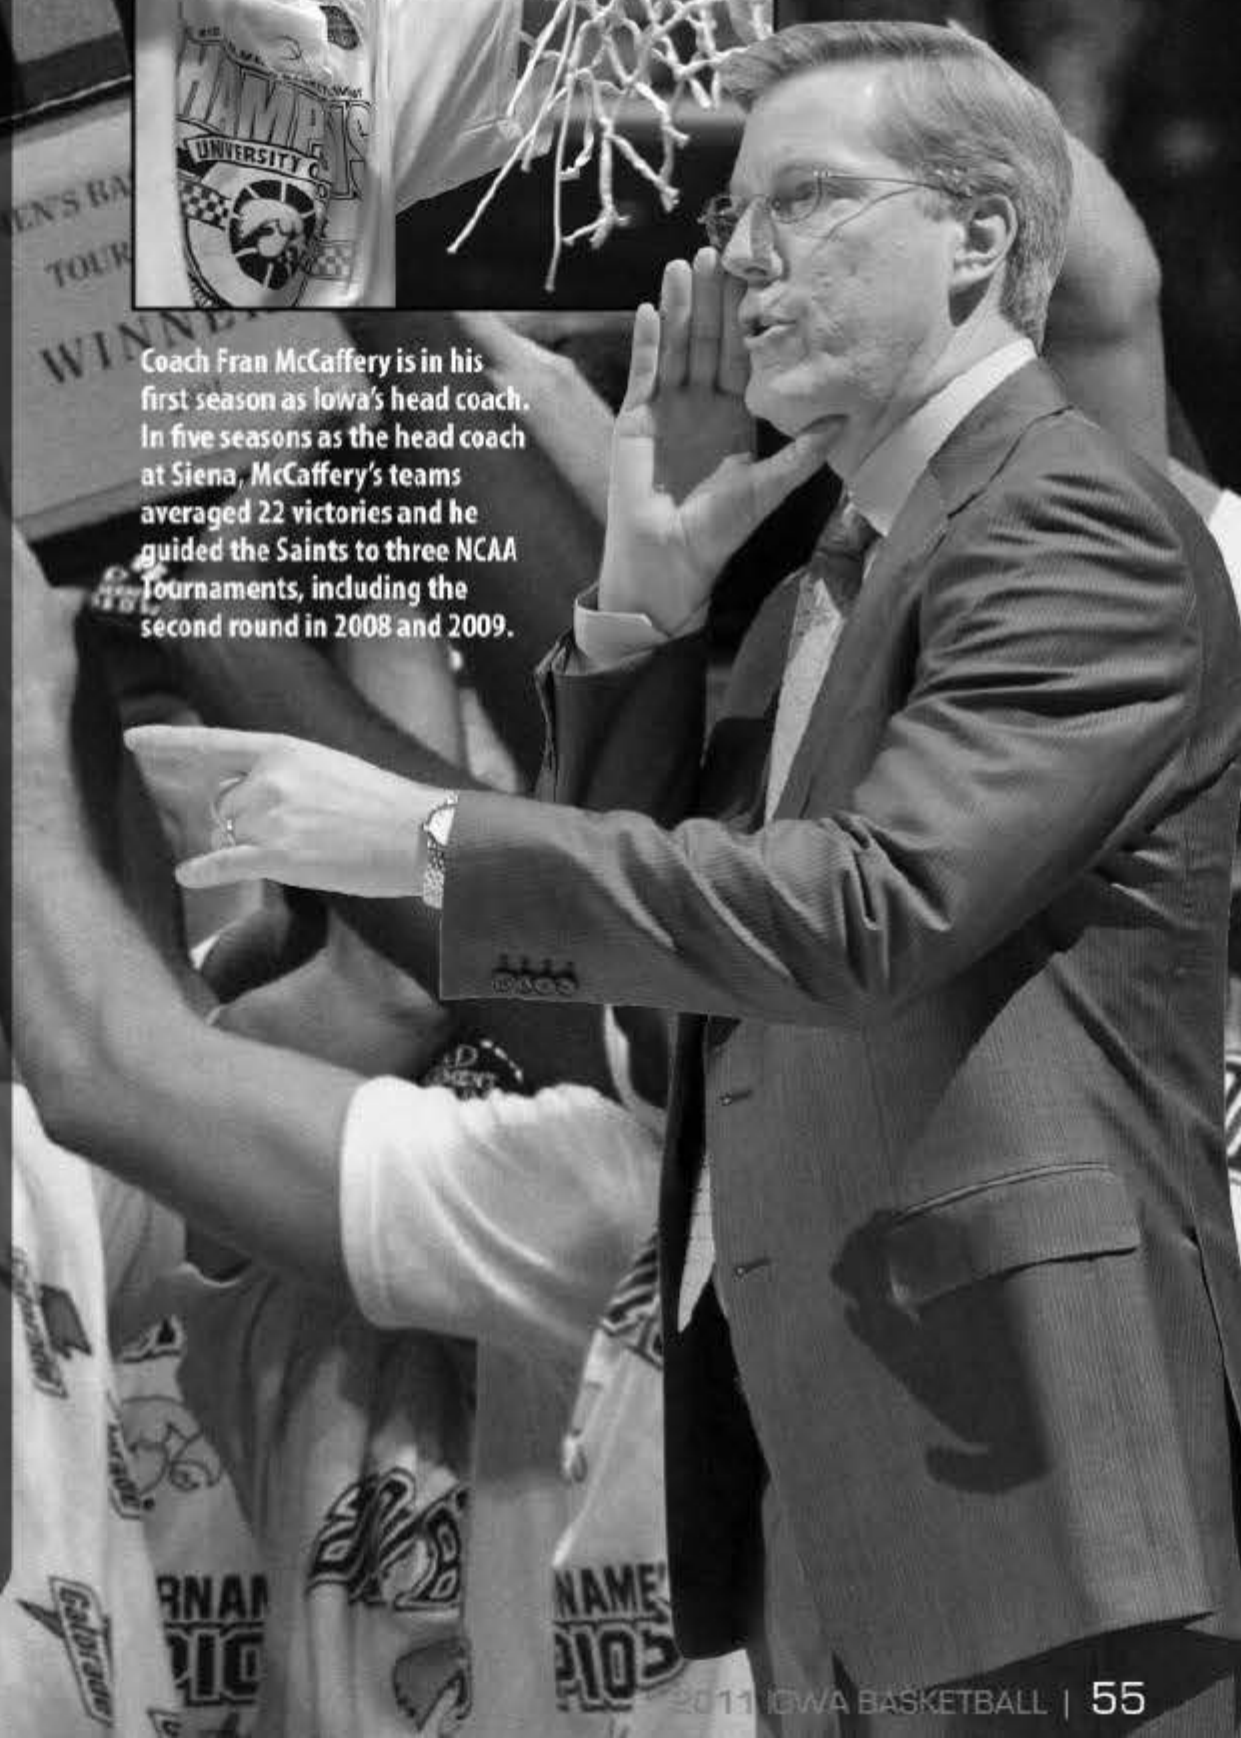

The Hawkeyes nearly returned to the final game in 2005. After opening with a convincing 71-52 win over Purdue, Iowa advanced to the semi-finals with a 71-69 win over Michigan State, one of two Big Ten teams that would advance to the Final Four. It was more of the same in the semi-finals as Iowa rallied to tie Wisconsin in the final seconds. Only a last-second, 30-foot heave for the winning basket by the Badgers kept Iowa from overtime and a possible win that would have matched the Hawkeyes against top-ranked Illinois in the tournament championship.

McCaffery, in his first season at Iowa, knows what it takes to win. He became just the 31st coach (15th active) to take three different programs to the NCAA Tournament after winning their conference tournament. Furthermore, McCaffery is the first to do so with three programs (Lehigh, UNC-Greensboro and Siena) from one-bid leagues. In his 14 seasons as a head coach, he has led his teams to five conference tournament championships and six postseason appearances.

Senior guard Jeff Horner was named tournament MVP as Iowa defeated Minnesota, Michigan State and top-seeded Ohio State to win the 2006 Big Ten Tournament.

Coach Fran McCaffery is in his first season as Iowa's head coach. In five seasons as the head coach at Siena, McCaffery's teams averaged 22 victories and he guided the Saints to three NCAA Tournaments, including the second round in 2008 and 2009.

BIG TEN IS BIG TIME

Basketball

The Big Ten Conference personifies big-time college basketball. The Big Ten has always been considered one of the premier basketball conferences in America. An average of six teams from the Big Ten have been invited to the NCAA Tournament over the past 10 years, including a high of seven Big Ten Conference teams in 1994, 1999, 2001 and 2009.

Two Big Ten teams advanced to the Final Four in 1999, 2000 and 2005. Furthermore, the Big Ten has been represented at the Final Four, four of the last six seasons. Michigan State has reached the pinnacle of college basketball four times the last decade, including winning the championship in 2000 and finishing runner-up in 2009. Three other Big Ten squads earned runner-up honors the past decade: Indiana (2002), Illinois (2005) and Ohio State (2007).

The Big Ten Conference has had 196 teams participate in the NCAA Championships since the tournament's inception. Big Ten Conference teams have made 41 Final Four appearances, which ranks second close behind the Atlantic Coast Conference (42 appearances) for the most among all leagues. The Big Ten ranks second with 307 NCAA Tournament victories and second with 10 NCAA titles. The conference boasts a winning percentage in NCAA Tournament play that is well over 60 percent. In a testimony to the balance of power in the Big Ten, the Big Ten is the only conference, since 1990, to advance five different programs to the Final Four.

The Big Ten has led the nation in attendance each year since 1977, a streak of 34 straight years. In each of the past 18 years, well over two million fans have watched Big Ten basketball games, with the total reaching more than 2.4 million in each of the past four seasons.

Overall, a staggering nine Big Ten schools ranked among the top 50 in the country in home attendance last season, including the Iowa Hawkeyes.

Iowa Consistently Among Nation's Best

Over the past 31 seasons, Iowa has been a fixture in the Associated Press Top 20, making an appearance in the national rankings in 25-of-31 seasons. In fact, only six teams in the nation have appeared in the AP Top 20 each year more than the Iowa Hawkeyes.

The Big Ten Conference: An NCAA Tournament Leader

While some conferences boast recent NCAA Tournament success, the Big Ten has long been a dominant force in postseason play. The Big Ten ranks among the leaders in NCAA Tournament victories, Final Four appearances and NCAA Tournament winning percentage. Just take a look at the numbers and judge the strength of the Big Ten as an NCAA Tournament leader yourself.

Quality Competition: Another Big Ten Bonus

It is often said that in order to be the best, you have to play the best. If one of your goals is to develop your athletic talent to its fullest potential, you'll probably never be successful unless you seek the highest level of competition. That competition is available at the University of Iowa.

At Iowa, you'll compete in the Big Ten Conference -- annually one of the toughest college basketball conferences in the country today -- and face the challenge of matching your talents against the toughest competition in collegiate basketball week in and week out. Furthermore, in 2011-12, the league will become even stronger when Nebraska joins the conference.

"The addition of Nebraska is an extremely exciting development for the Big Ten, and especially for Hawkeye student-athletes, coaches, and supporters. I expect Iowa and Nebraska to quickly develop a healthy athletic rivalry that will stir the passions of our respective fans and captivate the region and the nation. Much of what makes college athletics great involves the rivalries that develop over the years, and the Hawkeyes and Cornhuskers are a natural to grow into one of the nation's next marquee rivalries."

GARY BARTA

Director of Athletics

The Big Ten Conference has annually been regarded as the strongest basketball conference in the nation. Iowa's regular season schedule, as well, ranks as one of the strongest in the nation.

Each year, the Big Ten Conference showcases its strength, and its depth. Big Ten co-champion Michigan State advanced to the Final Four for the second consecutive year in 2010.

Big Ten teams won 12 games in the 2005 NCAA Tournament, advancing two teams to the Final Four for the third time in the last 11 years. Big Ten teams won eight NCAA Tournament games each of the last two years.

Iowa's non-conference schedule is always filled with challenging tests. Along with taking part in the annual Big Ten/ACC Challenge, Iowa annually plays additional college basketball powers from other major conferences. Below are a few of the teams the Hawkeyes have faced recently:

Alabama	Iowa State	Stanford
Arizona	Kansas	Tennessee
Arizona State	Kansas State	Texas
Arkansas	Kentucky	Texas Tech
Boston	Maryland	Wake Forest
Connecticut	Missouri	West Virginia
Duke	North Carolina	Virginia Tech
Georgia Tech	North Carolina State	Xavier

The Hawkeyes and the National Polls

Iowa has been a fixture in the national rankings, moving to the very top in 1987, while opening the season with 18 straight wins. The Hawkeyes began the 2005-06 season in the rankings, and quickly made a name for themselves with a win over ninth-ranked Kentucky and a narrow loss to second-ranked Texas in the Guardians (CBE) Classic.

HAWKEYES ANNUALLY APPEAR IN NATION'S BEST TOURNAMENTS

Throughout the years, Iowa has made its mark in "Big Time" tournaments around the world. The Hawkeyes won the Maui Invitational in 1987-88, the Great Alaska Shootout in 1986-87, the San Juan Thanksgiving Shootout in 1992-93 and the San Juan Christmas Shootout in 1997-98. Iowa was second at the Maui Invitational in 2005, the Rainbow Classic in 1994-95, The Great Alaska Shootout in 1995-96, the IKON Coaches vs. Cancer Classic in 2000 and the Guardians (CBE) Classic in 2002 and 2006.

The Hawkeyes participated in the Paradise Jam in the Virgin Islands four seasons ago and competed in the Last Vegas Invitational in 2008. This November, Iowa is eager to make a return trip to the Virgin Islands for the 2010 Paradise Jam. The Hawkeyes open tournament play against Xavier, a team that advanced to the Sweet 16 a year ago. Iowa will then advance to play either Seton Hall or Alabama. Clemson, Long Beach State, Old Dominion or St. Peter's will be Iowa's final opponent in bracket play.

In 2006, Iowa placed second in the Guardians (CBE) Classic, falling to second-ranked Texas in the championship game. Iowa had advanced to the title game with a 67-63 win over ninth-ranked Kentucky.

In 2005, Iowa placed second in the EA Sports Maui Invitational, falling to North Carolina, the eventual national champion, in the title game after defeating Louisville and Texas, respectively, in the first two rounds.

As part of the ACC/Big Ten Challenge in 2002, Iowa met defending NCAA champion Duke at the United Center in Chicago, playing in front of a crowd of over 17,000 fans and a national television audience. The Hawkeyes hosted NC State in the 2005 Big Ten/ACC Challenge and Wake Forest in 2006. Iowa will travel to Wake Forest this season for the Challenge. Coach McCaffery returns to Winston-Salem to face the team he played for as a freshman (1977-78).

Iowa opened the 1999 season in New York's Madison Square Garden by taking part in the IKON Coaches vs. Cancer Classic. Along with the Maui Invitational early in the 2005 season, Iowa competed in the Rainbow Classic in Honolulu in 2002.

CONFERENCE

CONSIDER THE TELEVISION EXPOSURE

"Having the conference's own television network is fantastic on so many different levels. It allows our loyal and passionate fan base to follow the Hawkeyes, and the conference, throughout the country. The network has a positive impact on our fundraising and national recruiting efforts. It's beneficial for a recruit's family to know that they can watch their son play anytime and watch additional and archived content on the network's website."

"Fans have the opportunity to follow the Hawkeyes like never before with games televised nationally on CBS, ESPN, ESPN2, ESPNU and the BTN. Also, the creation of new and enhanced media has given the Hawkeyes even more exposure, like the recent additions of espn3.com and bigtennetwork.com."

FRAN MCCAFFERY
Head Basketball Coach
University of Iowa

The Iowa Hawkeye basketball program annually ranks among the national leaders in home attendance. In addition to the fans in Carver-Hawkeye Arena, Hawkeye basketball on television is also very popular around the state, the Midwest and the country.

Every home game of all 11 Big Ten teams will appear on television for the fourth straight year. Overall, no fewer than 200 men's basketball games, including home, away and neutral sites, will be featured on CBS, an ESPN platform (ESPN, ESPN2 or ESPNU) or the Big Ten Network, beginning with exhibition games in November. Hawkeye fans will be able to watch every Hawkeye game (home and away) either on television or streamed online.

Through the 2010-11 season, Big Ten teams will have a minimum of 26 appearances per season on CBS.

In 2007, the Big Ten Conference signed a 10-year national rights contract with ABC/ESPN. The current agreement includes approximately 60 men's basketball games to air on an ESPN network.

Beginning with the inaugural year in 2007-08, more than 105 regular season men's basketball games will be televised on the Big Ten Network each season.

"The Big Ten Conference has been our highest-rated college basketball conference for the last decade."

LOREN MATTHEWS
Senior vice-president, ESPN

While the centerpiece of Iowa's television package is live coverage of Hawkeye games, "Iowa Basketball with Fran McCaffery" is a very successful spin-off show that debuts locally in Iowa and then is rebroadcasted during the week on the Big Ten Network. The weekly show featuring Iowa's head coach offers fans of the Iowa basketball program across the state the opportunity to view highlights from previous games and meet the coaching staff and student-athletes.

Television exposure is one of the keys to developing and maintaining a program of national stature, and at the University of Iowa a student-athlete is guaranteed virtually unparalleled attention from regional and national television audiences.

BIG TEN NETWORK

ABOUT THE BIG TEN NETWORK:

The Big Ten Network is devoted to covering a wide array of programming to one of the premier collegiate conferences in the country. The network is the ultimate destination for Big Ten fans and alumni across the country. The network provides unmatched access to an extensive schedule of league competitions, events and shows; classic games; nightly studio shows; original programs in academics, arts and sciences and campus activities. Sports programming includes live coverage in stunning high-definition of more events than ever before, along with news, highlights and detailed analysis, all complemented by hours of university-produced campus programming. The Big Ten Network reaches 75 million homes nationwide through distribution arrangements with more than 300 cable and satellite providers.

Furthermore, the Big Ten Network expanded its coverage of live events a year ago, streaming an additional 300+ events, including select basketball games, on its website bigtennetwork.com. All football and men's basketball games broadcast on the network will be available internationally on bigtenticket.com.

Below is a listing of live events specific to basketball:

- Through the creation of the Big Ten Network, every home Big Ten basketball game is produced
- Each Big Ten men's basketball team makes approximately 10-20 appearances a season on the Big Ten Network
- The network televises 105 basketball games, including Big Ten Tournament contests, all of which are produced in high definition
- The Journey, which is a behind-the-scenes look at teams and individual story lines from around the league
- The network streams a select number of non-conference and exhibition games live on bigtennetwork.com
- Some of the top hosts, announcers and basketball analysts in the nation work for the Big Ten Network, many with Big Ten and/or Midwest ties. Some of the faces on the network include former Hawkeye Kenyon Murray, former Buckeye Jim Jackson, former Spartan Steve Smith, former Illini Kendall Gill, former Wildcat Shon Morris, Northwestern graduate Dave Revsine, former Indiana Coach Dan Dakich, and talented play-by-play announcers Wayne Larrivee, Gus Johnson, Tom Hamilton and more.
- The network has a set on-site at the Big Ten Men's Basketball Tournament in Indianapolis, with anchors providing coverage and analysis of all the action

"The Big Ten Network has been a great addition to the conference! It's incredible that every single one of our games is televised across America to our fans. It's great for our close families and friends to be able to watch us from the other side of the country. Family of mine miles away, who have never watched or been interested in Hawkeye basketball, are now fans simply because they can watch us on the Big Ten Network. It's a great feeling when your extended family is calling and texting after the games. The network does a great job of showcasing our team and university in a way that has never been done before. I also enjoy being able to easily watch and study the other teams in our conference on a nightly basis by simply watching the network."

With its inception in September, 1996, the University of Iowa athletic department was one of the first intercollegiate departments to develop a website dedicated to athletics. The site includes information on all men's and women's athletic programs, ticket information, latest news releases and links that provide information concerning all aspects of the University of Iowa.

Since its inception, the Iowa website has been recognized as the best college football site by The National Football Report and recognized with a national award from the Newspaper Association of America.

hawkeyesports.com has a fresh look after the entire site was re-designed, including all pages with Hawkeye men's basketball, and re-launched this past winter. The new and improved site has more information and video/audio for the diehard Hawkeye fan. This re-design includes expansion of content in all forms, including editorial, photography, video and audio.

Fans can obtain a wealth of up-to-date information about the Hawkeyes on its website. Fans can access live stats, box scores, play-by-play, photo galleries, coach and bio information, records, videos, player blogs and more.

The Hawkeyes are extremely excited to have launched their very first UI-Mag this season, which is a digital publication that includes video, photos and detailed information on the Iowa basketball program and university. Their website is available at UImags.com.

Every Hawkeye game can be heard live and archived over the internet via "Hawkeye All-Access" subscription service. "Hawkeye All-Access" gives fans a chance to listen to games, call-in shows and watch Coach McCaffery news conferences.

Additionally, media and fans can also keep track of the latest news and updates of the Hawkeyes via social media and the men's basketball twitter and facebook fan pages. # HAWKEYES ARE IN THE SPOTLIGHT

With no professional sports teams in the state of Iowa, Hawkeye athletes are in the spotlight around the state and the Midwest. All Hawkeye games are covered by newspaper, radio, websites and television outlets throughout the state, along with the exposure of having all games televised on regional and national telecasts.

Hawkeye basketball players learn to handle the exposure on almost a daily basis, improving their communication skills throughout their careers while dealing with the media throughout each season.

With the creation of the Big Ten Network and the conference's extensive basketball television contract with CBS and the ESPN family of networks, an unprecedented number of Iowa games have national television coverage. Hawkeye fans can expect to see nearly every game on national television once again in 2010-11. Without question, the Big Ten Conference is the most visible league in the country.

AN OPPORTUNITY TO SEE THE WORLD

As a member of the basketball program at the University of Iowa, education often expands beyond the classroom to various parts of the United States and the world.

Over the years, the Iowa basketball team has visited Alaska, Australia, Greece, Hawaii, London, Paris, Hong Kong, San Juan, Puerto Rico, the French Riviera, Switzerland, Italy, Belgium, Amsterdam, England, the Great Wall of China, the Virgin Islands and other exciting parts of the world.

Two years ago, Iowa competed in a tournament in Las Vegas and traveled to Greece and Italy over the summer for a tour of exhibition games.

Every four years the Iowa basketball team is permitted to take an overseas exhibition trip during the summer. On their most recent trip, members of the Iowa program traveled to Italy and Greece during a three-game, 10-day exhibition tour, visiting Rome and Athens. Because a trip can be taken every four years, every Hawkeye player has the opportunity to experience travel abroad as part of their total University of Iowa experience.

During the regular season, Iowa annually takes part in some of the top college basketball tournaments in the nation. This year the Black and Gold will return to the Caribbean to compete in the eight-team Paradise Jam held in St. Thomas, Virgin Islands. Iowa will play three games against challenging competition. For travel information and packages, visit paradisejam.com.

The Hawkeyes participated in the Paradise Jam in the 2006-07 campaign. Iowa started the 2005-06 season by competing in the Guardians Classic for the second time in five seasons. After winning two games on their home floor, the Hawkeyes advanced to the Final Four of the event that also included Kentucky, Texas and West Virginia. Iowa advanced to the title game with a win over ninth-ranked Kentucky before second-ranked Texas handed Iowa its first loss of the year in the title game.

The Hawkeye basketball team returned to Hawaii during the 2005 season, placing second in the EA Sports Maui Invitational. Facing a tournament field that included Louisville, North Carolina, Stanford, Texas, Tennessee and Brigham Young, the Maui Invitational is one of the top tournaments of the year. The Hawkeyes defeated Louisville and Texas in the first two rounds before a loss to North Carolina, the eventual national champion, in the championship game.

Iowa took part in the Rainbow Classic in 2001, placing third in the eight team tournament in Honolulu, Hawaii. The Hawkeyes won the Maui Invitational in 1987, placed second in the Rainbow Classic in 1995 and also competed in the Maui Invitational in 1997.

In 1999-2000, Iowa opened the season in the IKON Coaches vs. Cancer Classic, playing two games in Madison Square Garden in New York City, competing against Connecticut, Stanford and Duke. Iowa defeated Connecticut, the defending NCAA champion, in the first round before failing to Stanford in the championship game.

During the 1998 summer, the Hawkeyes spent nearly two weeks in England, playing games against professional clubs there. Yet, more than basketball was being played. The Hawkeyes were able to develop relationships and experience cultures that transcend beyond the basketball court.

When the Hawkeyes travel they do so by charter flight, which allows for the safest and easiest travel possible to and from road games. The Hawkeyes are able to return to Iowa City immediately following road contests.

U.S. VIRGIN ISLANDS® PARADISE JAM

AT UNIVERSITY OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS

Iowa will be housed at the beautiful and picturesque Marriott resort on the water on the bay in St. Thomas.

The Iowa Hawkeyes return to St. Thomas this November to compete in the Paradise Jam. Games are played in the University of the Virgin Islands Sports and Fitness Center.

St. Thomas is a perfect destination for fans to watch exciting Hawkeye basketball and enjoy warm temperatures, scenic beaches and countryside in November.

A TOTAL PROGRAM

IOWA RANKS AMONG BIG TEN LEADERS

Some universities have successful teams. At the University of Iowa, you'll be a member of one of the most successful, most progressive athletic departments in America today. Iowa's athletic facilities are constantly being improved and upgraded, including a $47 million renovation project in Carver-Hawkeye Arena, the home of Iowa basketball. The project is expected to be completed in August 2011.

The men's basketball team has had seven winning seasons in the past 10 years, making six postseason appearances in that time. Iowa's women's basketball team shared the Big Ten Conference regular season title in 2008, finished runner-up at the 2010 Big Ten Tournament and has advanced to postseason play in nine of the last 10 seasons, including advancing to the second round of the NCAA Tournament a year ago.

The Hawkeye football team has won 70 games over the past eight seasons, competing in seven bowl games during that span, six of which were premiere January bowl games in the state of Florida. Last year, the football team enjoyed one of its most exciting seasons ever, finishing second in the Big Ten and winning the prestigious FedEx Orange Bowl in Miami.

The Hawkeye wrestling squad dominated its sport the past three years, winning back-to-back-to-back Big Ten Conference regular season dual and the postseason tournament titles. The Hawkeyes, under fourth-year Coach Tom Brands, marched through the national tournament, claiming their 21st, 22nd and 23rd national team crowns the past 37 seasons.

In addition to women's basketball and wrestling, Iowa's nationally-recognized field hockey program won its third-straight Big Ten Tournament title two years ago and advanced to the NCAA Final Four. Iowa's baseball team surged last season, winning 11 of its last 14 games and finished runner-up at the Big Ten Baseball Tournament, its best finish in 20 years. Furthermore, the Iowa men's golf team finished second at the Big Ten Championships and was only one stroke from advancing to its second-straight NCAA Championships, placing sixth at Regionals, in 2010.

Along with the success on the playing fields, Iowa's student-athletes also excel in areas of academics and community service. In 2006, Iowa was the only Division I football program in the nation to have three players named to the academic all-America first team. In men's basketball, 2007 senior Adam Haluska, a second round selection in the NBA Draft, was named the Division I Academic all-American of the Year.

IOWA BASKETBALL

Iowa basketball has posted seven winning seasons in the last 10 years, capped by NCAA Tournament appearances in 2005 and 2006. The Hawkeyes have posted a 63-23 home record over the last five seasons.

IOWA WRESTLING

Led by 10 all-Americans, the Hawkeye wrestling squad repeated its accomplishments of 2008 and 2009, winning Big Ten Conference and NCAA team titles. Iowa has won 12 NCAA titles in the past 20 years and has claimed 30 Big Ten titles over the past 36 seasons. Head Coach Tom Brands was tabbed Big Ten Coach of the Year for the second-straight year, while Matt McDonough was honored as the league's top freshman.

IOWA FOOTBALL

The Hawkeye football team enjoyed another successful season under Coach Kirk Ferentz, who was recognized as Big Ten Coach of the Year for the third time in the last eight seasons in 2009. Ferentz and the Iowa Hawkeyes are one of only eight college football programs in the nation to compete in six January bowl games over the last eight seasons, winning four of those contests in exciting fashion. Iowa's 70 victories over the last eight seasons are second most in the Big Ten and 16th best in the country.

SUMMER CAMPS

Campers attending Iowa's most recent summer camps represented 25 states and five foreign countries. The Iowa basketball individual summer camps have been some of the most highly attended camps in the country.

Each summer, Iowa Coach Fran McCaffery and the Iowa basketball staff conduct youth basketball camps, on campus and around the state of Iowa. Along with the week-long day camps and overnight camps held on the University campus in Iowa City, the Iowa basketball program has also held day camps at different locations around the state.

The two sessions of the camps held on the Iowa campus each summer include the following:

A camp staff that includes Coach Fran McCaffery, Iowa's assistant coaches, and current and former Iowa Hawkeye players

Four full-court games daily with players of similar abilities and age groups

Additional evening basketball clinics by Iowa camp staff on shooting, ball-handling and other fundamentals

Free NIKE camp T-shirt and basketball

Swimming, game room, racquetball, pizza, Hawk Shop and two feature movies each evening

Daily lecture series committed to the total student-athlete, including the areas of academics, drugs and alcohol

Individual and team trophies and awards

New Iowa Men's Basketball Coach Fran McCaffery held his first youth summer camp this past June. Campers attending basketball camp at the University of Iowa have the opportunity to learn, watch and interact with members of the Iowa basketball staff and current and former Hawkeye players.

IN THE COMMUNITY

COMMUNITY ACTIVITIES

Members of the University of Iowa basketball team and members of the basketball staff are very involved in charitable events and organizations throughout the Iowa City community.

The Iowa staff and players are frequent visitors to patients at the UI Hospitals & Clinics and the Ronald McDonald House, located next to Carver-Hawkeye Arena on the Iowa campus. The basketball program provides hundreds of autographed items each year (such as basketballs, schedule cards, schedule posters, etc. . .), which generate funds for a variety of charities.

In addition, Iowa's pre-season exhibition game each season is presented by the Children's Miracle Network to benefit the Children's Hospital of Iowa.

"I believe community service activities are very important. The state of Iowa does so much to support our program, we believe community service activities are a great way to give back and show how much we appreciate their support."

We have a saying in the UI Department of Athletics, 'Today's Hawkeyes Are Tomorrow's Leaders' and we take great pride in helping mold our student-athletes into leaders, on and off the court."

INVOLVED

IOWA STUDENT-ATHLETES TAKE PART IN DAY OF CARING

Each year, University of Iowa male and female student-athletes take part in the Hawkeye Day of Caring. The student-athletes join with Iowa coaches, administrators and staff in performing service projects for many agencies around the Iowa City area.

The Hawkeye Day of Caring has provided assistance to Chatham Oaks, Glenwood Manor, Elderly Services, Senior Dining, Iowa City Crisis Center, Iowa City Parks and Recreation Department, Neighborhood Centers and the Iowa City Care Center.

Hawkeye Day of Caring is the brainchild of the Iowa Student Athlete Advisory Committee, whose goal has been to increase the level of community service among its teams and individuals. Hawkeye Day of Caring is an annual opportunity for Iowa's student-athletes to offer their support to service organizations throughout the community.

Former Hawkeye Adam Haluska (left) and his New Orleans Hornets teammates were involved in a reading program with elementary school children in the New Orleans area. Haluska was selected in the 2007 NBA Draft by the Hornets.

CONSIDER THE COMMUNITY

"Iowa City is unlike any other place in the state, both because of its regional beauty and because of its independent, serendipitous spirit."

"There's nothing like feeling the crisp air as one tours the Big Ten campus, just as there's no other feeling like walking the shores along Lake MacBride, north of town. This is an ideal location for a weekend trip filled with sights, sounds, shopping and plenty of activities on any given weekend."

"If there is a star in Iowa, Iowa City is it."

DES MOINES SUNDAY REGISTER

Some universities offer the large city atmosphere. Others offer the college town experience. The University of Iowa is uniquely situated to offer student-athletes the very best of both of these different worlds.

Once the state capital, Iowa City is considered one of the truly great college towns in America. The city swells with excitement on game day when nearly 16,000 Hawkeye fans from across the state and Midwest converge on Carver-Hawkeye Arena to cheer the Hawkeyes to another victory.

Carver-Hawkeye Arena, the home of Iowa basketball with a seating capacity of 15,500, is the site of performances and concerts by some of the more popular entertainers and musicians. Stars to pass through Iowa City in recent years include the following:

Red Hot Chili Peppers
The Backstreet Boys
Goo Goo Dolls
Tina Turner
Bill Cosby
Paul Simon
James Taylor
Bob Dylan

Iowa City's downtown area is alive and thriving. Restaurants, shops and sidewalk cafes face onto pedestrian malls full of people watchers, street entertainers and food vendors.

Attractive in size and friendliness, Iowa City is big in the sense that it offers all the advantages and conveniences of much larger metropolitan areas like summer and permanent employment opportunities, live entertainment and concerts, fine dining and shopping, industry and commerce.

Iowa City is known regionally for the excellence of small bands that originate here and its resident comedy troupes.

Iowa City is located in the heart of eastern Iowa, within easy driving distance of several major Midwestern cities including the state capital, Des Moines, as well as Chicago, St. Louis, Kansas City, Minneapolis and Milwaukee.

Iowa City ranks as the top town in the Midwest in Midwest magazine's annual list of the "30 Best Towns in America."

IOWA CITY: THE BEST PLACE TO LIVE

"If Iowa City were a student, it would be class valedictorian. This heartland university town consistently scores top scores on countless lists: Forbes' Best Small Places for Business and Careers; Men's Journal's list of sexy, healthy and safe places to live; USA Today's Best Educated Cities; Utne Reader's Most Enlightened Towns; AARP's best college towns in which to retire; and the Milken Institute's best small metro economy. And the town's pride, the University of Iowa, scored tops on Kaplan's best value for your tuition dollar, noting its outstanding medical programs."

Each year, The University of Iowa boasts a student population that includes young men and women from all 50 states and more than 100 foreign countries among its 30,000 students.

Diversity is also true among the student-athletes who come to Iowa City to play basketball. At Iowa, high school all-Americans from some of the nation's biggest metropolitan areas work side-by-side with all-state picks from states in "America's Heartland" and elsewhere to help keep the Hawkeyes among the nation's best.

The record shows that Hawkeyes don't just grow up in Iowa - they come from virtually all parts of the country.

"I think most people around the country would be really surprised, if they haven't been to Iowa City, to come here and see how cosmopolitan it is, how many things there are to do here in Iowa City. The people here could not be nicer."

IOWA AMONG TOP DIVISION I PROGRAMS

The University of Iowa annually earns high ratings in a major survey by The Sporting News, in which all U.S. colleges who participate in NCAA Division I sports in both football and men's basketball are graded according to various standards, ranging from on-field to academic performance.

The magazine ranks over 100 universities, based on number of sports each school sponsors, their success rates, graduation rates for students in all sports and Title IX compliance. The ratings cover the last four years of graduating classes, and include GPAs and SAT scores for incoming freshmen.

The Sporting News recently ranked Iowa City as the best college football city in America. Iowa City is ranked among the top 50 cities overall among "Best Sport Cities" and ranked as the top sports community in the state.

Schools are also rated on such factors as fan support, attendance, merchandise sold and size of athletic budget. Graduation rates are used and points awarded for winning regular season and post season championships.

"ESPN GameDay" the popular pre-game show which airs each Saturday during the college football season, made a recent stop in Iowa City, airing from the Iowa campus prior to a prime time football game in Iowa's Kinnick Stadium.

Outside Magazine Ranks University of Iowa and Iowa City among the Best in the Nation

Outside Magazine ranks the top 40 "Best College Towns" in the nation. Among those rankings, the University of Iowa and the Iowa City area earned a No. 10 ranking.

"Iowa City is one of the 10 most literate and enlightened towns in the nation. This city, set on the winding Iowa River, is a pocket of sophistication with the feel of small-town America. Locally run bookstores, ethnic restaurants, cafe's with gallery space, and organic grocers line the brick streets, and summers are a whirl of jazz musicians, artists and food vendors."

STUDENT-ORIENTED NIGHT LIFE

Iowa's campus is set right in the city's downtown area, where you'll find dance clubs, movies, coffeehouses, and restaurants to suit every taste. Live music can be found any night of the week in clubs and restaurants, even outside on warm evenings on the downtown pedestrian mall. Iowa City businesses are convenient and geared toward student tastes and needs.

In a recent release by a New York-based Internet company, Iowa City ranked ninth among college towns its size, based on cultural and economic vitality. The survey compared communities with four-year colleges that have a ratio of students to the general public that was 3-to-4 or lower.

A CAMPUS ON THE MOVE

The University of Iowa campus caters to pedestrians and bicyclists; it's compact enough to cross in a 20-minute walk. A free ride on a campus bus can cut that time in half. Entertainment on campus and in Iowa City is geared toward student budgets, with many events offered at no charge.

Iowa City has more bookstores, coffee shops, restaurants, record shops, and movie theaters in its downtown area -- right next to campus -- than you'll find in cities many times its size.

Local service agencies combine with campus programs to provide a wide range of helping services for students and student families.

Hancher Auditorium brings the world's finest musicians, dancers, actors, and entertainers to the University. It is part of the Iowa Center for the Arts, which includes the Museum of Art and cultural/educational programs in music, theatre, art and art history, dance, and literary arts.

Iowa City is alive with festivals and ethnic celebrations. Music, drama, and dance can be found on stage or on street corners. Sculptures adorn campus green spaces and plazas, and work by local artists and craftspeople entice visitors to outdoor markets.

The University of Iowa offers more than 400 student organizations, extensive recreation facilities, 50 fraternities and sororities, and a broad schedule of arts performances, lectures, cultural celebrations and club sports and intramural athletic contests to go along with the intercollegiate competition within the Big Ten Conference.

The University of Iowa can help put enthusiasts on board a hot air balloon or a sailboat. Weight lifting, tennis, fencing, the martial arts, handball, soccer, rugby, football, spelunking, horseback riding, gymnastics, or golf -- Iowa students do them all.

The University's MacBride Nature Recreation Area, located 15 miles from campus, offers hiking, cross-country skiing, sailing, and canoeing.

THE UNIVERSITY OF IOWA

Building on a rich tradition of excellence and innovation, the University of Iowa is educating more than 30,000 students annually, preparing them for success immediately following graduation, as well as continued achievements throughout their lives.

The University of Iowa offers more than 100 areas of undergraduate and graduate study, including seven professional degree programs, through its 11 colleges: the colleges of Liberal Arts and Sciences, Business, Dentistry, Education, Engineering, Law, Medicine, Nursing, Pharmacy and Public Health, and the Graduate College. The University also provides on-campus and distance learning opportunities through its division of Continuing Education.

Long recognized as one of the nation's leading centers for the arts, creative writing, space physics, hydraulics, basic health and science research, and communication studies, the University of Iowa is also developing new strengths in informatics, nanoscience, simulation technology, and other fields.

The University of Iowa has maintained its tradition as an innovator with its pioneering work in speech pathology, science and medicine. It's also known internationally for being home of one of the nation's largest public university owned hospitals.

CULTURAL DIVERSITY AT THE UNIVERSITY OF IOWA

The University of Iowa has worked hard to assure that students of all races, creeds, and backgrounds are represented in the student body. In the past five years, Iowa has moved aggressively towards its goal of creating communities of African American, Hispanic/Latino (a), Asian American, and Native American students, and making the University a stimulating, welcoming place.

The Center for Diversity and Enrichment is a coordinated university-wide resource for creating and maintaining this campus diversity and providing opportunities for all University students interested in other cultures. Scholarships, fellowships, and support programs help to make this possible. International Programs bring together scholars from around the world and UI students looking to expand their perspectives by studying abroad or exploring global issues on campus.

The University of Iowa has been recognized by Kaplan/Newsweek College Catalogue as one of the top schools in the country for supporting diversity.

U.S. News & World Report, in its yearly rankings, has ranked the University of Iowa 24th among American public national universities for undergraduate education. Iowa ranks in the top 15% of some 161 public universities across the country.

The University of Iowa is listed among "America's Best Value Colleges" by The Princeton Review. Iowa is cited for its "excellent academics, generous financial aid packages and low costs".

In its 2010 rankings of America's Best Graduate Schools, released in April, U.S. News & World Report ranks five Iowa programs as best in the nation among public universities. Overall, UI has 21 graduate programs ranked in the top 10 nationally.

"The University of Iowa not only boasts a beautiful campus, it offers its students a broad range of academic programs, an abundance of social activities and a sense of belonging. With its combination of quality academics, mammoth resources, renowned specialty programs, and extensive research opportunities, this Midwest school is anything but featureless."

CONSIDER THE OPPORTUNITY FOR A QUALITY EDUCATION

A quality education is one of the highest priorities at the University of Iowa. Just over 90 percent of Johnson County residents have graduated from high school, and in Iowa City nearly half of all residents have earned bachelor's degrees. In fact, census statistics indicate Johnson County is the 10th "smartest" county in the nation, based on percentage of residents holding bachelor's degrees.

The University of Iowa represents a strong presence in the community while enhancing the quality of life in Iowa City.

Your aspiration may be a career in medicine, law or education. Regardless of the specific career field, it's important to identify the college basketball program that places a high priority on academics and allows you to take full advantage of the tremendous educational opportunities available.

At the University of Iowa, student-athletes learn quickly that academic success is the highest priority.

"We expect our student-athletes to perform at the highest level not only on the court, but in the classroom. An education is of the utmost importance at the University of Iowa and leaving the University of Iowa with a degree and becoming community leaders is paramount for our student-athletes."

"Student-athletes have all resources available to them on campus to excel in both athletics and academics. Our student-athletes are surrounded by support from our administration, academic advisors, teachers and coaches, in an effort to provide an elite learning environment that is conducive to reaching the highest level of success in all phases of their academic pursuits."

WINNING IN THE CLASSROOM

Adam Haluska, a Hawkeye senior in 2007, earned national recognition as a University of Iowa student-athlete, both on the basketball court and in the classroom. A native of Carroll, Iowa, Haluska elevated his game in his final year, leading the Big Ten Conference in scoring while earning first team all-Big Ten recognition.

While he averaged over 20 points per game on the court, Haluska was even more impressive in his academic pursuits. He was a three-time Academic All-American, concluding his college career by being named the Academic All-American of the Year for Division I men's basketball. Along with earning his degree from the University of Iowa, Haluska was drafted in the second round of the 2007 NBA Draft.

In 2006, Iowa was the only Division I program in the nation to have two players earn academic all-America status, as Greg Brunner joined Haluska in earning the national honor.

Annual graduation rates released by the NCAA show that Iowa annually ranks among the leaders in the Big Ten Conference in graduation rates among its student-athletes. Iowa's graduation rate among student-athletes has ranked above the graduation percentage compiled by the entire student body in each of the past 15 years.

Under the direction of Fran McCaffery, academic performance of the members of the men's basketball program is monitored closely.

"Education is a priority at the University of Iowa. Our student-athletes' academic performance is constantly monitored by academic advisors and the coaching staff. The resources are available for our student-athletes to succeed in the classroom and reach their academic potential."

"The coaching staff is in constant communication with our student-athletes to make sure they are on the right academic path."

IOWA GRADUATE EXCELS IN SPORTS BUSINESS WORLD

Iowa graduate Mark Shapiro (communication studies and political science, 1992) began making career plans while he was still in high school. Taking an aggressive approach, Shapiro landed a summer internship with NBC Sports. The native of Glenview, IL, stayed with NBC until joining ESPN not long after working the Barcelona Olympics. From there, Shapiro worked his way to become executive vice-president at ESPN, where he headed up ESPN's Classic Sports Network. Shapiro was honored in 2003-04 with the University of Iowa Distinguished Alumni Award.

"In high school I knew what I wanted to do; sports broadcasting. I researched the best schools, and, being a Big Ten guy, I chose Iowa. The communications department has an excellent program and facilities. I'm a true sports fan. To be able to work on something you truly love and get paid for -- it was incredible."

ATHLETICS AND ACADEMICS

At The University of Iowa, a strong relationship has been developed between athletics and academics, where basketball coaches and athletes work hand-in-hand with academic deans and professors, assuring the student-athlete the best possible opportunities to excel in the classroom and in athletics.

From the first visit for any prospective student-athlete, to the completion of their academic and athletic career at Iowa, academic personnel play a large role in the career of Hawkeye student-athletes. Beginning with the on-campus visits, student-athletes are introduced to professors in their selected field of study, and are able to establish a relationship and develop an understanding of the academic setting in which they will be involved.

THE RUSSELL AND ANN GERDIN ATHLETIC LEARNING CENTER

The University of Iowa Russell and Ann Gerdin Athletic Learning Center, opened in the fall of 2003, is the latest project to be added to Iowa's facilities. The Learning Center is a multi-level, 20,000-square foot facility, which provides one all-purpose area for the academic pursuits for Iowa's male and female student-athletes.

The Learning Center features an auditorium, two classrooms, study lounges for freshmen and upper-class student-athletes, a computer lab, a teaching lab, the athletic library, office space for Iowa's Academic Student Services staff and a display area to recognize the academic accomplishments of Iowa's student-athletes.

"The Gerdin Academic Learning Center is one of the best academic facilities in the nation. The facility provides our student-athletes an outstanding learning environment in one central, convenient location to assist them in achieving academic excellence."

"The University of Iowa's diverse educational fields appeal to students with varied interests. Earning a degree from such a distinguished University is an accomplishment that can open a number of doors. There is a national respect for University of Iowa graduates."

FRAN MCCAFFERY
Head Basketball Coach

LIFE SKILLS PROGRAM

The University of Iowa Athletic Department is committed to provide educational experiences and services to develop well-balanced lifestyles for student-athletes. The Athletic Student Services staff is committed to help the student-athlete derive maximum benefits from their athletics and college experience. Learning about who you are, acquiring self-understanding, a positive self-image, learning decision-making and coping skills to deal with the pressures and stresses of growing up all lead to a high quality of life as a student and an athlete at Iowa.

TRANSITION SEMINAR

The Transition Seminar runs for 12 weeks (90 minutes per week) at the beginning of the fall semester. This seminar, which is attended by all new students, explores personal and academic issues stemming from the transition from high school to college and adjustment issues that are unique to student-athletes. Its purpose is to help student-athletes improve their performance and persistence at Iowa.

These are highly interactive sessions with emphasis on group discussion in order for the student-athletes to learn from each other. Some of the topics are: introduction to the University library, personal and academic goal-setting, time management, personal responsibility and accountability, substance abuse, relating to professors, study skills, diversity and ethics.

EDUCATIONAL PROGRAMS

Throughout the year, Athletic Student Services sponsors and conducts educational programs. These are seminars, speakers, workshops and short courses on issues of personal growth and life skills, with a primary focus on alcohol and other drugs. These programs, which are often topics suggested by student-athletes, appeal to a variety of audiences, including specific teams, age groups (i.e., freshmen, fourth-year seniors) or department-wide.

Subjects that have been addressed in the past include alcohol and self-esteem, healthy intimacy, sexual assault, personal responsibility and accountability, communicating with coaches, stress management, racial diversity, time management, learning strategies and transitions from college to professional life.

CAREER GUIDANCE AND DEVELOPMENT

Planning a meaningful career and a fulfilling life is an ongoing process of expanding and narrowing choices, beginning when the student-athlete arrives on campus and continuing throughout their college career and lifetime. This process includes learning about who you are (e.g., your values, abilities and interests) and using that information to choose courses leading eventually to an academic major by the end of the second year.

The process continues with "building a resume" and exploring other college and community activities (e.g., campus organizations, student government, community service, church involvement). An important step is to learn about the world of work, growing industries, employment forecasts and how the student-athlete interests and abilities fit. Summer internships, fieldwork and volunteering are all valuable experiences that lead to reasonable decisions about a career.

As the student-athlete approaches their senior year, they need to explore their options for life after graduation (i.e., full time work, graduate or professional school or professional sports). Those decisions will require further planning, whether it is to develop a job strategy and resume, or to apply to graduate schools and take entrance exams.

Athletic Student Services offers individual consultation, career development seminars and workshops, referrals to other campus offices and special events, such as the Senior Student-Athlete Recognition Banquet in Des Moines for graduating student-athletes. This event is an opportunity for graduating seniors to be recognized by the governor for their contributions to the people of Iowa and to meet and network with professional and business executives across the state of Iowa.

Athletic counselors and staff members from Athletic Student Services help student-athletes identify their choices, clarify their plans and refer them for further assistance to other student service offices on campus.

CAREER PLANNING TIMETABLE

All the activity in career planning boils down to the tasks of expanding and narrowing . . . and of exploring and choosing.

First Year: EXPLORING

- Get to know who you are: interests, skills, work values through inventories and assessments
- Get introduced to the Discover Software Program
- Take a variety of introductory courses to learn about academic programs
- Explore college majors with athletics counselor, academic adviser, faculty, family, and friends
- Investigate the academic departments, their admission requirements, and required courses/prerequisites
- Take 7C:081, Making a Vocational Educational Choice for two credits
- Attend a career exploration workshop
- Visit Career Development Services, 315 Calvin Hall, to find out sources of career information
- Volunteer on campus or in the community

Second Year: NARROWING

- Get involved in a campus activity; join a campus organization
- Take 7C:081, Making a Vocational Educational Choice for two credits
- Work with academic advisors/athletics counselors to identify academic majors that fit your academic performance, interests and skills
- Begin to define the things that are important to you in a job
- Learn as much as you can about available careers, occupations, employment outlook
- Talk to professionals in the field you are considering
- Research in the Career Development Services
- Attend a workshop on choosing a major
- Attend Careers Day in September
- Investigate internships and seek out summer jobs and volunteer work related to your career interest
- Draft a resume
- Choose a major; apply to an academic department
- Attend the Summer Jobs Fair in February
- Volunteer on campus or in the community

Third Year: FOCUS

- Determine a graduation plan with advisor; tentative graduation date, degree requirements, required internships, field experiences, student teaching
- Begin to network: Get to know faculty, professionals, and former teammates in interest areas
- Explore graduate or professional school possibilities after graduation
- Identify career goals based on skills, interests, and work values
- Update/add to your resume
- Seek out a summer internship, quality work experience related to interest area
- Attend Careers Day in September. Distribute resume and meet employers
- Take leadership role in campus activity/organization
- Attend the Summer Jobs Fair in February
- Volunteer on campus or in the community

Fourth Year: TAKE ACTION

- Request and get a graduation analysis. Are you ready to graduate?
- Develop a job search strategy
- Take an inventory of skills and abilities you have developed and make sure you can speak to what you can do
- Refine, finalize resume
- Attend workshops on writing resumes, interviews, job search process
- Register at Business and Liberal Arts, Engineering or Education Placement Office for on-campus interviews
- Research employers, companies to interview
- Attend Career Day in September. Distribute final resume and meet employers
- Attend Polk County Senior Recognition Banquet and continue to network
- Step-up networking activities and talk to faculty, employers, friends and former teammates
- Complete all graduate/professional school applications; register and take graduate entrance exams
- Attend senior transition workshops

100 PROGRAMS TO CHOOSE FROM AT THE UNIVERSITY OF IOWA

University of Iowa students have more than 100 programs to choose from when deciding on a field of study. And, they can take their time in selecting a course of study or career. One out of four students begin their college career as an open major prior to selecting a major once their college career is underway.

In addition to your major, UI students can enhance their education with a second major, a minor, or a certificate. Many majors also have emphasis areas. And a number of pre-professional options can help prepare for further study.

A COMMITMENT TO ACADEMIC SUCCESS

To many, the members of the University of Iowa basketball team are simply campus celebrities who play before fans packed into arenas across the country.

However, to the staff in Iowa's Office of Athletic Student Services, these young men are individuals confronted with the same routine problems of the ordinary college student. Instead of talking jump shots and slam dunks, the Student Services staff works alongside the student-athletes in dealing with their "off-the-court" problems.

The staff works with faculty advisors scheduling classes for each student-athlete, making certain each course is geared toward the educational and professional goals of that specific student-athlete. The office also provides tutors for student-athletes as well as assistance in finding summer and permanent employment opportunities in the area of their career ambitions.

Once on campus, every first-year student-athlete attends a series of lectures that investigate the academic sphere at the University of Iowa. These discussion sessions help prepare the student-athlete on subjects as diverse as relaxing prior to an exam to the most effective way to study for an essay test.

First-year student-athletes are also involved in special study sessions. The Student Services staff oversees the program, but the entire coaching staff is actively involved in its day-to-day operation.

The Office of Student Services has proven most beneficial to student-athletes at the University of Iowa. For the student-athlete, the staff is a group of men and women who look beyond the immediate interests of college and athletics, concentrating instead on the long-term interests of the student-athlete.

"Athletic Student Services assist student-athletes in handling academic and social problems they may face. We want the student-athlete to feel comfortable with our staff to the extent that they can come to us and talk about anything."

"We also push the student-athlete to excel, and on many occasions after a student-athlete leaves the University of Iowa, he'll call back and say how he appreciated the help and support we gave him when he was here."

PREPARING FOR THE FUTURE

"For today's Hawkeyes to become tomorrow's leaders, securing meaningful work after football requires knowledge about the work world; mastering writing, speaking, research, problem solving and computer skills; summer work experiences, professional contacts and a job search plan. We offer programs and services that help the student-athlete acquire all of these."

Getting the most out of your educational experience means preparing for the life that follows after basketball and college. At the University of Iowa, student-athletes have access to support services which will assist them in securing employment in the career field that matches their interests, skills and education.

Working with the staff of the Iowa Athletic Department's Office of Student Services and the University's Career Center, student-athletes identify their interests and career options, select a program of appropriate academic study and explore the world of work through internships and the many resources available.

The Iowa Athletic Department assists student-athletes in making the transition from college to full time employment by introducing them to business and professional leaders during the annual Senior Student-Athlete Recognition Banquet in Des Moines. This "networking" often results in job interviews and, for many student-athletes, permanent employment.

University of Iowa student-athletes are encouraged to participate in the Career Center's Career Leadership Academy, a variety of workshops on job search skills, resume writing, interviewing, relocation, employment and industry trends, conducted by staff from the Career Center and Athletic Student Services.

Former student-athletes and potential employers are invited to the University of Iowa to discuss with student-athletes the world of work and how to effectively "market" themselves in an increasingly competitive workplace.

"There are countless resources on this campus for student-athletes. The Gerdin Athletic Learning Center is a wonderful place to get help on academics and get your work done in a quiet study area. The staff is incredible and does a great job of making sure we are on top of school work and will get us tutors and study groups when needed. The building is very modern; full of many computers available to you at any time throughout the week."

It's our responsibility to do the work and stay on top of things, but there is a great support system at this University that makes it that much easier to be successful at the college level. The team has structured study hours that help us bond, achieve more in the classroom and push each other towards excellence in academics."

STUDENT RETENTION PROGRAM

The graduation rate of student-athletes at the University of Iowa each year has been higher than the national average, exceeding that of the student body as a whole and ranking among the best in the Big Ten Conference and the nation.

However, the Iowa Hawkeyes aren't known for resting on their laurels. That's why the Iowa Athletic Department continues to seek ways to enhance existing academic support programs to increase the chance that all student-athletes at the University will reach their academic goals.

Essential to Iowa's approach to this complex problem is a pro-active retention program. The program is founded on a strong principle: the longer a student-athlete attacks his academic challenges as hard as he attacks his daily practices and competition, the more likely that student-athlete will achieve academic success.

The goal of the retention program is to move a student-athlete from a passive to a pro-active position in the retention process; from observer to participant. The Retention Program has been designed to assist student-athletes who need extra support services in order to achieve academic success.

There are several reasons why the UI's retention program has been successful. First, the program is under the direction of one full-time staff member.

Mrs. Susan Walker, who joined the Iowa staff in 1982, earned both her bachelor's and master's degrees from the University of Iowa. Prior to heading the retention program Walker served 14 years as a counselor for Iowa's football athletes.

Walker spearheads a support team which works directly with students, faculty and other academic staff members. Iowa's student-athletes benefit from the ongoing efforts that one full-time specialist can put toward the program and their needs.

The UI program includes an "early warning system" which helps identify potential difficulties for the student-athletes. This process begins upon receipt of the college entrance exams and high school transcripts, and continues throughout the student-athletes' entire academic experience at the University of Iowa.

The Office of Student Services looks to other offices for assistance in providing a fully-integrated approach to student retention. Staff members encourage student-athletes to also take full advantage of the expertise available from faculty members and the numerous excellent campus-wide academic support systems.

"Being a student at the University of Iowa requires hard work, organization and focus in order to achieve academic success. Being a student-athlete makes that challenge even more strenuous. As a first-year student last year, I quickly found out how helpful my advisor could be. She helped me with time management, setting up tutors and answering any questions that I had."

"I have made many adjustments coming into my second year here at Iowa and I now feel that I am even more prepared for success."

Sophomore Guard
Schaumburg, Illinois

"The Iowa Retention Program has been broadened each year as we have developed new initiatives in addressing the academic needs of the student-athletes. We spend a large amount of time in one-on-one meetings and developing individual educational plans."

When a student-athlete considers his future, he should consider prospects beyond basketball. He should consider where he wants to be in five, 10, 15 years from today and the best course of action for getting there. Also, he should decide early on to commit to excellence in every challenge undertaken.

Without a doubt, the men and women listed here took time to consider their future and the ways to get there. These former University of Iowa undergraduates have gone on to become leaders in their chosen fields. They also pursued their academic studies as strongly as the Iowa Hawkeyes go after a loose ball or rebound.

TAKE A CLOSER LOOK

Serious about taking advantage of your educational opportunity and earning a degree? At the University of Iowa, the numbers are stacked in your favor.

Iowa's student-athletes have outperformed the University's entire student population each year since the NCAA started requiring a report of student-athlete graduation rates.

Student-athletes with scholarships who enrolled in the University of Iowa in 2000-2001 graduated at a higher rate (72%) than non-student-athletes, according to a report filed by the University with the NCAA last spring. And, when Iowa students get their degree, they are finding a quick start to their careers. In recent years, graduates in Iowa's largest colleges have had an 88 percent placement rate.

Over the past 25 years, basketball players at the University of Iowa have earned their degrees at a very high rate of success. From 1979 through 2010, over 85% of basketball players on scholarship at the University of Iowa have earned their college degree.

Greg Brunner (left) and Adam Haluska each earned CoSIDA academic all-America recognition in 2006. Haluska, as a senior, was named the 2007 CoSIDA Academic All-American of the Year for Division I men's basketball. He also earned first team all-Big Ten honors after leading the conference in scoring and was a second round selection in the NBA Draft.

HAWKEYES EARN ACADEMIC HONORS

When Luke Recker joined the Iowa basketball program for his final two seasons, he brought more than his basketball skills. Recker, as a junior and senior, earned academic all-America honors. Recker was a three-time honoree on the academic all-Big Ten team.

Jared Reiner, who led the Big Ten in rebounding in 2003, earned academic all-Big Ten honors in each of his final three seasons, earning his business degree in four years.

Adam Haluska, a senior in 2007, is the latest example of a dedicated student-athlete. Haluska was a three-time academic all-Big Ten selection. He earned academic all-America honors for three consecutive years and as a senior was named the Division I men's Academic All-American of the Year.

In 2006, Haluska and Greg Brunner were members of the CoSIDA academic all-America team, giving the Hawkeye program the distinction of being the only Division I program in the nation with two players earning academic all-America recognition.

HERKY AND THE HAWKEYES

The name Hawkeye was originally applied to a hero in a fictional novel, The Last of the Mohicans, written by James Fenimore Cooper. Author Cooper had the Delaware Indians bestow the name on a white scout who lived with them.

In 1838, 12 years after the book was published, people in the territory of Iowa acquired the nickname, chiefly through the efforts of Judge David Rorer of Burlington and James Edwards of Fort Madison.

Edwards, editor of the Fort Madison Patriot, moved his paper to Burlington in 1843 and renamed it the Burlington Hawk-Eye. The two men continued their campaign to popularize the name and territorial officials eventually gave it their formal approval.

The Hawkeye nickname gained a tangible symbol in 1948 when a cartoon character, later to be named Herky the Hawk, was hatched. The creator was Richard Spencer III, instructor of journalism.

The impish hawk was an immediate hit and he acquired a name through a statewide contest staged by the athletic department. John Franklin, a Belle Plaine alumnus, was the man who suggested Herky.

Since his birth over 50 years ago, Herky has symbolized Iowa athletics and epitomized University life. He even donned a military uniform during the Korean War and became the insignia of the 124th Fighter Squadron.

During the mid-1950s Herky came to life at a football game as the Iowa mascot. Since then Herky has been a familiar figure at Iowa athletic events.

THE HAWKEYE SPIRIT

The Hawkeyes established a record by winning all 17 home games in 2005-06, compiling the first perfect season in Carver-Hawkeye Arena. Iowa was nearly as impressive in 2006-07, posting a 14-2 home record. Iowa boasts a 63-23 home mark over the past five seasons.

Great fans help produce great programs and that's true at Iowa. Hawkeye fans are legendary.

Sometimes you can look at attendance figures and determine whether a basketball program has the support of the community. And sometimes you have to experience the atmosphere, color and pageantry in person. Rest assured, there's no lack of support or interest in the basketball program at The University of Iowa.

You've heard the phrase "standing room only." Well, there isn't even standing room when the Hawkeyes take the floor in Carver-Hawkeye Arena. Fans travel to Iowa City from all over the state to fill Carver-Hawkeye Arena and be a part of "Hawkeye Hysteria."

Iowa is one of the few basketball programs in America where a 15,500-seat arena has often been sold out on a season ticket basis. In addition, Iowa is one of very few universities where basketball and football have often sold out on a season ticket basis. And there probably isn't another campus in the country where the fans have greater love and enthusiasm for their university and basketball team than Iowa.

The love affair between the Hawkeyes and their fans never fails to amaze people unfamiliar with the Iowa basketball program and the loyalty of the people of Iowa.

Along with attracting over 70,000 fans for football games in Kinnick Stadium and over 15,000 for home basketball games, Iowa wrestling also ranks among the national leaders in home attendance. Iowa wrestling has led the nation in dual meet attendance in each of the last three years, including an average of 7,745 a year ago. Iowa's dual meet against Iowa State in 2008 in Carver-Hawkeye Arena drew a national collegiate dual meet attendance record of 15,955 fans.

Iowa also has drawn sellout crowds when playing exhibition and regular season games in the Quad Cities and Des Moines.

Featuring a senior dominated team in 2005-06, the Hawkeyes were bolstered at home games by a student section that more than doubled from the previous season and grew as the unbeaten home season gained momentum throughout Big Ten Conference play.

"The Hawks Nest can really influence the game by bringing volume to Carver-Hawkeye Arena. Carver-Hawkeye is a mad house. It is one of the toughest places to play in the Big Ten."

DAVE BARNETT
ESPN Commentator

Every Iowa basketball game at Carver-Hawkeye Arena offers a great night of excitement and entertainment. The 15,500 Hawkeye fans, led by the "Hawks Nest" student section, the Iowa pep band, cheerleaders and dance squad, provide a great home court advantage for the Hawkeyes.

Carver-Hawkeye Arena is recognized as one of the best basketball venues in the Big Ten and the nation in regards to sold out crowds and support for Iowa basketball. Iowa recently boasted a string of 41 consecutive sellouts (15,500) in Carver-Hawkeye Arena.

"The basketball fans in Iowa were among the very best that I ever had a team play in front of. They were tremendous in their encouragement of the Iowa team and players, and at the same time maintained a respect for the opponent."

There was no school in that league where I thought the fans were better than at Iowa."

THE HAWKEYES ARE CROWD FAVORITES

Each season, a large number of home games in Carver-Hawkeye Arena are sold out, including a streak of 41 consecutive games within the past nine years. Iowa annually ranks among the top programs in the nation in home attendance.

"You can argue all day about who has the most fanatic basketball fans: Indiana, Kentucky, North Carolina, Utah and Illinois might each make their claim to being THE basketball hotbed. All love the sport. And so do Iowa fans. That's the way it is at Iowa. They love their basketball and they love their hero's."

SUPPORTS IOWA BASKETBALL

When Sports Illustrated magazine polled the people of Iowa as part of its 50th anniversary, 58% of the fans named the Iowa Hawkeyes as their favorite team.

Since the beginning of the 1999-00 basketball season, Iowa's student cheering section has been known as "The Hawks Nest" and has occupied eight sections around the south and west areas of Carver-Hawkeye Arena, with student seating beginning at floor level in all eight sections. In addition, approximately 50 seats have been placed on the floor of the Arena in front of the student sections to be used by student season ticket holders.

The "Hawks Nest" in 2010-11 once again consists of all University of Iowa students who purchase season tickets. The development of the student support group has been fostered by the UI athletic department and the UI Student Alumni Ambassadors.

Iowa students have shown their loyalty over the past four seasons, as the size of the "Hawks Nest" more than doubled during that time. Over 1,000 Iowa students were members of the group as the Hawkeyes have posted a 63-23 home record over the last five seasons, including the first ever undefeated season in Carver-Hawkeye Arena (17-0) in 2005-06.

"The University of Iowa has one of the most loyal, passionate and sophisticated fan bases in the country. Our basketball fans are extremely knowledgeable, support our team and understand good sportsmanship.

"I remember bringing two of my former teams to Iowa City, and Carver-Hawkeye Arena was as loud as any arena I had ever coached in. We want Carver-Hawkeye Arena to be rocking again! We want to instill the home-court advantage and make it a challenge for visitors. Our boisterous Hawks Nest provides the excitement, energy and enthusiasm of crazed Iowa students supporting Hawkeye basketball.

"Fans will have fun and take great pride in wearing Black and Gold at games in Carver-Hawkeye Arena!"

"The fans at Iowa are passionate. Being in a state without a pro team there is a lot of attention and support thrown at us.

Playing in Carver-Hawkeye Arena is something I dreamed about since I was a little kid and has been an incredible experience thus far. We truly have a home court advantage inside Carver with the fans being located close to the court and very loud. When the arena is full it is like no other atmosphere in America. The students in the Hawks Nest do a great job of supporting us and throwing off the visiting teams. I truly appreciate all the support the Iowa fans give us.

Our facilities will be even better within the next year when we add our practice facility and renovations to Carver. It will make training much easier and better with improved facilities and increased workout space. We look forward to these changes."

A WINNING TRADITION

From the first five-player basketball game ever played on the Iowa campus in 1896, to Iowa's winning Big Ten Tournament championships in 2001 and 2006, Iowa basketball has maintained a winning tradition and ranking among the top programs in the nation.

Iowa's basketball success has included the following accomplishments over the past 109 years:

Seven winning seasons in the last 10 years, including Big Ten Tournament titles in 2001 and 2006. The Hawkeyes also finished second during the regular season in 2005-06. The Hawkeyes have advanced to postseason play in six of the past 10 years.

A record of 25-9 in 2006 as Iowa posted the second-most victories in school history. That record included an 11-5 record in Big Ten play and the championship of the 2006 Big Ten Conference Tournament.

Seventy-three winning seasons in 109 years, including 23 seasons of at least 20 victories.

Participation in both the 2006 and 2005 NCAA Tournaments as Iowa posted back-to-back seasons of 20 or more wins, earning 46 victories over the two year period.

The championship of the Big Ten Conference postseason tournament in 2001 and a total of 23 wins, a total that ties the fourth highest victory total in school history.

A league-record winning streak of seven-straight games in the Big Ten Tournament in 2001 and 2002 as Iowa played in the championship game in consecutive seasons.

Nine regular season Big Ten Conference championships, including back-to-back titles in 1955 and 1956.

Three appearances in the NCAA Final Four, including back-to-back appearances in 1955 and 1956.

An undefeated Big Ten title in 1970 with a perfect 14-0 conference record. That team averaged 102.9 points per game in Big Ten games, a league scoring record that still stands.

A Big Ten championship team in 1980 that saw Iowa fight through injuries and make its third appearance in the NCAA Final Four.

A 30-win season in 1987 that saw the Iowa Hawkeyes reach the No. 1 ranking in the national polls while advancing to the regional finals and just missing a fourth trip to the Final Four.

In the 1980's Iowa basketball teams won at least 20 games in nine different seasons.

In the 1990's Iowa basketball teams won at least 20 games in seven different seasons, including five straight seasons from 1995-99.

IOWA BASKETBALL

SEASON PREVIEW

Jarryd Cole, who is Iowa's only senior on this year's team, is a three-time captain.

With a number of new faces and a schedule that ranks among the toughest in the nation, Iowa Hawkeye fans can look forward to an exciting year of basketball. The Hawkeyes enter the 2010-11 basketball season with renewed hope and a new coaching staff led by Head Coach Fran McCaffery.

McCaffery, who has over three decades of Division I basketball experience, takes over the Hawkeye program. He served as head coach at three institutions for 14 seasons prior to being named the 22nd Iowa head men's basketball coach. McCaffery was head coach at Lehigh (1985-88), UNC-Greensboro (1999-2005) and Siena (2005-10). He led all three programs to the NCAA Tournament. McCaffery has amassed a 14-year record on 251-177 (.586), including a stellar 112-51 (.687) mark the last five seasons at Siena. He became the only coach in the nation to lead his program to a regular season and postseason title the last three seasons, while averaging better than 25 wins per year. It's that type of success McCaffery expects to bring to Iowa City.

This season McCaffery and his Hawkeye team will face the challenge of a strong schedule, eager to meet the challenge with an enthusiastic, aggressive and attacking style of basketball at both ends of the court.

"I expect our players to give their maximum effort every day," said McCaffery. "Hawkeye fans can expect to see a team that competes every possession, understands how to play together and has an attack mentality. We are going to press and run, attack the rim on offense and attack teams with our changing defenses. All-in-all, it will be a fun team to watch. We have a solid core of talented players who can compete in this league."

Competing in one of the top conferences, complemented by a challenging non-league slate, the Hawkeyes will once again have one of the toughest strength of schedules in the country. Iowa can potentially play 20 games against teams that competed in postseason play a year ago, including 14 possible contests versus teams that played in the NCAA Tournament. Non-conference contests at Wake Forest and against Xavier in the Paradise Jam will prove to be early tests for the young Hawkeye squad. Iowa will host in-state rivals Northern Iowa and Iowa State in Carver-Hawkeye Arena, which is in the midst of a $47 million renovation, this season. The schedule doesn't get any easier at the end of December when the Black and Gold begin conference play. Iowa will play each Big Ten team twice, except playing Wisconsin (home) and Penn State (away) once.

Iowa's fortunes for the upcoming season will rest on four returning starters from last season, including junior guard Matt Gatens (6-5, 210), who led the team in scoring and ranked second in assists and steals, while earning honorable mention all-Big Ten accolades. Gatens started all 32 contests, averaging 12.3 points and amassed 105 assists and 29 steals. Now an upperclassman and co-captain, McCaffery eyes Gatens as one of the team leaders and wants to change his offensive approach.

"Matt understands that his role this year will be in a leadership capacity," said McCaffery. "I want him to be a player who consistently puts points on the board and consistently is aggressive offensively."

Matt Gatens led the Hawkeyes in scoring (12.3) and ranked second in assists (105) and steals (29) a year ago.

The other three returning starters include senior center Jarryd Cole (6-7, 250) and sophomore point guard Cully Payne (6-1, 190) and sophomore forward Eric May (6-5, 220). Cole enters his last year as a Hawkeye as the only senior on the roster. Cole was another Hawkeye who started all 32 games a year ago, averaging 8.1 points and 5.2 rebounds per contest. A co-captain for the third consecutive season, McCaffery has been impressed with Cole and believes he is primed to finish his Hawkeye career on a high note.

"Jarryd's positive attitude, personality and his love for this institution has been something that I continually have been impressed with," said McCaffery. "Nothing seems to deter his confidence and his positive outlook. He's the type of person, as a captain, that when he speaks, the players listen. He's been through a lot and understands what this league's all about."

Two of the Big Ten's most exciting and talented freshmen from a year ago return for their sophomore campaigns. May and Payne were recognized on the Big Ten all-Freshman team by Sporting News. May was also recognized on the conference's all-freshman squad. Both posted impressive numbers as rookies, contributing immediately. McCaffery believes they are two of the centerpieces to build the program around.

"Not only are Cully and Eric really good players, they are terrific people," said McCaffery. "They are true team-oriented individuals and incredibly hard workers. In so many ways, they are ambassadors of the program. I believe the best is yet to come for both of them."

May brought Hawkeye fans to their feet numerous times with his thunderous dunks and sensational defensive play. May competed in all 32 games, starting the last 23, averaging nine points and 4.6 rebounds, and was one of Iowa's top defenders. He blocked a team and Big Ten freshman-best 26 shots, becoming Iowa's first rookie to lead the team in blocks since Ryan Bowen in 1995. McCaffery praised May's defensive talents, competitiveness and explosiveness and sees improvement in other areas.

2010 - 2011 IOWA BASKETBALL PREVIEW

Cully Payne and Eric May were two of the top freshmen in the Big Ten in 2010. Both were named all-Big Ten Freshman by Sporting News.

"I want to make sure he gets that mid-range game developed, and he's been working on that diligently," said McCaffery.

Payne was the only Big Ten freshman starter at point guard last season, starting all 32 contests. He became only the fourth Hawkeye rookie to lead the team in assists since 1974-75. His 122 assists rank third-best for an Iowa freshman in a single-season. Payne, who has also been tabbed a co-captain, also averaged 8.7 points per game directing the Hawkeye offense, but McCaffery would like to see that number increase.

"I want Cully to be more aggressive offensively," McCaffery said. "He can score. We saw it at times last year and we saw it this summer and I think that was good for him. He's a leader by nature. He wants to get everyone involved and engineer a victory, but at the same time, for us to win, we need him to be aggressive offensively and be a component in our ability to score. He's welcomed that challenge."

Also returning are junior forwards Andrew Brommer (6-9, 235) and Devon Archie (6-9, 225). Brommer saw action in 22 games, improving his statistics in nearly every category last season.

"I think Andrew has a chance to be really good," said McCaffery. "I love his attitude; he has a great frame and is skilled offensively. With him, it's a matter of having a few good games and developing his confidence. His minutes will be more consistent this year. What you're going to see is somebody that's going to surprise some people. He's a good player who is going to be really important for us this year."

Archie did not compete last season after injuring his shoulder during preseason practice and received a medical redshirt. His healthy return will be key in bolstering the Hawkeye frontcourt.

"He's going to have a role on this team," said McCaffery. "He can be a press player, he can be a post player and he can do some things in the zone with his length. We need him to be a solid contributor."

The roster additions include junior college guard Bryce Cartwright (6-1, 180) and freshmen Melsahn Basabe (6-7, 215), Zach McCabe (6-7, 215) and Roy Devyn Marble (6-5, 185). Cartwright comes to Iowa after playing basketball at Fresno State and Paris JC (Texas) his freshman and sophomore years, respectively. Basabe and McCabe will likely see the most time at power forward this season, while Marble is a versatile guard who can play multiple positions.

"Melsahn and Zach can score, rebound and clearly are physically ready to play," said McCaffery. "I believe both will be contenders for all-Big Ten freshman honors. Roy Devyn can play multiple positions, he can score and he's long. He knows how to play and we need to score, so we have three guys there who can all score. Bryce is bullet quick, he can get in the lane and he can get the ball from one end of the floor to the other. He can help us in a big way -- he can play point and he can play with Cully at times. It gives us another weapon in the backcourt, which we desperately need."

The Hawkeyes will also welcome four walk-ons to the roster: freshmen Cody Cox (6-4, 180), Branden Stubbs (6-2, 170), Darius Stokes (6-7, 190) and junior college transfer Jordan Stoermer (6-2, 185).

Despite only returning five student-athletes who competed last year, McCaffery believes the foundation is in place with a solid nucleus of returning talent. Add Iowa's strong recruiting class and the Hawkeyes will be an exciting team to watch in 2010-11.

"We don't have great depth and don't have a tremendous amount of experience, but the guys we have returning got great experience and saw a lot of minutes last year," said McCaffery. "I think our freshman class is a really good one. There will be times where they will play like freshmen, but at times they are going to play like seasoned veterans because I think they're that good. So, we have some pieces, but we have a core group that is going to have to play extended minutes. The key is to make sure we can sustain the intensity that we want to play with well into March."

Iowa will host 17 games, including one exhibition contest, inside Carver-Hawkeye Arena. The Hawkeyes will begin practice in mid-October, preparing for the opening weekend. Iowa will entertain Illinois-Springfield in an exhibition Nov. 7, before starting the regular season with consecutive home games against South Dakota State (Nov. 14) and Louisiana-Monroe (Nov. 16).

STORYLINES

Iowa enters the 2010-11 basketball season with a renewed hope and a new coaching staff led by Head Coach Fran McCaffery. McCaffery has assembled one of the most experienced coaching staffs in the country. Kirk Speraw, Sherman Dillard and Andrew Francis have over six decades of combined coaching experience. Also, former Hawkeye standout and professional basketball player Ryan Bowen has joined the staff as video coordinator and administrative assistant.

Fran McCaffery, who was tabbed the 2010 NABC District I Coach of the Year, is the only new head coach in the Big Ten this year. McCaffery has been involved with Division I collegiate basketball for 32 years; 28 as a head and assistant coach and four as a player at Wake Forest and Penn. McCaffery led Siena to three straight regular season titles and NCAA Tournament appearances. In doing so, Siena became the only program in the nation to win its regular season and postseason title the last three years. McCaffery's Siena teams averaged over 24 victories the last four years.

Assistant Kirk Speraw is a former Hawkeye, who was a member of the 1978-79 Iowa team that won 20 games and a Big Ten title. Speraw has over 30 years of coaching experience, including head coaching stops at Central Florida and Pensacola Junior College.

Assistant Sherman Dillard has over two decades of coaching experience, serving as a college assistant or head coach for 25 years. He served as an assistant at Maryland, California and Georgia Tech. Dillard has been a head coach at Indiana State and James Madison.

Assistant Andrew Francis followed McCaffery to Iowa after serving on his coaching staff as an assistant at Siena the last three seasons. Prior to coaching at Siena, Francis spent two years as an administrative assistant/video coordinator for Head Coach Jay Wright at Villanova.

Iowa is one Big Ten victory from notching its 700th win. The Hawkeyes are 699-704 (.698) all-time in Big Ten regular season contests. In 2011-12, Nebraska joins the Big Ten Conference, expanding the league to 12 teams.

Three players started all 32 games a year ago and all three return this season. They are Jarryd Cole, Matt Gatens and Cully Payne.

Iowa Hawkeye returns four of its six leading scorers, including its leading scorer, from last season: Matt Gatens (12.3), Eric May (9.0), Cully Payne (8.7) and Jarryd Cole (8.1).

Iowa returns five lettermen and a redshirt, while it adds nine newcomers. Four of the nine incoming student-athletes are on scholarship, while four are walk-ons. Devon Archie received a medical redshirt last season and is poised to bolster the Hawkeye frontcourt this year.

Senior Jarryd Cole, who is a two-time team captain, has led the team in field goal percentage the last two seasons. Cole earned the basketball team's Big Ten Sportsmanship Award in 2010.

Two of the Big Ten's most exciting and talented freshmen from a year ago return to the Hawkeyes. Eric May and Cully Payne were named to the Big Ten all-Freshman team by Sporting News. May was also recognized on the conference's all-freshman squad.

Last year, May became Iowa's first freshman to lead the team in blocks since Ryan Bowen in 1995. Furthermore, standing 6-foot-5, May became the shortest player to lead the team in rebounds since 6-foot-5 James Winters did it in 1994.

Cully Payne was the only Big Ten freshman starter at point guard last season. Payne became only the fourth Hawkeye freshman to lead the team in assists since 1974-75. His 122 assists rank third-best for an Iowa rookie in a single-season.

Junior Matt Gatens, who was an honorable mention all-league selection, averaged 18.7 points, 5.3 rebounds and 3.3 assists. He played all but one minute, in Iowa's three in-state games against Northern Iowa, Iowa State and Drake last year.

Iowa's new scholarship student-athletes are Melsahn Basabe, Bryce Cartwright, Roy Devyn Marble and Zach McCabe. Cartwright will be a junior after playing as a freshman at Fresno State and Paris Junior College his sophomore campaign. Marble is the son of Iowa's all-time leading scorer Roy Marble. McCabe helped Sioux City's Bishop Heelan HS to back-to-back state championships his junior and senior years. Basabe is only the second Iowa basketball student-athlete from the state of New York since 1977 (Chauncey Leslie, 2002-03).

Junior Andrew Brommer has made remarkable improvement in his free throw shooting. After converting only 23 percent of his foul shots as a freshman, Brommer made 75 percent last season, missing only six attempts.

Last season, Iowa ranked second in the Big Ten in true freshmen scoring. Indiana's true freshmen averaged 33.1 points per game, followed by Iowa (21.5) and Illinois (21.2).

The Hawkeyes can potentially play 20 games against teams that competed in the postseason a year ago, including 14 possible contests versus teams that played in the NCAA Tournament.

In the ACC/Big Ten Challenge, Iowa will travel to Wake Forest. This will mark the second meeting between the two schools in the Challenge. Wake Forest won at Iowa City in 2007. Both teams will have a new head coach on the sidelines. New Hawkeye Head Coach Fran McCaffery played for Wake Forest one season (1977-78), helping the Demon Deacons post a 19-10 record while starting 11 games.

Iowa will play two of its three in-state games at home in Carver-Hawkeye Arena. The Hawkeyes will host Northern Iowa (Dec. 7) and Iowa State (Dec. 10), while visiting Drake (Dec. 18).

Carver-Hawkeye Arena is in the middle of a $47 million renovation. The construction, which will include a new practice facility, state-of-the-art strength training facility, offices, enhanced seating and amenities and renovated locker rooms, is expected to be completed in August 2011.

Cully Payne, who was the only starting freshman point guard in the Big Ten last year, ranked among the conference leaders in assists in 2010.

HAWKEYES FINISH NINTH IN BIG TEN

Iowa ended its 2009-10 season with a 10-22 record and a 4-14 mark in conference play. The Hawkeyes tied Indiana for ninth place in the Big Ten standings, but defeated the Hoosiers twice to earn the tiebreaker and ninth seed at the Big Ten Tournament.

Iowa's roster was dominated by underclassmen, with a majority of the youngsters seeing game action. In fact, 81% of Iowa's offense in 2009-10 was generated by freshmen and sophomores. Freshmen Eric May and Cully Payne were asked to log significant minutes and contribute. The duo were named to the five-member all-Big Ten freshman team by Sporting News. May was also recognized on the Big Ten Conference's all-freshman squad.

Iowa's schedule, again, proved to be demanding, ranking 57th in the nation in strength of schedule. Eighteen of Iowa's 32 games were against teams that advanced to postseason play, including 11 contests against teams that advanced to the NCAA Tournament. Overall, 12 of Iowa's 23 opponents played in the postseason, seven in the NCAA Tournament, four in the NIT and one in the CBI.

Iowa swept its season series against Indiana, marking the third time the Hawkeyes accomplished that feat since the 1997-98 campaign. Iowa also notched Big Ten victories over Northwestern and Penn State at home. Iowa had near-misses against Michigan (two points in overtime) and Virginia Tech (six points).

Sophomore Matt Gatens led the team in scoring at 12.3 points per game and was named honorable mention all-Big Ten by league coaches. Also earning honorable mention accolades was Aaron Fuller.

Gatens, Payne and junior Jarryd Cole were the only Hawkeyes to start all 32 games. Payne was the only freshman Big Ten starting point guard and finished his campaign with 122 assists, the third most by a Hawkeye rookie in a single-season.

Looking ahead, Iowa's non-conference slate in 2010 will again feature three in-state rivals, along with a road game in the Big Ten/ACC Challenge. Iowa will also participate in the Paradise Jam (Nov. 19-22), which includes Xavier, Clemson, Seton Hall, Long Beach State, Alabama, Old Dominion and St. Peter's.

MCCAFFERY NAMED IOWA'S NEW HEAD COACH

Fran McCaffery was named the University of Iowa's 22nd head men's basketball coach March 29, 2010. McCaffery, 50, comes to Iowa after spending five successful seasons at Siena. He has served as a head coach for 14 seasons, posting a 251-177 (.586) career record.

McCaffery's five years at Siena have been the best in its 70-year history. He led the Saints on an incredible run that ended with three straight Metro Atlantic Athletic Conference championships and NCAA Tournament appearances. In so doing, Siena became the only program in the country to win its regular season and postseason title the last three years.

McCaffery's Saints owned a 112-51 record in his five years with the program. After orchestrating the fifth greatest turnaround in Division I play his first year, McCaffery led Siena to a 20-win season and a MAAC Championship game appearance in his second. In 2007-08, Siena took its biggest step forward under his direction, earning the MAAC regular-season and tournament championship, as well as an NCAA Tournament first round win over Vanderbilt. In 2008-09, Siena repeated the feat, winning the regular-season title outright before capturing the tournament crown. The Saints went on to defeat Ohio State 74-72 in double overtime in one of the tournament's most exciting games.

Last season, McCaffery led Siena to its fourth straight 20-win season, something never before achieved in program history. Siena ran away with the league title, clinching the No. 1 seed in the tournament on Feb. 8 with four conference games remaining. The Saints came from behind in each of their three MAAC Tournament games, culminating with a 72-65 overtime win against Fairfield in the MAAC Championship. Siena's bid for a third consecutive NCAA Tournament first round victory was ended by No. 4 seed Purdue in Spokane, Wash. Down 15 points with five minutes left, the Saints rallied to within three points with one minute remaining, but eventually fell 72-64. For his efforts, he was named the NABC District I Coach of the Year.

The 2009 MAAC Coach of the Year is the third winningest coach, by percentage, in league history (68-22, .756). He is the only coach to guide a MAAC program to two NCAA Tournament wins.

Prior to Siena, McCaffery was the head coach at UNC-Greensboro for six seasons (1999-05), posting a 90-87 (.508) record. He was an assistant coach at Notre Dame for 11 years (1988-99) before starting his head coaching career at Lehigh (1985-88), where he was 49-40 (.551). At 26, McCaffery was the nation's youngest Division I head coach when hired by Lehigh in 1985.

IOWA TIP-INS

- Matt Gatens scored in double figures a team-best 20 times, followed by Aaron Fuller (14) and Eric May (10). Gatens has netted 10 points or more 41 times in his career. Furthermore, Gatens poured in 20 points or more six times in 2009-10.
- Cully Payne averaged 4.4 assists in Iowa's last eight contests, dishing out six each against Northwestern and Purdue and a career-best seven vs. Michigan and at Minnesota.
- Iowa was 9-2 when leading at the half, 1-18 when trailing and 0-2 when tied at halftime. Additionally, the Hawkeyes were 10-5 when recording more assists and 9-2 when having a higher field goal percentage than their opponents.
- Iowa was 6-3 when scoring 70 points or more, while it was 0-10 when allowing over 70 points.
- Iowa was 9-5 when it attempted more free throws than its opponent, while the Hawkeyes were 0-16 when the opposition visited the charity stripe more.
- Eighty-two percent of Iowa's offense was generated by underclassmen (1,580 of 1,937 points). The Hawkeyes had only one senior (Devan Bawinkel) and one junior (Jarryd Cole) that saw time on the court. Junior transfer Devon Archie was sidelined with an injury and redshirted.
- Iowa ranked 20th in the nation in fewest fouls per contest (15.8) and 54th in 3-pointers made (7.5).

HAWKEYES EARN ALL-BIG TEN RECOGNITION

Sophomores Aaron Fuller and Matt Gatens and freshman Eric May earned Big Ten postseason accolades.

Fuller (6-6, 230) and Gatens (6-5, 225) were both named honorable mention all-Big Ten by the league coaches. May (6-5, 225) was named to the league's five-member all-freshman team, which is selected by the conference coaches.

Gatens, who led Iowa with four 20-point games in 2009-10, was one of three Hawkeyes to start all 31 games. The Iowa City native was Iowa's leading overall scorer (12.4), 3-point (58-of-172) and free throw (83-of-100) shooter. He also ranked second in team assists (101) and steals (27). Gatens ranked third in Big Ten minutes played (36.7) and free throw percentage (.830), ninth in 3-pointers (1.9), and 12th in assists (3.3) and assist/turnover ratio (1.2).

May started 23 of the last 25 games, including the last 20 as a rookie. The native of Dubuque, IA, ranked first amongst his Big Ten classmates in steals (19), blocks (17) and minutes (34.2), second in rebounding (4.6) and fourth in scoring (9.2), in conference games only. May was Iowa's third leading scorer and led the team in blocks and steals in 18 Big Ten games. In all games, May ranked second in team 3-pointers made (41). The 41 triples rank fourth-best by an Iowa freshman in a single season.

Junior center Jarryd Cole (6-7, 250) was also honored as part of the Big Ten all-conference teams, earning Iowa's Big Ten Sportsmanship Award. One member of each Big Ten team is recognized with the Sportsmanship Award at the conclusion of each season. Cole started all 31 games, averaging 8.2 points and 5.1 rebounds per contest.

PAYNE, MAY EARN ADDITIONAL PRAISE

Eric May and Cully Payne were named to the Big Ten All-Freshman team by Sporting News. May and Payne joined Illinois' D.J. Richardson, Indiana's Christian Watford and Northwestern's Drew Crawford on the team.

May was also recognized on the Big Ten Conference's All-Freshman team. He led league rookies in steals, blocks and minutes played, and second in rebounding.

Payne (6-1, 190) started all 32 games, directing the Hawkeye offense. He was the only starting freshman point guard in the league in 2009-10. Payne ranked sixth in Big Ten assists (3.8), the most of any league freshman. He amassed 122 assists, which are the third most in a single-season by a Hawkeye rookie. The native of Schaumburg, IL, is Iowa's first lefty point guard since Dean Oliver. He averaged 8.7 points and three rebounds to go along with his 3.8 assists. Payne, who was named to the CBE Classic all-tournament team in November, averaged 4.4 assists the last eight contests.

DIFFICULT SCHEDULE

Iowa had the third-strongest regular-season strength of schedule amongst Big Ten teams. The Hawkeyes ranked 43rd nationally, according to: realtimerpi.com. Wisconsin led the league with the 26th-toughest schedule in the country, followed by Illinois (41st).

IOWA FRESHMEN SCORING AMONG BIG TEN BEST

Iowa ranked second in the Big Ten in true freshmen scoring. Indiana's true freshmen averaged 33.1 points per game, followed by Iowa (21.5) and Illinois (21.2).

REVIEW NOTES

SEASON REVIEW

HAWKEYES PUT UP SOLID NUMBERS IN WINS

Iowa averaged 71.7 points, 15.7 assists, made 48% of its field-goal attempts and boasted a +6.7 rebounding margin in its 10 victories.

Individually, Matt Gatens averaged 4.6 more points and 1.6 more rebounds in wins compared to losses, while Eric May averaged 2.8 more points.

ROAD HAWKEYES

Iowa finished the regular season with four of six games on the road, including its final two games at Wisconsin and Minnesota.

IOWA FRESHMEN RANKED HIGH

Iowa freshmen, Cully Payne and Eric May, led Big Ten freshmen in a couple statistical categories. Payne led all conference freshmen in assists per game (3.8), ranked second in minutes played (33.4) and sixth in scoring (8.7). May ranked first in blocked shots (0.8), steals (1.1) and rebounding (4.6) and fourth in scoring (9.0).

Payne was the only Big Ten freshman starting at point guard in 2009-10. May was the only conference freshman to be ranked among the Big Ten leaders in blocks (12th) and rebounding (20th).

Payne (122 assists) became only the fourth freshman to lead the Hawkeyes in assists since 1974-75. Dean Oliver (131 assists) led Iowa as a rookie in 1997-98, Jeff Horner (140 assists) paced the Hawkeyes in 2002-03 and Jeff Peterson (92 assists) accomplished the feat in 2007-08.

HITTING THE GLASS

Iowa owned the rebounding advantage in 19 of its 32 contests, including 16 of the last 25 and seven of the last 10. The Hawkeyes had a positive rebounding margin against UTSA (11), Bowling Green (2), NC Central (21), Prairie View A&M (4), UNI (2), Iowa State (2), SC State (3), Purdue (4), Minnesota (2), Tennessee State (4), Indiana (16 and 4), Illinois (6), Ohio State (2), Northwestern (8 and 3) and Michigan (1 and 7). The Hawkeyes were 9-10 in games they had a positive rebounding margin.

MAY DAY

Two of May's top games came against the nationally-ranked Buckeyes. The Dubuque, IA, native scored 17 of his 18 points in the final 14:37 vs. No. 20 Ohio State on Jan. 27. The 18 points were a team best and equaled a personal high. He also blocked a game-high three shots and drained a career-high five triples, all in the second half against the Buckeyes. Ten days later, at Columbus, he netted a team-high 16 points against No. 13 Ohio State. He posted team bests in scoring (9) and assists (3) at Illinois on Jan. 5. May posted personal bests in assists (4) and steals (3) in a win over Tennessee State (Jan. 12).

CLOSE GAMES WERE THE NORM

Eleven of Iowa's 32 games were decided by 10 points or less, with Iowa posting a 4-7 record in those contests. Six of those games were decided by six points or less (3-3).

STARTING LINEUPS

Iowa used five different starting line-ups in its 32 games. Cully Payne (PG), Matt Gatens (SG), Eric May (SF), Aaron Fuller (PF) and Jarryd Cole (C) started the last 20 games; going 5-15 in those contests.

Iowa's starting lineup for the last 20 games featured two freshmen (May and Payne), two sophomores (Fuller and Gatens) and a junior (Cole).

Iowa freshmen earned 62 starts overall, three more than a year ago. Payne started all 32, May 23 and Brennan Coughill had seven starts.

BALANCED SCORING LED IOWA

Iowa featured a balanced scoring attack, with at least three players scoring in double figures in 15 games and four reaching 10 points or more in five contests.

Six different players led Iowa in scoring and seven averaged more than eight points per outing. Matt Gatens led Iowa in scoring (12.3), followed by Anthony Tucker (11.9), Aaron Fuller (9.7), Eric May (9.0), Cully Payne (8.7) and Jarryd Cole (8.1).

Cole shot a team-best 57% from the field, senior Devan Bawinkel shot a team-best 38% from 3-point range, while Gatens led the team in free-throw shooting (83%).

LEADING THE TEAM

Following is the number of times a player led Iowa in scoring, rebounding, assists and steals. If two or more players tied for the team lead, all were credited for that game:

PLAYER	SCORING	REBOUNDING	ASSISTS	STEALS
Devan Bawinkel	---	---	---	5
Andrew Brommer	---	---	---	4
Brennan Coughill	---	4	---	1
Jarryd Cole	2	7	---	6

BLOCKAGE

Eric May made Iowa's single-season freshman blocked shots chart. Many of his blocks were highlight reel material. The 6-5, 225-pounder rejected 26 shots, good for sixth best on the list. Chris Street (1990-91) ranks first with 52.

May was one of only two Hawkeyes (Jarryd Cole) in double-figure blocks and became the first Iowa freshman to lead the team since Ryan Bowen averaged 1.0 blocks in 1995. Furthermore, standing 6-foot-5, May is the shortest player to lead the team in blocked shots since 6-foot-5 James Winters led the Hawkeyes in 1994, also with 26 rejections.

CRUNCH TIME FREE THROWS

Overall, Iowa was a 69.2% (348-of-503) from the foul line, but the Hawkeyes' free throw percentage improved down the stretch.

Iowa made 82.5% (33-of-40) from the free-throw line in the final minute of games. Furthermore, the Hawkeyes shot 75.3% (58-of-77) in the final two minutes from the charity stripe.

IOWA CRACKED THE RECORD BOOK FROM 3-POINT RANGE

Iowa attempted a school-record 37 triples against No. 3 Texas (Nov. 23), making 10. The 37 attempts breaks the previous mark of 36 (15 made) attempted against Long Island on Dec. 17, 1994.

The Hawkeyes tied the school record for 3-pointers made against Prairie View A&M (Dec. 5). Iowa sank 15-of-31 attempts to match the record accomplished twice before (15 vs. Long Island in 1994 and Northwestern in 1998).

The Hawkeyes broke the school record for 3-point attempts in a single-season (753), breaking the previous mark of 743 in 1995. Additionally, Iowa's 239 triples ranks third most in a single-season at Iowa. The record is 274 established in 1995, followed by 258 a year ago in 2009.

ARCHIE REDSHIRTS

Junior transfer Devon Archie was sidelined seven weeks after sustaining an injury to his left shoulder during Iowa's second practice, Oct. 17. Archie practiced with the team during the spring semester, but redshirted.

The 6-9, 215-pounder was expected to bolster the Hawkeye front court after playing the last two seasons at Vincennes Community College. A two-time team captain at Vincennes, he averaged 6.8 points, six rebounds and 1.3 blocked shots, starting 19 of 30 games in 2008-09 as a sophomore.

IOWA FINAL FOUR TEAMS

1954-55 (19-7 OVERALL, 11-3 BIG TEN)

This year's team won the Big Ten Championship and was Iowa's first NCAA tournament squad won an outright conference title (11-3) before finishing fourth in the national tournament. Coach Bucky O'Connor's team became the first in Iowa history to average more than 80 points per game. Bill Logan led the Hawkeyes in scoring (15.9) and rebounding (11.0).

1955-56 (20-6 OVERALL, 13-1 BIG TEN)

The "Fabulous Five" -- Carl Cain, Bill Logan, Sharm Scheuerman, Bill Schoof and Bill Seaburg -- were NCAA runners-up, dropping an 83-71 decision to No. 1-ranked San Francisco. Iowa lost its Big Ten opener before winning 13 consecutive games to take a second straight conference title. Cain was a first team all-American and Logan led the team in scoring and rebounding.

This Iowa squad did not win the Big Ten title, but the 1979-80 Hawkeyes recovered from a rash of mid-season injuries to become the third Iowa team to reach the NCAA Final Four. All-American Ronnie Lester averaged 14.7 points per game, despite missing 16 games with a knee injury.

BIG TEN CHAMPIONS

1922-23 (13-2 OVERALL, 11-1 BIG TEN)

The 1922-23 team won the school's first-ever Big Ten title, with 11 victories in 12 league contests. A 23-21 loss at Indiana in the regular-season finale allowed Wisconsin (whom the Hawkeyes did not play) to tie for the title. Hector Janse became the first Hawkeye sophomore to make the all-Western Conference team.

1925-26 (12-5 OVERALL, 8-4 BIG TEN)

Coach Sam Barry took a Hawkeye squad which was picked for last in the Big Ten and guided it to a four-way share of the league title. After a 2-4 start, the Big Ten's top defensive team (21.4 point average) won a then-conference record six straight games. Captain Charles McConnell was an all-league pick.

1944-45 (17-1 OVERALL, 11-1 BIG TEN)

Iowa's 1944-45 squad, under the direction of Coach Pops Harrison, won the school's first outright conference basketball championship. Brothers Herb and Clayton Wilkinson were first team all-conference selections. Herb Wilkinson and Dick Ives (the top scorer at 12.1 per game) combined to make five all-America teams.

1967-68 (16-9 OVERALL, 10-4 BIG TEN)

The 1967-68 team shared the Big Ten title with Ohio State after winning six of its first eight league battles. Coach Ralph Miller's team led the Big Ten race before dropping its final conference game to Michigan (72-71). All-American Sam Williams (25.3 points and 10.3 rebounds per game) was named Big Ten Most Valuable Player.

1969-70 (20-5 OVERALL, 14-0 BIG TEN)

The Iowa "Six Pack" ran its way to a perfect 14-0 league mark and set many scoring records. The 1969-70 Hawkeyes, who won 17 of their last 18 games, are still the highest scoring team in Big Ten history (102.9 points per game). Iowa scored over 100 points 12 times. Four players averaged over 17 points, led by John Johnson (27.6).

1978-79 (20-8 OVERALL, 13-5 BIG TEN)

Lute Olson's lone Big Ten championship squad tied for the title with Purdue and NCAA champion Michigan State. Ronnie Lester, the leading scorer (18.7 points per game), was all-Big Ten and all-American. The 20 wins tied an Iowa season record and the 13 league victories still rank second in Hawkeye history.

2000-01 (23-12 OVERALL, 7-9 BIG TEN)

Steve Alford's second Iowa team won four games in four days to claim the 2001 Big Ten Tournament championship at the United Center in Chicago. Reggie Evans was named Most Outstanding Player after averaging 16 points and 12.8 rebounds in the four games. Freshman Brody Boyd led Iowa with 22 points in the 63-61 championship game win over Indiana. Iowa led the Big Ten at the midway point in the regular season before injuries took their toll. Evans earned honorable mention all-American honors after leading the nation in rebounding, free throws, free throw attempts, scoring, rebounding and double-doubles.

2005-06 (25-9, 11-5 BIG TEN)

Iowa's senior dominated team posted a 17-0 record in Carver-Hawkeye Arena and won the 2006 Big Ten Conference Tournament in Indianapolis. The 25 wins marked the second highest number in school history as the Hawkeyes posted a sixth consecutive winning season under Coach Steve Alford.

The Hawkeyes tied for second during the regular season, one game behind Ohio State, before defeating the Buckeyes in the title game of the post-season tournament. Senior guard Jeff Horner was named MVP of the Big Ten Tournament, while senior forward Greg Brunner was named to the all-tournament team.

Former Hawkeye standouts B.J. Armstrong (lower) and Roy Marble (top) were first round selections in the 1998 NBA draft. Armstrong was the 18th player selected when he was taken by Chicago, while Marble followed closely behind as the 23rd player selected when he was taken by Atlanta.

FIRST BASKETBALL GAME PLAYED IN IOWA CITY

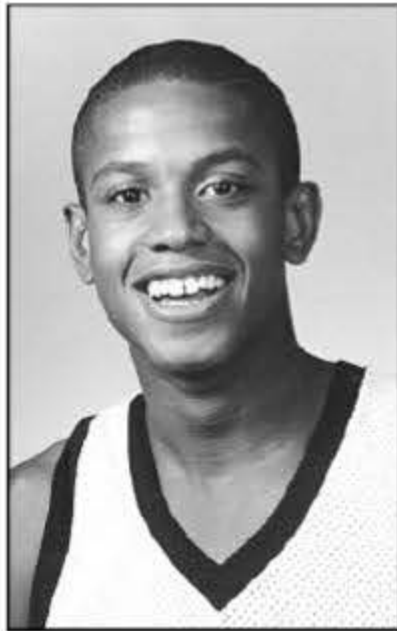

Iowa City, IA was the site of the first college basketball game played with five players on a side. The historic event took place in Close Hall on the University of Iowa campus on January 18, 1896.

In that first game, the University of Chicago defeated Iowa 15-12, with neither team using any substitutes.

The game was arranged by Iowa professor H.F. Kallenberg, who had earlier attended Springfield College, and wrote James Naismith for a copy of the rules of the game, and Amos Alonzo Stagg, a friend of Kallenberg who had become the athletic director at Chicago.

RETIRED NUMBERS

10 B.J. ARMSTRONG

B.J. Armstrong's jersey was retired in 1992. Iowa's career assist leader, B.J. ranks third in career scoring and was a two-time Hawkeye MVP. A first round draft choice of the Chicago Bulls in 1989, B.J. played a vital role in Chicago's NBA titles in 1991 and 1992. Armstrong moved into Chicago's starting line-up in 1993 as the Bulls won their third straight NBA title. Armstrong concluded his NBA career with Chicago in 1999-00. Armstrong is a member of Iowa's all-Century team.

12 RONNIE LESTER

Ronnie is Iowa's fifth all-time leading scorer with 1,675 points. Lester started 3 1/2 seasons before a knee injury shortened his senior season. He was the Hawkeyes' MVP three times, an all-Big Ten selection twice and an all-American in 1979-1980. He played in the NBA for Chicago and Los Angeles. Ronnie won a World Championship with the Los Angeles Lakers in 1985 and currently serves as vice-president of the Laker organization. Lester is a member of Iowa's all-Century team.

21 CARL CAIN

Carl was a 1956 first team all-American and all-Big Ten for the Hawkeyes' national runners-up. A 1956 Olympian, Cain was forced into a reserve role for the United States because of a back injury. Carl was a two-time Iowa MVP and finished his career with 1,054 points. Cain is a member of Iowa's all-Century team.

22 BILL SEABERG

Bill was a starting guard on the "Fabulous Five" team that ended up as the NCAA runner-up in 1956. He was third team all-America by Helms and the Hawkeyes' MVP in 1955, when he averaged 13 points. Seaberg is a member of Iowa's all-Century team.

31 BILL LOGAN

Bill, a member of the Hawkeyes' 1,000-point Club, topped the squad in scoring three times. A two-time all-Big Ten selection, Logan was second team all-America in 1956 according to Helms and Converse-Taylor. Bill helped Iowa to a second place Big Ten finish as a sophomore and consecutive Final Four appearances his last two seasons. Logan is a member of Iowa's all-Century team.

33 BILL SCHOOF

Bill played forward on the "Fabulous Five" team and scored 6.3 points per game. A three-year letterman, Schoof was a starter on Iowa's 1955 and 1956 Final Four teams. In those two seasons he helped the Hawkeyes to a record of 39-13.

40 CHRIS STREET

Chris Street's number was retired following his untimely death in 1993. Street died in an auto accident 15 games into his junior season. A fixture in Iowa's starting line-up since midway through his freshman season, Street was averaging 14.5 points and 9.5 rebounds per contest through 15 games and had recently earned MVP honors at the San Juan Shootout. Chris established an Iowa record by making 34 consecutive free throws.

41 GREG STOKES

Greg, a three-year starter in the pivot, is the school's third all-time career scorer (1,768 points). Greg owns the school record for field goal percentage in a game (1.000, 11 of 11). After an all-Big Ten senior season (19.9 scoring norm), Greg was selected in the 1985 NBA draft by Philadelphia. Stokes is a member of Iowa's all-Century team.

46 SHARM SCHEUERMAN

Sharm made his mark at Iowa as an athlete and coach. He started on the "Fabulous Five" basketball team and lettered three times in basketball and baseball. After graduation in 1956, Sharm returned to coach his alma mater in 1959. His 1961 club finished 18-6.

MEDIA INFORMATION

Iowa's Carver-Hawkeye Arena is located on the west campus in the University's athletic complex, approximately one-quarter mile northwest of Kinnick Stadium. It is a few minutes' drive from Interstate 80 and 380 and about 30 minutes from the Eastern Iowa Airport in Cedar Rapids.

The press and radio section at the Arena is located on the west side of the floor. The television and camera platform is located overhead on the east side.

A hospitality room for the media is located through the main exit ramp off the playing floor. Soft drinks are available to the media, along with concession stand food vouchers.

Postgame news conferences with the head coaches are held in the Press Room. Iowa player interviews are conducted in the hospitality room following the coach's interviews.

COACH MCCAFFERY CONFERENCES/INTERVIEW REQUESTS

Coach Fran McCaffery holds news conferences in Carver-Hawkeye Arena and tele-conferences throughout the season. Dates and times (subject to change) are available on page 105 of this publication. Requested Iowa players are available before any practice, except days prior to a game, game days and days immediately following a contest. Coach McCaffery also participates in the Big Ten coaches tele-conferences on Monday's during the conference season. All Iowa practice sessions are closed to the public and media.

All interview requests for members of the Iowa coaching staff and Hawkeye student-athletes need to be directed through the Sports Information Office (319) 335-9411. Please refrain from contacting members of the basketball program directly.

CREDENTIALS

Requests for game credentials should be directed in writing or e-mail to Phil Haddy, Sports Information Director, 157 Carver-Hawkeye Arena, Iowa City, Iowa 52242. Requests should be filed early enough to allow time for processing. Credentials that are not mailed can be claimed at the Will Call window at the Carver-Hawkeye Arena ticket office, located at the north entrance to the arena. Photo identification is required.

The Sports Information fax number is 319-335-9417 and Phil's e-mail address is phillip-haddy@uiowa.edu.

PARKING

Requests for parking should be made when requesting credentials. Media parking is located in lots 46 and 33 near Carver-Hawkeye Arena.

SERVICES

Complete play-by-play, halftime statistics, final individual and team statistics and quotes from both head coaches are available following each home game. Statistics will be either faxed or e-mailed when requested. This information is filed in PDF format and sent within 30 minutes following home games. Box scores are also posted on the Iowa website, hawkeyesports.com, following each Iowa game throughout the season.

HIGH SPEED INTERNET ACCESS

High speed internet access is available in the media area in Carver-Hawkeye Arena. All of the seats in the media area (section BB-CC) are hard-wired for access at no charge. There is no free wireless internet access in the arena.

ACCOMMODATIONS

MEDIA GUIDE SUPPLEMENT

A supplement to the 2010-11 Iowa Basketball Media Guide, containing additional series history and results, Iowa records, year-by-year results, postseason box scores and a composite Big Ten Conference schedule is available on the internet at hawkeyesports.com, the official website of the University of Iowa athletic department. After opening the Iowa website, click on men's basketball on the left side of the page. Once at the basketball site, click on History and Record Book on the right side of the page.

THE HAWKEYE RADIO NETWORK

Fans of the University of Iowa following the Hawkeyes on radio can tune in on their favorite station throughout the state of Iowa and the Midwest.

The radio voice of the Hawkeyes is Gary Dolphin, a Cascade, IA, native who handles all play-by-play action of both Iowa men's basketball and football. In addition, Dolphin also serves as the host of the weekly radio and television coach's shows during the seasons with men's basketball Coach Fran McCaffery and football Coach Kirk Ferentz. Dolphin, in 2001, was named the Iowa SportsCaster of the Year. He is in his 15th season of broadcasting Iowa basketball and football on the Hawkeye Radio Network. Dolphin, overall, is in his 38th year of play-by-play broadcasting, which also includes six years of broadcasting basketball games for Northwestern University.

Dolphin is joined on all University of Iowa basketball broadcasts by former Hawkeye and NBA veteran Bobby Hansen. Hansen was a four-year letterman and a member of Iowa's 1980 Final Four team. Hansen enjoyed a lengthy career in the NBA and earned an NBA championship while playing for the Chicago Bulls.

The Hawkeye Radio Network, a production of Learfield Communications, Inc. of Jefferson City, MO, blankets the state of Iowa and bordering states with more than 50 stations providing live coverage. The Hawkeyes can also be heard online (hawkeyesports.com) and on Sirius XM Satellite Radio.

HADDY became part of the Hawkeye staff in 1971 and was named Director of Sports Information in July, 1993. A native of Cedar Rapids, he holds two degrees from Iowa and has worked for two radio stations. Phil and his wife, Elaine, have a son, Jason, and a daughter, Jamie. They are grandparents of Nick (10) and William (7) Haddy and Evelyn (5) and Marty (3) Powers.

ROE joined the Hawkeye staff in 1990 and was named associate director in 1997. The Iowa City native earned his bachelor's degree from Buena Vista University and his master's degree from Northeast Louisiana University. He is the author of "HAWKEYES FOR LIFE", published in 2007. Steve and his wife, Janet, have a daughter, Nike, and a son, James, and a granddaughter, Teagan (6) and an infant grandson, Jack.

WAGNER is in her 12th year as an assistant sports information director after previously serving as a student assistant for four years and as an intern for two years. A native of Iowa Falls, Wagner earned her degree in 1997 with a double major in journalism and communication studies. Traci and her husband, Jason, have a son, Nicholas, and a daughter, Sydney.

WEITZEL has served as an assistant sports information director since 1998. Matthew graduated from the University of Iowa in 1997 with a Bachelor's of Arts degree in Journalism and Mass Communication, with an emphasis in Business. The native of Mundelein, IL, was a student in the sports information office for three years.

BLAU is in his fourth year as an assistant in the Iowa sports information office. Aaron graduated from the University of Iowa in 2007 with a double major in Journalism and Mass Communications and Sports Studies, along with a minor in American Studies. Blau, a native of Latimer, IA, served as a student assistant in the UI sports information office for five years. His wife's name is Mandy.

BREWER is in his second year as a full-time assistant in the Iowa sports information office after previously serving as a student assistant for three years. In 2004, the Iowa City native earned his English degree from the University of Iowa and served as a graduate assistant with the Detroit Lions media relations department. He and his wife, Brooke, have a daughter, Elyse (3), and a son, Del (1).

A member of the Iowa athletic department staff since 1988, Theresa Walenta has been a member of the sports information staff for 15 years. She is a lifelong resident of Iowa City.

The Sports Information Office is temporarily located on the fourth floor of the Paul J. Brechler Press Box. The office phone number is 319/335-9411 and the sports information FAX number is 335-9417.

Credential Language

Following is the information printed on the University of Iowa game day media credential. All rules and regulations listed are enforced by the University of Iowa Athletics Department and the Big Ten Conference.

This working credential is subject in all respects to the media credential criteria and policies set forth by the University of Iowa as in effect from time to time. This working credential is issued for the sole purpose of providing facility access to an accredited agency's employee who has a legitimate working function (media or game service) in conjunction with this game or games. It is non-transferable and non-assignable and any duplication or alteration of this document is prohibited. Any unauthorized use of this credential subjects the bearer to ejection from the facility and prosecution for criminal trespass. Any secondary use of any picture, photograph, audio description, video, film/tape, drawing or other description of a game taken or made by the accredited organization or individual to whom this credential has been issued (including, but not limited to use in delayed editorial or non-editorial advertising, sales promotion or merchandising) is prohibited without prior specific written approval of the University of Iowa or the Big Ten Conference. A maximum of two minutes (2:00) of game video footage (without audio) may be utilized during the one week period following the conclusion of the game solely within regularly scheduled bona fide news programming distributed via television, and may not be distributed via the internet, wireless or other forms of media. Nothing in these terms and conditions authorizes or allows bearer to violate any of the trademarks, copyright and other proprietary rights of the University of Iowa or the Big Ten Conference.

ACCEPTANCE OF THIS CREDENTIAL CONSTITUTES AGREEMENT BY THE BEARER AND HIS OR HER ORGANIZATION TO ABIDE BY THE FOREGOING CONDITIONS.

Thank you for your cooperation.
